

TWO OREGON MEN REFUSE TO VOTE

Delegates Coe and Ackerson
Disregard Instructions
From Primary.

OTHERS OBEY STATE WISH

Revolting Members of Delegation
Try in Vain to Speak, but Jeers and Hoots From Convention
Put Them Confused to Seats.

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 22.—(Special.)—Henry W. Coe and Charles W. Ackerson, delegates from Oregon, instructed by the primary to vote in the Republican National convention for Roosevelt, refused to carry out their instructions and refused to cast any vote.

When the Oregon vote was called by delegates, all the other delegates, led by Chairman Campbell, cast their votes for Roosevelt. When Oregon was called Campbell explained that under the Oregon law all Oregon delegates were bound by the vote of the primary to support Roosevelt in this convention, but that two delegates, though present, would refuse to vote. He demanded that the roll of the Oregon delegation be called.

The roll call showed Bynon, Campbell, Carey, Hall, McCusker, Smith, Swift and Boyd voting for Roosevelt and Coe and Ackerson announcing themselves present and not voting.

Crowd Howls Down Ackerson. As Ackerson rose to announce his vote, he shouted: "I refuse to vote when the cards are stacked." He evidently intended to make an extensive speech, but got no further than this when he was drowned out by the hoots and jeers of the convention, which was anxious to adjourn.

Later, when Coe's name was called, he mounted his chair and started to speak instead of casting his vote.

"Thirty-five years" was all that Coe said when the clamor of the crowd overwhelmed him. He continued to shout, though no one could hear him.

Ackerson also jumped on a chair and joined Coe in the harangue directed at Chairman Root, waving his arms and acting like a wild man. The crowd refused to hear Oregon's two delegates who disfranchised themselves, and they were finally brought to order and forced to take their seats.

Four Vote for Platform.

On the roll call on adoption of the platform presented to the convention by Fairbanks, the Oregon delegation cast four affirmative votes. Campbell, Bynon, Carey and McCusker, while Coe and Ackerson, though present, refused to vote, thus carrying out their agreement reached last night in conference with the Roosevelt leaders.

Washington voted 14 solid for the platform. The Idaho delegation went on record as opposed to the Roosevelt bolt programme. Idaho cast eight votes for the platform as presented by Fairbanks, refusing to follow the ultra Roosevelt faction, which was refusing to vote.

Idaho's delegation was the first in the Roosevelt caucus to support the Chicago platform, and its switch to the Taft column brought out roars of approval from the Taft element in the convention.

of the people may in no way be unduly or artificially increased.

Banking and Currency.
The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for sound banking methods. It is responsible for the resumption of specie payments and for the establishment of the gold standard. It is committed to the progressive development of our banking and currency system. Our bank arrangements today need further revision to meet the requirements of current conditions. We need measures which will prevent the recurrence of panics and financial disturbances and which will promote the prosperity of business and the welfare of the laboring people by producing constant employment.

We need better currency facilities for the movement of crops in the West and South. We need banking arrangements under American control for the encouragement and better conduct of our foreign trade. In attempting these ends, the independence of individual banks, whether of national or state character, must be carefully protected, and our banking and currency system must be safeguarded from any possibility of exploitation by sectional, financial or political interests.

It is of great importance to the social and economic welfare of this country that its farmers have facilities for borrowing easily and cheaply the money they need to increase the productivity of their land. It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the demands of farmers for credit as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business.

Therefore, we recommend and urge an authoritative investigation of agricultural credit societies and corporations in other countries, and the passage of state and Federal laws for the establishment of a national system of organizations having for their purpose loaning of funds to farmers.

The Civil Service.
We reaffirm our adherence to the principle of appointment of public office based on proved fitness and tenure during good behavior and efficiency. The Republican party stands committed to the maintenance, extension and enforcement of the civil service law, and it favors the passage of legislation empowering the President to extend the competitive service so far as practicable. We favor legislation to make possible the equitable retirement of disabled and incapacitated members of the Civil Service, in order that a higher standard of efficiency be maintained.

We favor the amendment of the Federal employees' liability law so as to extend its provision to all Government employees as well as to provide a more liberal scale of compensation for injury and death.

Campaign Contributions.
We favor such additional legislation as may be necessary more effectively to prohibit corporations from contributing funds, directly or indirectly, to campaigns for the nomination or election of the President, the Vice-President, Senators and Representatives in Congress.

