SEA BATHERS MAKE FIND

Life Preservers Picked Up at Neahkah-nie Arouses Much Speculation.

NEAH-KAH-NIE, Or., July 27.—(Special.)—With the arrival here last week of a party from Reed College, Portland, trout fishing in the streams around the mountain has become an important feature of entertainment. Visitors start early in the morning for the small branches of the Nehalem River, to return late in the evening well-laden with speckled beauties. A number of fine catches have been made.

The opening of the salmon season here has also aroused activity among the salmon trollers. Numerous parties have spent the day on the river and the upper bay and report excellent luck.

Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, Miss Frances Sheehy, Miss Florence Reed, Professor Stahl and Robert Sabin have occupied the new cottage just completed by Miss MacMillan. Various parties have been formed for walking, fishing, boating and bathing, so that their Summer home has been the center of a continuous round of gaiety.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen Gilbert, of Portland, and their small daughter, Dorothea, spent the week-end with the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. M. Breck.

Mrs. J. D. Hancock, of Portland, has been a guest at the Breck cottage for the past fortright.

The completion of the new cottage erected for Miss Mary Frances Isom, librarian of the Portland library, has provided for a pleasant increase to the Summer colony. Miss Isom, accompanied by her niece, Berenice Langton, arrived Thursday of last week and will make her home here the scene of many entertainments during the season.

Mrs. J. B. Hatton and John M. Hatton were guests here for several days the latter part of the week.

Campfires have become popular among the young people, the thick woods near by furnishing splendid opportunities for roughing it and arranging real "pioneer" outings. The visit of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Dove, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Dove, Miss Leora Bradley and G. F. Nickols, has been well occupied with expeditions among the hills, trips around the famous trail and campfires in the woods and along the beach. The party has been spending the past ten days at the ranch-house.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Breyman, the Misses Sherlock and Miss Harriet Breyman arrived the latter part of the week in their automobile from Portland to spend the week-end here. They came in over the mountains by way of Tillamook and reached the resort through Nehalem. Roads along the route are reported excellent over most of the distance and numerous parties en route to different resorts were passed.

A large party of visitors from Portland is expected here next week. C. B. Smith and Fred Sholin having come in during the week to arrange for accommodations and to enjoy an outing over Sunday.

J. J. Teesdale, of Portland, has been spending his vacation here for the past two weeks.

Among the enthusiastic anglers here are Mr. Stockwell and Mr. Williams, who arrived Sunday for a few days' fishing, and boast they know the best pools haunted by mountain trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and son, "Billy," of Portland, were visitors here over Sunday. They are making a tour of the Oregon beaches and left early in the week for a trip farther south.

An event of interest to visitors was the finding last week of two lifepreservers from the steamer R. A. Miler on the beach. The cork jackets were washed ashore on Friday and caused a good deal of speculation as to the cause of their being adrift.

Work on the hotel is progressing rapidly and it is expected the new Neah-kah-nie Tavern will be ready for opening by August 1. A party of business men from Portland, accompanied by several leading citizens of Nehalem, made a short visit here Sunday to inspect the premises. It is proposed to make the opening the leading event of the season here.

Among those registered at the ranch-house during the week are the following: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stevenson, Miss Lillian Stevenson, A. L. Bratton, Mr. and Mrs. Pride, Maurice Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Pride, Maurice Hudson, C. E. Hudson, Milton Martyn, C. M. Sheffler, Roland Bristol and Mrs. Chase and children.

BAYOCEAN HOTELS CROWDED

Warm Weather Drives City People to Seek Cooling Sea Breezes.

BAYOCEAN, Or., July 27.—(Special.)—The warm weather of the past few weeks in the city has been effective in driving all who could get away to where the cool breezes blow, apparently, for the rush of visitors started in early in the week and continued until the week-end, when accommodations were taxed to the utmost here, the hotel being crowded and even the tent city well filled.

In order to provide for the large number of people coming here by train, regular ferry service has been established between Bayocean and Garibaldi by the yacht Henrietta, under Captain Jenkins. The yacht Bayocean was found too large to handle in the bay and the smaller boat was recently secured from Tillamook, where Captain Jenkins has had headquarters, especially for the use of Bayocean patrons.

