than 10 companies have been formed since R. L. Philbrick made his experiment several years ago, demonstrating that Eastern seed transplanted to this section would thrive and produce a luscious blivave. Fifty carloads of seed will be planted on the harbor within the next two years.

The Damon Point Oyster Company is planning to harvest the first of the crop this Fall, the crop being planted but three years. The bivalves do as well in Grays Harbor as any place along the Coast, growing to the size of a small oyster. There is a ready market for the entire crop, and as a result many are after choice lands.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Further mystery and possibly another murder follows the tragic death of Jacob Evans, the pioneer of Coos County who knew of the buried Mexican treasure near Coos Bay, and who was shot and killed in his home on South Inlet.

The murder was followed by several queer happenings, and now, to add to the mystery, William Joyner, a neighbor and the man who found Evans dead in his house, has disappeared, and the officers are working on the theory that he has met with foul play.

Joyner lived on the county road leading from Empire to South Inlet, and near to the Evans place. The morning Evans was found dead Joyner expected to drive him to Marshfield, and went to the Evans house and waited for the old man. When Evans and found Evans dead in the kitchen, where he had been shot down.

Joyner was taken before the grand jury together with other residents of the locality, but the investigation did not bring any light upon the mystery of the Evans murder. Not long afterward someone shot at Joyner in the dark while he was standing in front of his house, but the bullet missed.

It is thought that possibly he was killed by someone who had to do with the Evans murder, or that, perhaps, the investigation of the case caused some feeling of revenge.

Sheriff Gage is making a thorough investigation and search for the body, but so far it has not been located. It would have been an easy matter to have disposed of a body, as South Inlet is near the bar, and the body, if thrown into the water, would probably be carried out to sea. It is said that the officers have a clew which may lead to arrests.

PENDLETON TO DRESS UP Residents to Vie With Each Other in Round-Up Decorations. The most elaborate and costly street decorations ever exhibited in Eastern Oregon will adorn the streets of Pendleton at the coming Round-Up.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The time for Washington aspirants for state and county offices to file their declarations with the Secretary of State expired at midnight, last night. More Republican candidates filed declarations than the aggregate total of the candidates in the other two parties.

Five Republicans aspire to the Governorship, as against seven Democrats and one Socialist, a woman, Anna A. Maley, of Everett.

Following is a complete list of candidates that have filed declarations: Governor. Republican—M. E. Hay, Spokane (incumbent); John C. Lawrence, Garfield; Orville Billings, Tacoma; Robert T. Dodge, Seattle; Otto A. Case, Seattle.

POLK NOT BULL MOOSE COUNTY WILL STAND BY TAFT IS BELIEF OF LEADERS. Wilson Has Stronger Following Than Roosevelt—Campaign for Judge Is Biggest Fight.

DALLAS, Or., Aug. 10.—As yet the effects of the "Bull Moose" party have not been felt in Polk County. Possibly this is due to the fact that Old Polk, the Republican stronghold of the state, and one of the two counties of the state that rolled up a majority for Taft in the primaries, is considered too strongly Republican to have any effort made to capture it.

Republican candidates of this county have expressed themselves as being Republicans, first, last and all the time, and they will support the straight Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Woodrow Wilson apparently has more supporters in the county than Roosevelt, but, of course, like in the primaries, little can be learned for certain.

There are many contests in the county that promise to be interesting, but at present a quiet campaign is in progress. However, a rumbling can be heard now, and the storm may break at any time, for over some of the offices feeling runs high, and the lines will be sharply drawn, not upon the principles of Republicanism and Democracy, but upon outside issues entirely.

Mr. Teal's campaign was managed and backed by Democratic leaders, and for that reason many Republicans say they will not support him. However, an effort is being made by other candidates for office, and by the County Central Committee to secure a united effort in behalf of the whole ticket.
