

an extra trip to provide transportation and the steamer Oliva and other boats made the trip across the bay during the evening parties of visitors.

A novelty in music provided by a band appealed to guests here; the pavilion was well filled until the hour. An enjoyable feature of the evening was the banquet furnished at the hotel, at which various stunts pulled off. Speeches and stories by the visitors in good humor. Drs. Clark and Perkins, of Tillamook, were in the merriest.

The noon hour has caused many of the their customary dip at the time, so that the beach has been usually crowded almost every day.

Arrival of week-end parties early in the week and the pleasant conditions of the water has brought out only every one, and bathing has been the event of the day.

Parties headed by Miss Estlin, Mrs. W. C. Van Dersal, Mrs. George Willett and daughter, of Tillamook, who spent the week-end here. Willett is Deputy District Attorney Tillamook County.

Charles H. Carey, a prominent attorney of Portland, with Mrs. Carey, daughter, Evelyn, were visitors for the week-end.

Mrs. Reuben Hyland, son of George Hyland, Robert O'Donnell, son of J. O'Donnell, and Richard van Dersal, son of W. C. van Dersal, were guests of a complimentary dinner at the hotel last week.

A party of visitors took part in a pleasant trip to Garibaldi last week to look over improvements there and see points of interest near the life-saving station. Among them were Mrs. J. O'Donnell, Mrs. E. J. Reynolds, Mrs. W. C. van Dersal, Mrs. Clinton West, Miss Jewell Reynolds, Miss Mary Newton and Mrs. Richard van Dersal, Robert O'Donnell and Richard Hyland.

Among the visitors from a distance, who came over to see something of the ocean diversions, were Dr. and Mrs. W. Rice, of Kansas City. They have been guests at many entertainments and have formed numerous plans for visiting different points of interest near the resort. They will occupy their cottage here for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thompson, of Spokane, were guests here over the week-end on their way home from Los Angeles, where they have been making an extended visit. Mr. Thompson has some property in Bayoccean, and is said to be considering erecting a cottage here another season.

and wife, Harriet Kern, Frances Brady, all of Portland.

William G. Tait, who recently purchased a controlling interest in the First National Bank of Tillamook, and now occupies the position of president of the institution, with Mrs. Tait, was a guest at the resort over the week-end.

Great excitement was caused here one evening last week by the announcement that it had been seen on shore and two miles from the hotel. Careful observation with powerful glasses revealed a man who apparently was endeavoring to scale the rocks to escape the rising tide and continually waved his coat or other garment toward the beach. A large crowd soon gathered along the shore to watch the strange sight. Officers at the United States life-saving station at Garibaldi Head Rock, about a mile off shore and two miles from the hotel, were notified, and a motorboat, they did not care to take the risk of crossing the bar in the heavy surf, they sent a launch to the spot. The man was seen to be struggling with the waves, and the launch was directed to his aid. The man was rescued and taken to the shore, where he was found to be a fisherman from the coast of Oregon. He had been out fishing and had become stranded on the rocks. The incident was a most interesting one, and the man was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Skeptical ones declare the whole matter merely a figment of the imagination, and it is thought the supposed man may have been a colony of sea lions sporting about on the rocks. The affair has caused a good deal of speculation, however, and impressed upon many the necessity of providing the life-saving crew just across the bay with a powerful motorboat, so that they could be investigated in the future without the hazard incident to putting to sea in an ordinary lifeboat.

LOST TREASURE TALE REVIVED

Neah-kah-nie Guests Have Subject for Talk at New Tavern.

NEAH-KAH-NIE, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Opening of the new Neah-kah-nie Tavern, which took place Thursday, has provided visitors here with better accommodations than formerly and this has already been taken advantage of to the present limit of the place. The opening was a brilliant affair with special entertainment provided for the occasion. During the evening guests from the cottages and from Nehalem visited the new hotel and expressed great pleasure at the excellent accommodations provided.

Motor parties to the resort appear to be the great diversion, the visitors coming in through McMinnville, Dolph, Tillamook City and Mohler. This is the only resort in Northwestern Oregon which provides a good automobile road to the beach and more than a dozen automobiles have come here during the past week to drive along the sand by the surf.

Among recent arrivals in machines were C. W. Hayhurst and a party of the place and is providing unusually pleasant accommodations for his guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Landers, of Pendleton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marston, of Spokane, are staying at the Neah-kah-nie Tavern.

NEKOWIN ATTRACTS MANY

Midsummer Vacation Season Sees Cottages All Inhabited.

NEKOWIN, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Opening of the mid-summer vacation season has brought a large colony of visitors here. The cottages are now all occupied, the grounds are well filled and the hotel gay with a constantly changing crowd of pleasure-seekers. The roads are in good condition, so that the arrival of a large number of automobile parties arriving to spend Sunday, on the way to other resorts farther north along the coast. The establishment of regular automobile service with Tillamook City has brought many visitors from Portland, who visit on sight-seeing trips, and wish to see as much of the area of the Oregon coast as possible in a short time.