The opening of the neighboring resorts along the coast has stimulated activity here, many visitors coming to see Bayocean for the first time. The presence of these people has provided a constant round of gayety. The days have been devoted to trips to places of interest about the bay and to fishing trips in the mountain streams or on the ocean. Social events of various sorts, bowling and evening bathing have proved interesting features for the evenings.

Two unusually attractive musical events have marked the week, besides the regular programmes provided each evening by the orchestra. Tuesday evening, when Mrs. M. J. O'Donnell was soloist, the programme rendered was as follows: "Fruhlingsleben" (Schumann), "Irish Love Song" (Lang), "Calm Is the Night" (Bohm), "The Rosary" (Nevin), by Mrs. O'Donnell; violin solos by M. L. Cline, minuet in G (Beethoven) and "Souvenir" (Dedia); 'cello solos by Robert S. Browne, "Dream of Love" (Liszt) and "The Swan" (Saint Saens). Special numbers rendered by the orchestra were "Awakening of Spring" (Bach), "Extase" (Ganne) and "Hungarian Dance" (Brahms).

The Sunday night programme was devoted to chamber music, the following numbers being rendered by the orchestra: Overture, "Light Cavalry" (Suppe); Larghetto from second symphony (Beethoven); minuet from Octett (Schubert); "The Swan" (Saint Saens); solo by Mr. Browne; rondo finale from trio in G (Haydn); "Garden of Love" (Schumann); "Marche Militaire" (Schubert). Vocal solos were given as follows: "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," aria from St. Paul (Mendelssohn); "Dring to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Bedouin Love Song" and "Garden of Love."

The audience was enthusiastic and completely filled the hotel parlors and office during the concert.

Dancing in the hotel parlors has been popular during the cool evenings and the regular Thursday night event was well attended, there being about 25 couples present. Among those who took part in the dancing were Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Blietz, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bergner, Miss Crystaline Hyland, Stanley Chapin, Miss Ruth Bissell, Mrs. Bissell, Blanche McGowan, Edna McGowan, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stone, R. E. Lafferty, E. M. Eldridge, N. Gladstone, Frank Wood and Del Bogart.

At a jolly bonfire gathering Tuesday evening on the beach, below the hotel, there were present the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Reynolds, Mrs. George M. Hyland, Miss Crystaline Hyland, Miss Constance Hyland, Miss Blanche Wiles, Miss Juell Reynolds, Miss Jessie Bengal and Miss Elizabeth Brophy, of Spokane; Henry L. King, Stanley Chapin, Frank Ware, Mr. Rumford and Samuel Wickford. Games of different sorts, racing contests among the women and a tug-of-war between the men formed attractive features of the outing. Roasted marshmallows, toasted corn and potatoes cooked in the ashes of the bonfire were served.

Wednesday evening was given over to a five hundred party in the hotel parlors, at which there were six tables. Prizes of handsome stick pins for the men and boxes of candy for the women were won by M. L. Cline and Melvin Reed and by Miss Blanche Reynolds and Mrs. Williams. Following the card games, refreshments were served and a short musical programme by several of the guests closed the entertainment.

During the past week Mr. and Mrs. T. Irving Potter have opened their cottage. The Potter party includes Mr. and Mrs. Potter, their children and nurse, Mrs. W. G. Hendricks and her son. Pending the completion of refurnishing for the Summer they have been occupying apartments in the hotel.

Frank Mallory, of Portland, has established a tent on his property north of the hotel and will probably start a cottage there in the near future. The location is an attractive one but building on that portion of the point has been delayed until the completion of High Terrace drive northward along the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stose are contemplating erecting a cottage just south of the T. I. Potter cottage. Mr. Stose is a real booster for the place, although a recent arrival, and has outlined a number of improvements for the resort which may be carried out in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Bleitz are spending a few weeks at the hotel enjoying the cool weather and Summer diversions.

Among the guests from the "outside" during the week were Miss Jessie Bengal and Miss Elizabeth Brophy, of Spokane, who arrived early in the week and left for Portland Thursday. This is their first trip to the resort and they were delighted with the beautiful situation.

Among the guests to arrive Saturday for the week-end were T. Irving Potter, L. E. Kern, Lowell Kern, his son, and H. L. Chapin. The party left Portland by automobile at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and reached Bay City, a distance of 117 miles, before noon.

