MOOSE PICK STATE TICKET IN ILLINOIS

Convention Nominates Funk for Governor and Gives Pledge of Fealty to T. R.

VISITORS JOIN IN ORATORY

Platform Embraces Initiative, Referendum and Recall, Advocates Improved Social and Labor Conditions, Aims at Trusts.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Illinois progressives in state convention today selected State Senator Frank H. Funk, of Bloomington, as their nominee for Governor, named a complete state ticket, and pledged fealty to Colonel Roosevelt as their choice to make the Presidential race.

Orators hailing from California to New England, veterans of the Civil War, and young men experiencing their first political campaign joined in pledging their faith and efforts to the advancement of the progressive campaign. Former Democrats and Republicans were prominent in the deliberations of the convention.

Among those who addressed the convention were Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California; Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania; James R. Garfield, of Ohio, ex-Secretary of the Interior, and Raymond Robbins, Chicago settlement worker.

The delegates adopted a platform said to represent the most advanced of progressive ideas. In addition to the initiative, referendum and recall, the platform advocated improved social and labor conditions, abolishment of railroad passes, authorized city planning, urged publicity of legislative committee sessions and equal suffrage, and discussed the trusts, tariff and railroad valuations.

PRISON JUTE MILL EARNS

Industry at Walla Walla Penitentiary to Show $85,179 Profit.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—The State of Washington will net a profit of about $85,179 from the operation of the jute mill at the Walla Walla penitentiary during the present biennium up to the close of the selling period in September, according to the report of Superintendent C. S. Reed to the State Board of Control. It is expected that a total profit of $100,000 will be shown for the biennium if the mill is operated on the same basis as the present.

This profit is the direct result of the revision of the old jute mill law, and is the first net revenue derived from the jute mill during the whole period of its operation, nearly 22 years. The profit goes into the general fund of the state.

The abnormal profit is partially accounted for by the high price of sacks, resulting from the failure of the Calcutta brokers to anticipate the enormous wheat crop of the Inland Empire for the present year. During January the State Board of Control apportioned the output of the jute mill among the wheat-raising counties on the basis of last year's product as reported by the grain inspection bureau, fixing the price at the f. o. b. price of Calcutta sacks at Walla Walla at that time, which was 7 cents.

Of the apportionment to the counties the wheatgrowers failed to make application for more than 800,000 sacks, which were stored in readiness for their demands, and these have been sold in the open market at prices ranging from 8 to 11 cents.

TORRENT SWEEPS FARM

Farmer and Family Escape Deluge in Their Nightclothes.

TACOMA, Aug. 3.—Swollen by water which was turned from White River into the Lake Tapps reservoir, a tiny stream, from a spring two miles below the Lake Tapps reservoir, assumed the proportions of a destructive torrent early this morning and swept a flood of debris across the berry farm of Vernie Bounds, at the foot of the hill below the lake, two miles from the dam.

Two trees crashed into Bounds' new $1800 bungalow. Bounds, his wife and baby escaped in their nightclothes. The avalanche struck head-on a house on Bounds' farm, in which four berry-pickers were asleep. They had barely time to get out when the house was overturned. The flood is attributed to the damming of the lake for the Stone-Webster power plant. Filling of the reservoir began Wednesday by a flume from the White River, near Buckley.

NEWPORT PARROT TOO GAY

Discourse With Woman's Guild Shocks Religious Gathering.

NEWPORT, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Newport has a parrot which needs admonishing, according to Elliott Hurd, son of Rev. Charles T. Hurd, pastor of the Newport Presbyterian Church.

Elliott, who is six years old, was earning spending money by putting some kindling in the woodshed owned by E. W. Langdon, of Portland. He heard a squawk and stopped working.

"Do you know that poll parrot?" he asked Mrs. Langdon.

"No," replied she.

"Well, he's a wicked bird," remarked Elliott. "When the Woman's Guild of papa's church met at that house to talk about saloons he swore at them."

erty made known today that he had found what he believes to be the revolver from which some of the shots were fired that killed Rosenthal. The weapon was discovered in a trunk left behind by "Lefty" Louie when he fled, and all the chambers were empty. The revolver has been examined for finger prints.

Conference Is Held.

