Portland Delegation Studies Economics at Home of Criminals.

LUNCH EATEN IN ASYLUM

Interest in Financial and Political Affairs of State Shown by Visitors Among Whom Were Recognized Lobbyists.

SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special).—Never before has there been such an interested delegation visit the state institutions as that which today, when over 50 members of the Portland Women's Club and visitors went through the State Penitentiary with Governor West, were entertained at the State Asylum for the Insane by Treasurer Kay and Superintendent Steiner and were shown the other institutions and about the city in automobiles piloted by the women.

At the State Penitentiary the Governor showed the women the various features at the prison before they visited the asylum, where the tour was conducted through by the State Treasurer and Superintendent.

A luncheon in charge of Mrs. Steiner was served at the institution and there brief talks were made by several local people and visitors. State Treasurer Kay touched upon the fact that he expected that the women will have a direct interest in the financial and political affairs of the state. This reference to woman's suffrage brought applause from the women.

Study of Economy Aided. Mrs. Cartwright, acting president of the Salem Woman's Club, gave a few words of welcome which were responded to by Mrs. A. King Wilson, president of the Portland Women's Club. Mrs. Wilson mentioned the fact that the work of the Woman's Club during the year had been along the lines of political economy and as a result the visit of today was one of exceptional interest to them.

Mrs. Sarah Evans, of Portland, who was spoken of by State Treasurer Kay as an expert lobbyist for good legislation, spoke briefly of experiences that she had had in lobbying at past sessions and particularly of the difficulties that the women went through in securing the passage of a bill providing that traveling attendants should be sent from the asylum to return patients to the institution. "Whenever you wish anything in the line of legislation that will be beneficial legislation all you need to do is to call on the women's clubs and we will guarantee you that we will pack the lobbies for your bills," she said.

Institution Is Lauded. Mrs. Henry Waldo, who stated that she had made something of a study of institutions such as the insane asylum, both in this country and Europe. She congratulated Superintendent Steiner on his management and declared "Oregon can well be proud of this institution."

Superintendent Steiner spoke briefly and in his talk stated that what praise might be due the conduct of the institution it should be largely shared with the medical staff and the employes generally.

The women present at the luncheon were: Mrs. Oswald West, Mrs. Harrison G. Ogden, Mrs. Charles B. Coon, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. W. Graves, Mrs. Cora Puffer, Mrs. G. H. Pettinger, Helen H. Gillespie, Mrs. R. P. Graham, Mrs. Clarence C. Hickok, Mrs. A. King Wilson, president of the Portland Women's Club; Sarah H. HOOD RIVER ASKS STATION

Experts Would Start Experimental Work in Orchard District.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 22.—(Special).—Through the efforts of Professor Lawrence, Hood River County will try to obtain a state experimental station here to make a continued investigation for the cure and prevention of horticultural diseases and a remedy for the different pests that attack orchards. V. I. Saffro, entomologist, H. Tartar, chemist, and Professor H. Bailey, plant pathologist, have been in the Valley this week to make observations on the arsenical poisoning that has been found affecting the foliage and fruit in different sections. This poisoning does not occur every year, and it is thought by Professor Lawrence that the unusually moist condition of the atmosphere, causing chemical actions to take place in the spray solutions that are applied to the trees, is the cause of the poisoning.

Gossard Corsets

Time tells no tales in the backs of Gossard wearers—the enviable flatness of youth maintained by a scientific distribution of Corset pressure. The mature waist is rendered slender in effect by the continuous full-length support of the back. The abruptness through the hips is uniformly lessened by the extremely long skirt, so strong, yet supple, that every atom of discomfort gives way to an assuring feeling of compactness. No marring undulations in the back of the generously proportioned figure, no too-evident angularity in the over-strengthened figure, when the Lace-Front is worn.
