Aldermen Will Mandamus Him if Police Are Left Alone, Threaten Officials.

'REAL' STORY GOES ROUNDS

'Wise' Ones Say Rosenthal Expected to Be Handed $5000 Instead of Five Bullets When He Left Metropole Hotel.

NEW YORK, July 27.—(Special)—Mayor Gaynor has precipitated a new controversy on the police situation by his refusal to call a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen for the purpose of appointing a special committee to investigate the alleged connection of the police system and the murder of Gambler Rosenthal.

Police Investigation Slow. Seven policemen were within 100 yards of the Hotel Metropole when Herman Rosenthal, the "squealing" gambler, was shot to death there 11 days ago.

Following his seven associates, who are in the Tombs waiting further action in the Herman Rosenthal killing, "Jack" Sullivan, "king of the newsboys," whose real name is Jacob A. Reich, today was held without bail by Coroner Feinberg, before whom he was arraigned, charged with complicity in the murder.

BRIDE TELLS OF AERIAL TRIP

Pilot Balloon Lands in Pig Pen After 22-Mile Flight.

SMITHVILLE, Mo., July 27.—A honeymoon trip of four hours in a balloon that arose to the height of 5700 feet travelled 22 miles and landed in a pig pen, was described here tonight by Mrs. Milo Hartman who landed nearby when the pilot balloon Kansas City III came down. She was the only woman in the party and became the bride of Dr. Hartman in Kansas City just before the balloon was cut loose to show the course for the contesting balloons in the National elimination race.

"I enjoyed the trip greatly," Mrs. Hartman said, "and was not frightened in the least. Pilot Jacobs let us drop nearly into the Missouri River, because I said I would like to be cool and wished I was in the water. As we were passing over the river the cool air condensed the gas in the bag and it dropped. Pilot Jacobs, to see if I was frightened, let it fall until we were about 100 feet from the water and then threw out some ballast and we started upward until we reached an altitude of 5700 feet."

The pilots of the balloon say that Mrs. Hartman was the coolest member of the party. Dr. Hartman, they said "showed signs of fright."

Two other balloons visible and we appear to be gaining. Elevation is 500 feet. Garrell."

BIG CASH VAULT URGED

MACVEAGH PROPOSES ONE FOR NATION'S WEALTH.

Secretary of Treasury Would Have Five-Story Structure Built Underground in New York.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—A steel-ribbed, indistinguishable five-story vault, sunk in the earth beneath the United States Assay Office in New York, and capable of holding $2,000,000,000 in gold, is planned by Secretary MacVeagh of the Treasury Department. This project, the largest money vault in the world, requires the sanction of Congress and has already received a favorable report from the House committee on appropriation.

Looking into the future, Secretary MacVeagh believes the vault is a necessity for the convenience and safety of the Nation's wealth. Gold is purchased by the United States Government at the rate of $100,000,000 a year. This treasure against which gold certificates are issued, is distributed the country over in the vaults of the treasury, subtreasuries, mints and assay offices. Within a few years, it is estimated, the entire storage capacity of these buildings will have been consumed.

If authorized, the big vault will be erected under the proposed new front portion of the assay office. It will cost $22,000, while the building standing over it will cost only $225,000. Gold bullion, turned into bars, will be piled in the structure like bricks. While this storehouse could hold all the Government's gold at the present time, it is not the intention to amass it in New York, but to reserve the space for future hoardings.

FLAG OF TRUCE DUE

Defenders "Blue" Because Invaders Outgeneraled Them.

EARLY FOG IS FRIENDLY

Black River Bridge Dynamited and Colonel Young's Men Retreat but Reds Advance and Second Retreat in Haste Follows.

(Continued From First Page.) of the Blues as they realize that the Reds have outgeneraled them and that they will be compelled to surrender.

Thousands of residents realizing the danger of the country and of the probability of the Reds capturing the state capital at Olympia and the City of Seattle, have flocked behind the Blues' lines and offered to assist, but their services will be of little avail, as they have not been trained in warfare and their supplies will be cut off by the enemy already in the rear and preparing to advance.

Reds Capture 100 Blues.

The Reds captured more than 100 Blues today and yesterday, among them being Captain Palmer, of Tacoma, and 30 troopers of Troop B, Tacoma. When a Blue is captured he is sent to the rear and made to do menial duties.

The Blues have captured probably 50 Reds, among them being Captain George White, of Portland, of the commissary and Lieutenant J. Feldman, of the Oregon National Guard.

Captain White was with Colonel May, an umpire, on the railroad track when he was warned that the Blues were near in force. White, not believing his ears, advanced a short distance, when he was shot by two of the enemy (Washington men).

The lightnings showed the usefulness of field artillery. Should the Reds win in the great struggle tomorrow, it is probable that they will put a fleet in Puget Sound and demand $100,000,000.

NEW ARMY POST IS PREDICTION

Southwestern Washington Believes Recommendation May Result.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 27.—(Special)—A large Army post, will be located in Southwestern Washington, either at Gate or between there and Centralla, or near Olympia, if Army officers' suggestions shall be headed by the War Department chiefs. This is considered in well-informed circles here not only as one probable result of the Army's victory of the past ten days, but is believed to have been largely instrumental in the selection of this territory for the maneuvers.

The victory of the Red Army, represented by a foreign force supposed to have been landed on Grays Harbor for an invasion of the Sound cities and to menace Portland, is believed in Army circles to forecast the situation as to what would follow should a foreign force actually land on Grays Harbor.

It is possible that coast fortifications will be urged for both Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor, but Army officers are quoted here today as saying that such fortifications, if established, would be valueless unless backed by a large mobile land force.

They say that it will be necessary to establish a post somewhere near Centralla which should include in its garrison infantry, cavalry and field artillery and which would be so located as to be able to resist a foreign force landed either on Grays Harbor or Willapa Harbor, or at both points at once. It is hinted among Army officers, who refuse to be quoted publicly, that General Maus probably will recommend the establishment of such a post.

The decision of the dockers' leaders to order the men to return to work is taken as a result of their failure to organize a general strike of the transport workers of the country in sympathy with the London men.

Although large funds have been raised for the relief of the men's families, the assistance afforded has been slight, as compared with the extent of the distress.

Some of the leaders, too, lost the sympathy of the public by uttering threats of violence.
