Decorators and Furnishers
Successors to Moore & Co., Inc.
Alder at Eleventh Street

Early in August we enter the interior decorative field. The things we show will be the newest and most distinctive offered to Portland buyers. All our drapery and upholstery fabrics, our papers, rugs and furniture were personally selected by a member of our firm, who has spent six weeks at the task in the New York markets. He has had access to unusual sources of supply, and has found many unusual fabrics, designs and colorings. Our selection will cover every quality, from costly velvets and brocades down to the least expensive chintzes and cretonnes.

During our reorganization many of the exclusive and beautiful things for which Moore & Company were widely known will be closed out. If you have a gift to buy or are interested in pictures, silver, china, small furniture, plastic reproductions or jewelry you will be shown many rare values.

WHILE figuratively speaking, there is nobody in town, one meets familiar faces in the shops and motoring. The concentrated energy of Portland's social strength is not separated yet, though the date is pretty well settled, and next month there will be very few left. Preparations for leaving town have completely absorbed attention and left little or no time for social diversions, except of an informal nature. Several small affairs have been given during the week in honor of out-of-town visitors.

The new Waverly Country Club polo field at Overlink, adjoining the Waverly golf links, is the mecca for large gatherings of society on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Yesterday afternoon an interesting match was played between the A and B teams, and the games will be played on Saturdays hereafter. Presiding last Sunday in the marquee which has been erected on the field for refreshments, were Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis, Mrs. Sherman Hall and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies.

Charles Scadding, General and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux, Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Dolph, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Miss Claire Houghton, Leland Smith, Edmund King, J. E. Rowland and James Maitland, who plans to make his home on the Coast; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harmon, of Plainfield, N. J., who are guests at the Hotel Multnomah, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland will leave this week for their home in Plainfield, N. J.

Mrs. Maxwell Blake, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, was hostess at a theater party at the Hellig Saturday evening. The guests were Major and Mrs. James A. Canby, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mears, Miss Cornelia Cook and Henry Teal.

Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis was hostess Thursday at an attractive bridge tea in honor of Mrs. Carter Pitkin Pomeroy, of San Francisco, who is a guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooke. Six tables were arranged in the drawing-room, which was artistically decorated with great baskets of pink roses. A number of guests called later in the afternoon for tea. Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Holt Wilson, Mrs. David Chambers Lewis and Miss May Felling presided in the dining-room. Among the guests were Miss Ella Hirsch, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Harry Nunn, Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. Pomeroy, Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooke, Miss Claire Houghton, Mrs. David Taylor Honeyman, Mrs. J. D. Farrell, Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, Mrs. A. L.
