

COLLEGE AVIATOR IS KILLED BY FALL

Mother and Sweetheart of Stanford Student See Portions of His Flight.

CONTROL LOST AT HEIGHT

Victor Morris Smith, Bearing Message to Girl He Was to Have Married, Veers in Turning and Neck Is Broken.

PALO ALTO, Cal., June 12.—With a message in his pocket from his mother to his sweetheart, both of whom witnessed portions of his flight, Victor Morris Smith, Jr., a 29-year-old Stanford University student, was instantly killed today by a fall from his airplane. A score of spectators saw the accident. Young Smith dropped from a height of about 250 feet and his neck was broken.

The youthful aviator set out this morning from his home at Mountain View to fly to Ravenswood Park, where a meet was scheduled for tomorrow. Just before his departure his mother gave him a note to carry to Miss Marie Wilde, a Palo Alto High School student, whom the lad was engaged to marry.

Sharp Turn Is Fatal.
Flying north to Palo Alto, Smith circled over the town, then shot across the Stanford campus and started for Ravenswood Park. When crossing a pine orchard Smith endeavored to make a sharp turn to reach an open field near the park. The machine veered, and it was seen that the aviator had lost control. The biplane plunged downward and when within about 20 feet of the ground the boy jumped. He was dead when alighted reached him.

Mrs. Smith arrived in an automobile shortly afterward and the body was taken to the family home.

Girl Sees Flight From Distance.
When Miss Wilde, who had witnessed the flight from a distance, was informed of the death of her fiancé, she fainted and was carried to the automobile in which Mrs. Smith had come to the scene of the accident.

Smith had been a prominent member of the Stanford Freshman track team. In the last intercollegiate meet with the University of California he finished third in the mile run and won a class sweater, which he was wearing today.

For the last two months young Smith had been studying aviation at a school near San Diego. Today's flight was his first public exhibition. Friends, bearing in mind the superstition attached to "13," had urged him to postpone his flight until the 14th.

ARCHBALD CASE TO WAIT

House Managers Overruled in Effort to Hurry Case.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—It was practically determined today that the Archibald impeachment case will not be tried by the Senate this summer. This indicates an earlier adjournment of Congress than seemed possible a few days ago. The delay is said to be in accordance with the wishes of Judge Archibald.

It was arranged today that the Senate should be notified of the House resolution of impeachment and that the managers should formally appear next week to demand trial. While the House managers were desirous of having the case heard at once, they met opposition on both sides of the chamber. The hot weather, the rush of other business and the approaching political campaign all combined to favor a postponement of the trial.

Smith says the girl willingly accompanied him to the room to obtain beer. He denies attacking her. Smith says he is 19 years old.

Smith is an athlete and is one of the best-known wrestlers in this part of the state.

DR. CALDERWOOD LOSES

WOMAN ELECTED SECRETARY OF PROHIBITION COMMITTEE.

Faction of Party That Has Been in Power for Several Years Retains Control.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12.—At a session of the new National committee of the prohibition party which lasted all night and adjourned today, W. G. Calderwood, of Minnesota, was defeated for re-election as secretary of the committee by Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, president of the Kentucky Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Dr. Calderwood was a leader in the insurgent movement in the convention and the candidate put up to defeat National Chairman Jones in the contest that resulted in the election of Virgil G. Hinshaw, of Oregon, a compromise candidate.

The action of the National committee retains control of the party's administrative body for the faction which has been in power for several years. Members of the executive committee include Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman; J. B. Lewis, of Boston, vice-chairman; F. J. Sibley, Arizona, and F. W. Emerson, San Francisco.

A proposal to change the representation on the National committee to one member for each 5000 prohibition votes in each state at the last National election was referred to the executive committee, to be acted on later by the full committee.

LAGER BEER

CAN BE MADE AT HOME FOR TWO CENTS A QUART.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 14.—Through a recent discovery of an expert brewmaster of this city, a delicious ice-cold Lager Beer can be made right at home for 2 cents a quart. He has concentrated barley malt and imported hops, the ingredients of all good brewery sugar, so that only by the addition of water and a delicious, intoxicating and sparkling Lager Beer is made. It is very easily made right in any kitchen, requiring no apparatus of any kind—a few minutes does the work. It is said that the Beer made by this method is far superior to the average saloon beers brewed in Cincinnati, the city that is noted for its fine beer.

Some people will question the legality of brewing Beer at home, but it has been carefully investigated by all authorities and found to be legitimate under all present laws. For further information write to the American Prohibition Co., Dept. 243, Cincinnati, Ohio, and ask for Free Booklet, "Secrets of Making Beer at Home."