We heartily approve the act of Congress requiring the fullest publicity in regard to all campaign contributions, whether made in connection with primaries, conventions or elections.

Conservation Policy.
We rejoice in the success of the distinctive Republican policy of the conservation of our National resources, for their use by the people without waste and without monopoly. We pledge ourselves to a continuance of such a policy.

We favor such fair and reasonable rules and regulations as will not discourage or interfere with actual bona-fide homesteaders, prospectors and miners in the acquisition of public lands under existing laws.

Parcel Post.
In the interest of the general public and particularly of the agricultural or rural communities, we favor legislation looking to the establishment, under proper regulations, of a parcel post, the postal rates to be graduated under a zone similar in proportion to the length of carriage.

Protection of American Citizenship.
We approve the action taken by the President and the Congress to remove with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and that will prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens, whether native born or alien and regardless of race, religion or previous political allegiance. The right of asylum is a precious possession of the people of the United States and it is not to be surrendered nor restricted.

The Navy.
We believe in the maintenance of an adequate Navy for the National defense and we condemn the action of the Democratic House of Representatives in refusing to authorize the construction of additional ships.

Merchant Marine.
We believe that one of the country's most urgent needs is a revived merchant marine. There should be American ships, and plenty of them, to make use of the great American inter-oceanic canal now nearing completion.

Flood Prevention.
The Mississippi River is the Nation's drainage ditch. Its flood waters, gathered from 31 states and the Dominion of Canada, constitute an overwhelming force, which breaks the levees and pours its torrents over many million acres of the richest land in the Union, stopping mails, impeding commerce and causing great loss of life and property. These floods are National in scope and the disasters they produce seriously affect the general welfare. The States, unaided, cannot cope with this giant problem; hence, we believe the Federal Government should assume a fair proportion of the burden of its control, so as to prevent the disasters from recurring floods.

Reclamation.
We favor the continuance of the policy of the Government with regard to the reclamation of arid lands, and for the encouragement of the speedy settlement and improvement of such lands we favor an amendment to the law that will reasonably extend the time within which the cost of any reclamation project may be repaid by the land owners.

Rivers and Harbors.
We favor a liberal and systematic policy for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. Such improvements should be made upon equal information and after a careful comparison of cost and prospective benefits.

Alaska.
We favor a liberal policy toward Alaska to promote the development of the great resources of that district, with such safeguards as will prevent waste and monopoly.

We favor the opening of the coal lands to development through a lease of the lands on such terms as will invite development and provide fuel for the Navy and the commerce of the Pacific Ocean, while retaining title in the United States to prevent monopoly.

Philippine Policy.
The Philippine policy of the Republican party has been and is inspired by the belief that our duty toward the Philippine people is a National obligation which should remain entirely free from partisan politics.

Immigration.
We pledge the Republican party to the enactment of appropriate laws to give relief from the constantly growing evil of induced or undesirable immigration, which is inimical to the social and welfare of the people of the United States.

Safety at Sea.
We favor the speedy enactment of laws to provide that seamen shall not be subjected to undue involuntary servitude and that life and property at sea shall be safeguarded by the ample equipment of vessels with full complements of skilled, able-bodied seamen to operate them.

Republican Accomplishment.
The approaching completion of the Panama Canal, the establishment of a bureau of mines, the institution of the postal savings bank, the increased provision made in 1912 for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the Republic and for their widows, and the vigorous administration of the laws relating to pure food and drugs, all mark the successful progress of the Republican administration and are additional evidence of its effectiveness.

Economy and Efficiency.
We commend the earnest effort of the Republican Administration to secure greater economy and increased efficiency in the conduct of the Government business. Extravagant appropriations and the creation of unnecessary offices are an indictment to the taxpayer and a bad example to the citizen.

Civil Duty.
We call upon the people to quicken their interest in public affairs, to condemn and punish lynchings and other forms of lawlessness and to strengthen in all possible ways a respect for law and the observance of it. Indifference to citizenship is an evil from which the law affords no adequate protection and for which legislation can provide no remedy.

Arizona and New Mexico.
We congratulate the people of Arizona and New Mexico upon the admission of those states, thus merging in the Union in final and enduring form the last remaining portion of our continental territory.