Trout fishing has occupied most of the visitors' time here recently, it being only a short distance to the best pools and the streams in the hills. Thomas Rogers and wife, of McMinnville, and Charles Eppaley, of Salem, have secured a good deal of attention to this pastime and almost every day bring in a long string of speckled beauties.

The season has been late in starting so that the sound of the carpenter's hammer is heard from morning till night. The new bridge across Slab Creek, leading to the beach, is now ground, is now completed, so that the summer colonies in the north and south portions of the resort have begun to form parties for the week-end. The remodeling of the hotel has been completed and accommodations have been taxed to the limit for the past two weeks.

Completion of pretty bungalow cottages by Dr. R. E. L. Steiner and Daniel J. Fry, has brought about a pleasant increase to the permanent guests here, by the arrival of the Steiner and Fry families. Miss Maud Durbin and Miss Nancy Skalef, of Salem, are guests at the Steiner cottage, and Charles Eppaley, of Salem, is visiting the Fry for a few days.

A feature of the week-end entertainment is the dancing in Meyer's hall with the orchestra. The orchestra, consisting of Fred Olsen, of Salem, and Roy Brink, of Hebo. These events are well attended and are followed by luncheon served at the hotel.

Mrs. J. Mendonhall and family, of Portland, arrived recently and will spend the remainder of the Summer season here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cheney, Oren Cheney and their guest, Miss Bradon, of Portland, are among the recent arrivals who are leading the gaiety here.

W. A. W. Harris and family, of Month, are spending their Summer vacation here.

Daniel J. Fry, a well known druggist of Salem, with his wife, Mrs. Fry, the Misses Jennie and Priscilla Fry, Daniel J. Fry, Jr., and Oris Fry, arrived here last week to occupy his new bungalow for the remainder of the season.

Leonard Frank, a well known business man of Falls City, has been spending a few weeks here for his health. James Walton, Jr., of Williston, and their son are here for the Summer. Mr. Walton, who is managing owner of the resort, is planning a number of improvements at the place to be carried out this season and extending into the Fall.

Recent arrivals here most of whom are camping at the Steiner and Fry cottages, are: S. N. Riggs and wife, McMinnville; J. L. Riggs and wife, Salem; R. P. Riggs, wife and family, Portland; S. T. Riggs and wife, Seaside; K. W. Harris and family, Month; Fred Olsen and wife, Salem; Guy Nett and wife, McMinnville; Dr. Hoffman and wife, McMinnville; M. A. Harris and family, Portland; William W. C. Morrow, wife and family, Rickreall; Lloyd Cole, Ina Cole, Mrs. Walling, Reta Walling and Veda White, family; Gustave and Gunderman, family; John Omen, family; L. Ames and wife, C. W. Boettcher and family, all of Salem; George Rummel, E. T. Clark and wife, Clarence Bays and Loreta Lynch, all of McMinnville; Mrs. Frank Mapeh, Salem, and Miss Gladys Lynch, Portland.

Recent arrivals at the hotel include: W. Young and family, of Hebo; W. P. Mathews and Alexander Donaldson, of Portland.

SEASON LIVELY AT CANNON

Hotels and Beach Cottages Crowded With Summer Visitors.

CANNON BEACH, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Though a little late in starting, now that the season really is on, Cannon Beach is enjoying a very busy season.

The scenic beauties of this part of the coast draw many sightseers from all parts of the State. The beach is thronged with stagers and autos, which drive to Arch Cape and back. Perfect weather has made the beach more enjoyable.

John H. Hall, a prominent Portland attorney, with Mrs. Hall, their daughters, Marjorie and Bessie, and their son, Hubert, are here during the week-end. They are spending the week-end at the Cannon Beach Hotel, and are enjoying the view of the coast and the beach.

The Wednesday evening musicale here during the past week was especially entertaining. One was given this week under the direction of Mrs. Lois Edwards Brannin, a Portland musician, who is spending the Summer near the hotel. Those participating were: Louise Walker, Ethel Luke, Sadie Havelly, Hilma Fox, C. H. Fox, Miss Havelly, and Mrs. Brannin.

Among the late arrivals at Elk Creek is Captain Schaefer. He has opened his cottage for the season.

Dr. Frank E. Kistner has just been completed for W. H. Ross, manager of the Cannon Beach Hotel, and his wife. They contemplate erecting several more cottages for their patrons to use instead of tents.

Mrs. M. O. Collins, daughter of the late Mr. R. L. Hawthorne, has opened her cottage here for the season. She is entertaining Miss Mary Henson and Miss Louise Thompson.

Mrs. A. Balmanno and her son are guests at the Cole cottage.

Max M. Smith, the florist, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Helen, is spending an enjoyable vacation here.

Charles S. Irwin and wife are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone Stevens, in the Yates cottage.

The Mansour cottage is housing Mrs. Light, Mrs. Settem, and children, Mrs. Caroline Hayland and small son, and Miss Grace Davis.

Miss Regina West, sister of Governor West, spent the week-end at the Warren.

Dr. Frank E. Kistner has joined his family at the Elk Creek Hotel.