John W. Hart, counsel for Charles Becker, the police lieutenant charged with instigating the murder, conferred today with his client in the Tombs regarding their line of defense. While Hart was not communicative, it was reported that Becker proposed to lay the murder plot at the door of "Jack" Rose, and would seek to show that Rose's motive was that of vengeance growing from a long standing feud with Rosenthal. It would be shown, it was said, that the two gamblers formerly were partners and had a violent quarrel in which Rose got the loser's end, financially, as well as a beating.

CONTESTS ARE MANY

their home states. Then the committee voted to allow Alaska, the Hawaiian Islands and the District of Columbia representation in the convention, but to withhold from the delegates from these places the right to vote.

The first contest taken up was in the Alabama delegation. Twelve negroes, led by Dr. Joseph T. Thomas, contested the delegates elected by the progressive convention held in Birmingham from the fourth, sixth and ninth districts of the state. It appeared that some 31 negroes who attended the convention elected the 12 contestants after the regular convention had named its delegates.

Negroes Figure in Contests.

The committee did not vote on the Alabama contest when the argument was concluded, but proceeded to hear the Florida contests. Six negroes and one white man appeared as the contesting delegation. They were elected by two negro conventions, one held at Ocala, and one at St. Augustine, but both working in conjunction. They opposed six white men chosen by a convention called at Ocala by H. L. Anderson, the member of the National committee.

C. H. Alston, a negro, who appeared for the contestants, asserted that the negroes had been barred out of the convention called by Anderson. He said two kinds of tickets were used for the convention, red, which admitted only to the galleries, were given to the negroes, and white tickets admitting to the floor of the convention, to the whites.

Alston produced a letter written by Anderson in which the latter urged that the negroes hold a separate meeting in St. Augustine.

Barring of Negroes Admitted.

Anderson admitted he had endeavored to keep the negroes out of the white convention.

"It was necessary," he said. "My experience in Southern politics has shown me that the white men will not follow negro political leaders."

When Anderson concluded, the committee called for an expected Georgia contest. The contestants failed to appear and on suggestion of Cecil Lyon the committee voted to place the delegation on the temporary roll, expressly providing that any contestants might appear without prejudice before the credentials committee of the convention.

Committeeman Lyon in making the motion expressed his anxiety lest there appear any suggestion of "steam roller" tactics about the work of the committee. This sentiment was echoed by all present.

HOMES SWEPT ON FLOOD

the county, and much damage was done to crops, especially to hay, most of which was cut.

In some sections farmers estimate that one-third of the grain was also lost. The electrical storm put many telephones out of commission in Eagle Valley.

HARVEST OPERATIONS HALTED

Pendleton Reports Heaviest Rains in Umatilla History.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—One of the heaviest rains ever recorded in the history of Umatilla County at this season of the year, commenced at midnight yesterday and lasted until late forenoon today. As a consequence all harvest operations have been held up and it is feared some damage to "down" grain may result.

Farmers, however, state clear weather with a cool wind will dry out the grain and alfalfa and little injury be sustained.

The damage incurred by farmers throughout this county in the hailstorm of two weeks ago is not so great as at first believed. Many report much better conditions on their farms and in the harvest fields where the hailstorm was the hardest, than it was thought possible could exist.

LA GRANDE RAINFALL HEAVY

Hay Damage but Small, Grain Not Materially Hurt.

LA GRANDE, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—During 12 hours one and 11 one-hundredths inches of rain fell last night in this city, bringing the total rainfall for 1912 to a higher figure than all of 1911.

The downpour was constant but not violent, consequently small grain was not seriously menaced. An abundance of hay is down, however, and considerable damage has been done in that respect. There was no serious lightning or wind.

A contest from the state of Mississippi followed, and in presenting the claims of the negroes from that state, Perry B. Howard, a negro of Jackson, appealed to the provisional committee not to discourage the 900,000 negro voters of that state by refusing them recognition. Howard, who was a delegate to the regular Republican convention, took up the campaign for Roosevelt after the first call sent out in July by Senator Dixon. In this he met opposition from B. F. Fridge, who was picked out by Senator Dixon to take up the fight for Roosevelt in Mississippi.

Senator Dixon asked Howard if he did not think it would be wise to have the negroes in Mississippi who favor Theodore Roosevelt, led from the Democratic party by white men.

"That would be all right," said Howard, "but the majority of the negroes who are Democrats will not follow white leaders. We must be recognized. We do not want to lead, but we must have recognition in this progressive party if we are to do any effective work."

The negro problem was unsettled at a late hour.

