ANNA BELLE ENTERTAINS THE SEWING SOCIETY

Dear Friends:—I entertained our SEWING SOCIETY at our last meeting and we had the most fun. I wish you could know my chum Marjorie for really she's the jolliest girl I ever knew. She always keeps us laughing with her funny sayings and all the time she's as busy as any of us. She thought she had a great joke on me when she told the other girls that she heard that Willie Simpson had said something about wanting to join our SOCIETY as an honorary member. Of course all the girls laughed and oh, no, of course I didn't blush at all, honest. We made so many nice things which I'm sure the poor girls and boys of our neighborhood will enjoy. While we were having our meeting my little sister, Elizabeth toddled into the room and said that she wanted to join our "So-ci-ty" so bad. I think that was real cute, don't you? Then one of the girls suggested that we make Elizabeth a dress for showing "so much interest" in our SOCIETY. The idea took right away and in just a little while we had made the cute little dress which I am showing you. I hope you are progressing in your Society work and that are long we will have a membership of many million good girls and boys. Write real soon and tell me what you are doing these good vacation days. The other day, Brother Jack said something about us going camping. Oh, I do hope we can, because I like the woods and wild flowers so much and maybe I can catch a fish, too! Address your letters to me in care of this paper, and be sure and write as often as you can. Well, good bye for this time. Lovingly,

Anna Belle

How many fish can you catch in this new game of fisherman?

To begin this game, cut out the 7 fishes in the yellow panel and paste on heavy cardboard, also the game board below them containing the long string of fish. As many as four persons can play. The player selected for first go places a fish on the fish marked "start here" and placing the 3 fish marked 1, 2, and 3, in a glass shakes them and throws them out on the table. The numbers uppermost show how many fishes the player moves forward. If the move lands player fish on a fish larger than itself the person player moves forward 2 fishes and continues moving forward 2 fishes if he lands on another larger fish. First player catching the string of fish wins the game.
