

WOMAN THE OR NOT, THAT IS QUESTION

Bull Moose Convention May Split Over Naming State Ticket.

RODGERS LIKELY WILL RUN

Some Members of Third Party Want to Place Man in Race to Oppose Aitchison - Sentiment is Divided.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special).—When the Progressive party, or Bull Moose convention, is held in Salem next Tuesday it will develop into a fight on whether a state ticket will be placed in the field, and from present appearances chances for such a ticket seem to be decidedly slim.

It is understood that George F. Rodgers, who is talked of as a prospective candidate for Representative in Congress from this district for that party, will bitterly oppose placing a state ticket in the field and will carry his fight to the floor of the convention if necessary.

Other local Bull Moose advocates, who will be present at next Tuesday's meeting, also will fight against that plan. Some local Progressive party members favor a state ticket, but as near as can be ascertained they are badly in the minority.

Aitchison May Be Offered.

Many of them are opposed to the reelection of Clyde B. Aitchison as Railroad Commissioner, from the Second District, but some are doubtful if any attempt will be made here to nominate a man to oppose him. That is an Eastern Oregon and Multnomah County district and should the convention here endeavor to name a man to represent that section it is believed by the leaders here it would develop antagonism from that quarter and would be useless. The principal reason that animosity seems to be directed at Aitchison seems to lie in the fact that he was the only candidate for the position of the Multnomah County Central Committee with the statement that he is a Republican and will stand with that party.

This seems to have aroused some political enmity on the part of the more radical of the third party men, but others are opposed even to attempting to nominate a man to run against Aitchison.

George Rodgers still remains silent as to what he will do in the Congressional race. His close friends say that he will run and that he is awaiting an action of the Congressional convention next Tuesday, believing that he will be nominated there.

What strength he would have in the race against Representative Hawley, the incumbent, is problematical, but the general sentiment here, even in his home city, seems to be that he would meet with an overwhelming defeat at the hands of Mr. Hawley, as Mr. Hawley has shown great strength in the past two elections.

Hawley's Position Strengthening.

Friends of Mr. Hawley also point out that he has been in Congress a sufficient length of time to be securing excellent committee positions and that with each succeeding term he is being entrenched stronger as a big factor in the Lower House for this district.

Mr. Rodgers has been in some portions of the district organizing Bull Moose committees, but none of these meetings have been reported as being overly successful and it is considered barely possible that he may renounce any attempt to nominate him here next Tuesday.

As far as Marion County Progressives are concerned, a factional difference has stirred up some small strife as to whether a county ticket should be placed in the field, and this divided interest of the Marion County delegation may have some bearing on its strength in the state convention.

CAREY JURY HARD TO GET

Ex-Marshall Charged With Murder of Successor at Westfall.

VALE, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special).—Difficultly is being experienced in finding a jury to try Asa Carey, charged with the murder of Jasper Westfall in the town of Westfall, May 10. After exhausting the jury list already a new panel was called and as yet the 12 have not been chosen. The trial was set for September 11.

Much interest is being centered about this trial. About four years ago Carey while he was town marshal, shot and killed Frank Cameron, but was acquitted on the jury list already a new panel was called and as yet the 12 have not been chosen. The trial was set for September 11.

GRADING IS NEARLY DONE

Eugene-Monroe Line May Be Ready for Steel Within Two Weeks.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special).—Grading for the Eugene-Monroe section of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Eugene-Portland line probably will be finished within two weeks. Out of the 24 miles of roadway, eight have been completely graded and with the placing of concrete curbs and a few small bridges, will be ready for the steel. With grading camps covering the remaining work completely there promises to be no difficulty in finishing up the work as required.

On the whole contract there is but a short stretch that required blasting. This is near Monroe, and the powder is now being placed, preparatory to a huge blast the first of the week that is expected to displace 50,000 yards of rock. This material is needed for a fill near the cut.

Willing to Work.

Two wayside pilgrims were talking over things, when one of them asked: "Dick, you ain't a hanker' after no Government place, are you?" "I don't mind sayin' I'd take one of 'em if I could get it," responded the other. "But I don't want no job that's all fat, I'm willin' to earn my wages." "An' what sort of job would be about your size?" "Well, I'd like to fill fountain pens for some assistant Secretary of the Treasury."

EDNA HISLOP IS HOME

FAMILY OF J. INGRAM SHELTER DAUGHTER'S FRIEND.

Detective Hawley Restores Child to Parents Who Promise Not to Treat Her Unkindly.

True to deductions made by Detective Hawley, Edna Hislop, 13 years old, missing since Tuesday from her home at 805 Rodney avenue, was secured in the house of a neighbor. She was restored to her parents yesterday. The family of J. Ingram, 384 Monroe street, had harbored her. Learning that a boy was seen slipping a note under the door of the Hislop home, telling the parents that the girl was in good hands, Detective Hawley pursued his inquiries among the boys of the neighborhood until he found who the messenger was. It proved to be one of the Ingram family. When he arrived at the house, the detective found the Ingrams on the point of communicating the facts to someone. He had sheltered the girl after their daughter, a schoolmate, had invited her to leave home and live with them. They were given to believe that the child was mistreated at home. At the Hislop home there was great joy when Hawley led the lost child to the door. He counseled that it would not be wise to discipline her for the escapade, and the parents readily agreed with this view. The girl left home Tuesday, after an attempt by her mother to punish her. Immediate appeals were made to the police, but all efforts to find the child were fruitless until yesterday.

"Business conditions in the East are most satisfactory, and indications point to an era of prosperity," said Edgar W. Smith, Oregon manager of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, who has returned from a trip to New York and other Eastern cities. "Politics is not cutting much of a figure with trade. This is evident when it is shown that the demand for virtually all finished products is much better than it was at this time last year. "The Middle West will be unusually prosperous this year. In Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas there are immense crops of wheat, oats and fruit. Weather conditions have been favorable all year in that section. In the west-growing sections of Canada, big crops were grown, but more or less damage was done by the rains. "Oregon is being well advertised in the East, and hundreds of people are now planning to come to this state and

AUTOMOBILE RIDER HELD

Man Charged With Using Car Without Owner's Consent.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special).—In the Justice Court today David Bulshaw was held under $25 bail to await the action of the Circuit Court grand jury on a charge of using an automobile without the consent of the owner. The defendant and three others were arrested for taking an automobile, which was standing on Commercial street, and going on a joyride, during which they had a collision and damaged the machine. The three others settled the case against them by paying $75 each to repair the damage and $25 court costs. A warrant has been issued for another young man, who was a member of the party, but he has not yet been apprehended.