Republican Administration.
The 16 years of Republican Administration under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. We heartily reaffirm the endorsement of President McKinley, contained in the platform of 1900 and of 1904, and that of President Roosevelt, contained in the platform of 1908 and 1912.

We invite the intelligent judgment of the American people upon the administration of William H. Taft. The public and have proceeded and been at peace under his Presidency. During the years in which he had the co-operation of a Republican Congress, an unexampled amount of constructive legislation was framed and passed in the interest of the people and in obedience to their wish. That legislation is a record on which any administration might appeal with confidence to the favorable judgment of history.

We appeal to the American electorate upon the record of the Republican party and upon this declaration of its principles and purposes. We are confident that under the leadership of candidates here to be nominated, appeal will not be in vain; that the Republican party will meet every just expectation of the people whose service and its laws our nation will continue to advance; that peace and prosperity will abide with the people and that glory will be added to the great republic.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our many friends for the beautiful floral offerings sent in our late bereavement.

TROOPS TRAIN FOR EVENTS OF JULY 4

Vancouver Barracks Soldiers
Plan Grand Celebration
Independence Day.

THRILLS ARE PROMISED

Spectacular Drills, Roman Chariot
Races, Wall Scaling, Mountain
Battery Contests and Bucking Events Programmed.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—Spectacular and thrilling will be the field meet held here July 4, when the Twenty-first Infantry, the Second Field Artillery and the Second Cavalry will compete in a series of athletic events for $500 in prizes. No admission will be charged. The performance starts at 1:30 o'clock.

Roman chariot racing, wall scaling, machine gun platoon racing, mountain battery contests, tent pitching, military callisthenics to music, bayonet fencing and other events are on the programme. Like olden times, when the warriors fought in mail and armor will be the bayonet fencing.

The final spectacle of the day will include the building and destruction of a bridge over an imaginary river.

The best events staged at the Tacoma stadium by the soldiers two years ago will be on the programme. The whole reservation will be given over to the celebration.

soldiers keep perfect time, going through the entire drill of five minutes without a mistake or hand out of place.

A mountain battery contest is full of action. Three-inch cannon are assembled behind the mules, standing at the scratch. At the sound of the signal, the cannon are taken apart and packed on the backs of mules, which run 100 yards will top speed. The guns are taken from their backs, unpacked, assembled, one shot fired, then repacked on the mules and raced back to the scratch.

Wall Scaling Spectacular.
The wall scaling event is spectacular. Carrying their rifles, squads of soldiers race 25 yards, scale the wall, run 25 yards, and fire five shots in rapid succession.

The machine gun platoon of the Twenty-first Infantry will give an exhibition of racing. The contest is similar to the mountain battery, except that a machine gun, capable of firing 800 shots a minute, is used, instead of cannon. The First Infantry twice broke the world's record on this field, and the Twenty-first will attempt to lower this mark.

The only purely athletic events will be the mile race on bicycles and the 100-yard dash.

A circus stunt will be the Roman race on the backs of animals, mules will be substituted for horses. Lieutenant W. H. Rucker, of the Second Field Artillery, has found the mules that refuse to be ridden. He has also discovered 16 husky soldiers who, for the prizes offered, are willing to do some rough riding on these bucking brutes.

Like olden times, when the warriors fought in mail and armor will be the bayonet fencing.

The final spectacle of the day will include the building and destruction of a bridge over an imaginary river.

The best events staged at the Tacoma stadium by the soldiers two years ago will be on the programme. The whole reservation will be given over to the celebration.

AUTO CLUBHOUSE OPENED

Motor Men Cut Speeches but Drink to Health of Fine $15,000 Home.

An auspicious opening dedicated the magnificent clubhouse of the Portland Automobile Club last night. More than 200 members and their guests gathered at the country home on the Base Line road and toasted the success of the new clubhouse. Not even a near-speech was made, and the motorists were left to enjoy the evening in peace. Many motorists who visited the clubhouse for the first time were surprised at the elegance of the home. That it will be popular is quite evident, judging from the enthusiastic comments made last night. The building and furnishings surpass the hopes of the most enthusiastic.

The structure was completed at a cost of $15,000. The club has its own electric light plant and pumping station. The kitchen equipment is said to rank with the finest in the country.