WALLA WALLA GRAIN IS HIT

Continued Dampness Would Make Cereal Soft as Well as Bleach.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A gentle rain which lasted for several hours, amounting to over a half an inch, fell generally throughout this section of the state today and has caused no little damage.

In the light land districts where the wheat crop is thin the only damage will be bleaching, but in the foothill district, where the grain is down but could have been cut, the loss will be considerable, as the wet weather will not only have a tendency to bleach it, but make the cereal soft as well. The greatest loss to date, however, is the delay in harvest. Rains at this time of year are almost unknown, though the damage will not be great unless they continue.

NEW BILL APPROVED

Dolley Says Oregon Blue Eky Act Is Strong Measure.

FEW DEFECTS POINTED OUT

In Letter to Secretary Olcott, Kansas Bank Commissioner Compliments Oregon for Efforts to Protect Investors.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—J. N. Dolley, Bank Commissioner of Kansas, where theblue sky law is in force and according to reports has been carried on with extreme success, has written Secretary Olcott complimenting him on the proposed blue sky law for Oregon, which will go before the people in November.

He declares that the Oregon bill is a strong, forceful measure. Some criticisms are made by Bank Commissioner Dolley, but Secretary Olcott states that the provisions which are criticised were in the nature of concessions made in relation to the bill and, if these provisions are found to be too loose, it will be an easy matter to amend them.

In commenting on the Oregon bill Commissioner Dolley says:

"I have your favor of the 15th inst. enclosing copy of your act to protect purchasers of stocks and bonds. I presume, as you state, that you had to make some concessions in order to have a reasonable chance to enact it into law, but I wish to say on the whole, Mr. Olcott, that you have a very strong, forceful bill. I have gone very carefully over it and am well pleased with it.

"I consider your bill better than ours wherein it covers real estate, mortgages and other indentures pertaining to real estate located outside of your state, including bonds secured by mortgages.

"I believe that you should have made your fee at least $10, as the permit is worth many times more than that sum in selling their stock and you will find that you need the additional amount to bear the expenses.

"In regard to your section 3, wherein it provides that a company may accept conditional subscriptions, I doubt whether or not this provision is wise, and I believe you will find it will embarrass you more or less in enforcing the law.

"Your section 9 provides for an annual statement, instead of a semi-annual statement. I believe the companies should be required to make a semi-annual statement as it makes it too long between statements when they are annual. The selling of this stuff, as you may know, is done more or less quickly and I think the semi-annual statements much better.

"Section 10 provides that they make a trial balance once each quarter and record the same in a book therefor. I think our bill is better wherein it provides that these trial balances be made once each month.

"I consider section 13 a strong section and also section 14, a strong and effective section.

"I doubt whether it is wise to cause it to be illegal to sell the stock for not less than par value as provided in section 16. I consider that part of section 16 providing that a financial statement be filed with each purchaser of stock before he purchases the stock a very good provision.

"I have had occasion to read several bills along these lines since our law was enacted and I wish to congratulate you and your associates on having drafted one of the most efficient and strong bills that I have seen. I will be pleased to have you keep me advised from time to time as to the progress you make with this legislation.

"If I can be of any assistance to you in any way, I will be glad to do so."

WHEAT KING STRICKEN

RICH FARMER OF PALOUSE DIES OF APOPLEXY.

Father of Joe Smith, Newspaperman, Now Living in Seattle, Passes. Tale of Wealth Told.

SPOKANE, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Lillis F. Smith, wheat king of the Palouse district, died today after a stroke of apoplexy at Endicott, Wash. Mr. Smith reached the Palouse country from Missouri nearly 30 years ago, secured a homestead near Endicott and began farming. He was accompanied to Washington Territory by his two nephews, William Huntley, of Spokane, and George Huntley, of Colfax.

In 1897, the turning point of Western Whitman County, Mr. Smith's land produced enough grain to pay off all his indebtedness and leave him more than 2000 acres clear. Since then he has made money rapidly. One year he sold his wheat crop for $46,000, getting a single check for that amount.

Several years ago his health failed and he divided much of his property between his six children—three sons and three daughters. Joe Smith, of Seattle, newspaper writer, is his eldest son.

Mr. Smith served one term in the Legislature and one term as Commissioner of Whitman County. He leaves a widow, three sons, two of them living at Endicott, and Joe at Seattle, and two daughters, Miss Elva Deane and a married daughter at Endicott.