Members of the party report an unusually pleasant run. The way lies through McMinnville, Dolph, Hebo, Cloverdale, Tillamook and Bay City. Except for the space of five miles near the Indian reservation, it was said, the road was excellent and good time was made throughout the trip. A number of other autos were passed on the road, many of which were on the way to the cottage resorts in the vicinity of Bayocean.

H. V. Bamford and George Bamford, of Portland, are staying here for a few days. They have been especially active in the dancing and other entertainment and also took part in the bowling contest at the pavilion Friday night.

Paul E. Bleitz was high man bowling though given a hard run by some of the other men, notably Frank McClure, one of the instructors of swimming. This port is becoming a popular one and many of the women have tried developing their muscles by this means. Mrs. Bissell, Miss Blanche Wiles and the Misses McGowan hold high records in their class. The party Friday night included the following: Mrs. Bissell, Miss Ruth Bissell, Miss Blanche Wiles, Mrs. Wiles, Miss Edna McGowan, Miss Blanche McGowan, M. L. Cline, Frank McClure, Melvin Boyle, Paul E. Bleitz, Frank Woodward and Del C. Bogart.

Mrs. W. L. Buchanan, wife of W. L. Buchanan, publicity manager for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, was a guest at the hotel last week. She left for a trip up the Garibaldi-Nehalem beaches, which are easily reached from Bayocean.

An especially enjoyable trip out over Tillamook Bar was made by the yacht Henrietta Sunday afternoon by a select party. The little vessel lay-to near the buoy and members of the party tried their luck with the denizens of the deep. Mrs. Bowman, of Portland, proved herself the angler of the party and carried home a heavy load of fish. The heavy rain of the night before had produced a "flat sea" and none of the party was sea sick. These deep sea trips will be a feature of Sunday morning's entertainment on the Henrietta during the balance of the season.

Among the late arrivals here are Clinton Newton, wife and family, who arrived during the week to occupy the Fisher cottage. Mr. Newton came here recently to look over the place and was so well pleased that he decided upon it as the ideal place for a Summer outing for his family. He may build a cottage in the near future.

Besides the Potter party, which arrived for the week-end, the special train out of Portland brought the following, most of whom came by way of Garibaldi; others went through to Tillamook and crossed to Bayocean on the Henrietta: George W. Caldwell, wife and daughter; Mrs. J. F. Bell, Alexander Bell, H. N. Secwert and wife, Arthur Goodrich and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hoyt, Miss Martha S. Hoyt, George W. Hoyt, Jr., all of Portland; Mrs. G. A. Phillips and Reuel Phillips, Spokane; Earl H. Anderson, of Salem; Mrs. R. A. Sawyer, Mrs. F. J. Courtney, C. A. Foster and wife, Dr. R. B. Northrup, Mrs. Northrup and son, R. E. Meyers, Mrs. G. Hibbard and son, Ruby van Hook, R. C. Loucks, S. W. King and wife, W. A. Illidge, Miss Christine Lawffer, Miss Sophy Lawffer, H. M. Bissell, Elwood Wiles, H. O. Baker, Lillian Baker, Blanche Lucky, Edward Base, J. C. Foth, O. H. Schmedtmum and wife, Joseph Jantberger, Mrs. Jantberger and Miss Jantberger, E. Bragg, Miss Ellery, Arthur Cavill, A. A. Russell, Mrs. W. J. Clemens and Miss Jean Clemens, M. A. Zallinger and wife, Clifford Zellinger and Marian Zellinger, Henry Mears, Mrs. Frank E. Dooly and wife, Miss Margaret Mears, R. M. Dooly, Jr., S. D. Kelly, Dr. Perkins and wife.

The early morning boat from Tillamook Sunday brought a large crowd of people, most of whom stayed over until Monday morning, among whom were the following: Alfred F. C. Burkhardt and wife, Emil Krattinger and wife, Wilhelmine Brunner, W. G. Perkins and James W. Lind, all of Portland; C. W. McIlvuine, of Bay City; W. K. Lytle, of Tillamook; Mrs. A. F. Creveling, Mrs. C. Thomas, Thomas J. Shea and wife and E. A. Class, all of Portland; F. T. Wrightman, of Salem; W. M. Cake, of Portland; L. R. Stinson, of Salem; J. B. E. Bourne, of Rainier; Florence Day, C. W. Cornelius, Ethel Craven, all of Portland.

Among the arrivals early in the week were the following: J. S. Bar-