Miss M. A. Harris and her family, the Walsh cottage, surprised his daughter, Jane, by bringing her a Shetland pony and cart. Miss Mallett, a teacher at the Nehalem River, and Mrs. Roland Mills are caring for Miss Jane until her mother's arrival.

Mrs. E. A. Sommer is passing a fortnight at the Warren.

Miss C. Pratt, of Oregon City, is visiting Mrs. Clyde Huntley.

Mrs. J. D. Asher and Miss Sadie Havelly, of Portland, are here. Mr. J. H. Walker and family, of Oregon City, are enjoying the Peterson cottage.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. Brekke and small daughter, Laura, motored over from Gearhart Tuesday. Mrs. Brekke, who is a good roads enthusiast, is much pleased with the efforts of Clatsop County to provide good highways.

Mrs. Orrin Kellogg is entertaining

CHURCH DEDICATION IS TO BE HELD AT KENTON

United Presbyterian Edifice Will Be Formally Put Into Use Today.

Rev. S. Earl DuBois to Preach.

The Kenton United Presbyterian Church, erected at Lombard and Chatham streets, will be dedicated today. Rev. S. Earl DuBois, of the Grand Avenue United Presbyterian Church, will preach at 10:15 A. M. At 3 P. M. there will be a fraternal union meeting of all the United Presbyterian Churches of Portland, which will be addressed by different speakers. Rev. J. S. Cole, the pastor, will be in charge. In the evening Rev. Frank D. Imoley, of the First Church, will preach.

The building is 4x50 feet and is an attractive structure. It has a full basement, and the auditorium will seat about 800 people. Rev. Albert Gordon, superintendent of missions in the Synod of Columbia, started the Kenton Church September 18, 1910. Rev. J. S. Cole, present pastor, came July 1, 1911, and the church was organized February 11, 1912, in DuPray hall. The building was under the supervision of George Wilkinson, L. C. Wilkinson and Mrs. J. S. Cole as trustees. The cost of the church was $5000, exclusive of furniture. A fine piano has been furnished by the young women's Bible class.

The work being done by Bishop Frank W. Wams, of India, in raising funds on the Pacific Coast for foreign missions work is only part of a systematic effort extending over the entire United States. Numerous articles from all parts of the world who are delegates to the general conference in Minneapolis are still in the United States, having banded themselves together in a committee of about 50 members to raise $170,000 to meet a deficit of two years' standing and to increase the offerings of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States for missions this year to $200,000.

The Disciples of Christ are also conducting a strenuous campaign for mission funds, their mark being set at $2,000,000.

Bishop Wams, of the Methodist, met the laymen and Methodist ministers of Seattle Friday. Rev. Richard J. Cooke, resident bishop of Portland, being present also. The missionary situation was fully discussed.

Bishop Wams will be in Portland again next Tuesday. He will address the Methodist ministers at a special meeting at 10:30 A. M. and will speak to Methodist business men at a luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. From Portland the bishop will go to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Bishop W. E. Lewis, of China, has the territory of New York and vicinity. He is chairman of the special committee of missionaries which is in the field to raise the deficit.

Congregationalists of Portland held a rally at the German Congregational Church, Stanton and East Seventh streets, Wednesday night. The fraternal relations among the church members and to lay plans for aggressive Christian work. Dr. D. B. Gray, city missionary of the Congregational Church, presided. Speeches in English were made by George E. Paddock, state home missionary superintendent, and Dr. W. C. Kantner, pastor of the

TILLAMOOK ENJOYS ACTIVITY

With Season at Beaches on in Full Swing, City Benefits.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Summer activity at the beaches near Tillamook has stimulated activity here, and the streets have been lively with visitors, to and from the different resorts up and down the coast. Numerous automobile parties have passed through on the way to the north, and many have come in on the way to the Trask and Wilson rivers in search of trout.

Paul Chamberlain, news editor of the Portland Evening Telegram, and John Haeley, a prominent theatrical man of New York City, were guests of S. S. Johnson, a prominent business man of Portland, over Saturday and Sunday. They were on a trip about the county from their camp at Cape Lookout.

John H. Hall, a prominent Portland attorney, with Mrs. Hall, their daughters, Marjorie and Bessie, and their son, Hubert, are here during the week-end. They are spending the week-end at the Cannon Beach Hotel, and are enjoying the view of the coast and the beach.

CARS WILL BE RE-ROUTED

Examination of Burnside Bridge Being Made to Determine Condition

The County Court yesterday forwarded a letter to the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company asking it to run the cars which necessarily have had to be re-routed because of the passing of the old Harriman bridge, over a bridge or bridges other than the Burnside.

It is said in the communication that the county now has two competent engineers examining the Burnside bridge to determine its condition, and that a report is expected in a few days.

County Judge Cleeton is afraid that a crush of traffic over the Burnside bridge, doubts as to the safety of which have been in existence for some time, might result in a catastrophe, and feels certain that in such event adverse criticism would center on the County Court. He takes the position that prevention is better than cure. On the other hand he believes the court could not justly be censured for a "bundance of caution."
