

DYNAMITE "ECHO" PLOTTED, IS CHARGE

Prosecutor Says McNamaras Had New Scheme Soon After Times Explosion.

HOCKIN IS NEW INFORMER

Man Regarded as Next in Importance to President Ryan Said to Have Joined McManigal in Betraying Others.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 5.—Five days after the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building, when 21 persons were killed, a plot was considered by the McNamaras to cause a similar explosion on the Atlantic Coast.

Charles W. Miller, United States District Attorney, who is conducting the prosecution of the accused "dynamite plotters" before Federal Judge Anderson, so asserted in a report to the government's outline of the case before the jury today. Mr. Miller said Orlie E. McManigal had been selected to do the job and was sent East from Indianapolis to Massachusetts.

Echo Wanted in East.

Mr. Miller's narrative of this particular charge was as follows: "McManigal had been down to High Bridge, Ky., to see about blowing up a structure there. He arrived back in Indianapolis on the morning of October 2. That was the day after the Los Angeles Times was blown up. McManigal first read about it in an Indianapolis newspaper. He called John J. McNamara on the telephone.

"Now, what I want is an echo of the Times explosion in the East, so as to make 'em sit up," McNamara said to him. "But I want you to change that alias of J. W. McGraw." It then was arranged for McManigal to go East and cause the "echo" of the Times disaster.

$11,000 Declared Appropriated.

Mr. Miller said McManigal traveled about the East with explosives in a suitcase, finally blowing up a railroad bridge at Worcester, Mass., on October 10.

As showing, as he said, that the officials and executive board members of the Ironworkers' Union were aware of the explosions and were appropriating money for the expense of carrying them on, Mr. Miller quoted from books which he said were taken from the union headquarters.

Those records, he declared, showed that $11,000 was appropriated at a meeting of the executive board held in Indianapolis December 8, 1908, and was paid out at the rate of $1000 monthly to John J. McNamara, with the specific understanding that McNamara was to use it to defray the expenses of dynamiting.

Mr. Miller declared that Herbert S. Hockin, said to be one of the "dynamite" crew, had given information against the other defendants.

"Hockin has been double crossing everybody," said Miller. "He not only double-crossed McNamara, but he even double-crossed the union. He has been double-crossing the other defendants. I will tell you all about it later."

All the other 45 defendants looked toward Hockin, who sat in their midst, his head buried in a newspaper.

Next to Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' Union, Hockin has been considered the most prominent of the defendants.

Long before the Los Angeles Times building was blown up, Miller declared, a quarrel between McNamara, Hockin and James E. McNamara over the fixed price which was to be paid for dynamiting jobs, occurred, and McManigal threatened to expose the others.

Miller narrates the alleged quarrel as follows: "McManigal said: 'I have a notion to quit this business and give it away. If you do, your life won't be worth much,' replied Hockin.

McManigal's Money Held Back. "Hockin had been keeping back part of McManigal's money. They patched up their differences, James E. McNamara going to California and doing his destructive work there. Just as soon as the Government investigation began here, Hockin began to double-cross the union by personally bringing evidence directly to the Federal building."

Hockin formerly lived in Detroit. McManigal was working on a building there in 1907 when, according to his confession, he was first introduced by Hockin to go into the dynamiting business. McManigal had worked in a stone quarry, and it was because of his familiarity with explosives that Hockin sought him, he said.

Seattle Union Men Subpoenaed.

SEATTLE, Oct. 5.—Scott Hodotz, business agent of the Seattle local of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Union, and Henry Pohnman, an ironworker, who is business agent of the Seattle Building Trades Council, were subpoenaed today to appear in Indianapolis not later than October 14 to testify in the "dynamiting" trial.

Band of 50 in Sonora Accepts Amnesty Offered by Madero.

CANANEA, Sonora, Mex., Oct. 5.—A remnant of the rebel forces in the State of Sonora, 15 men, led by Isidoro Escobedo, gave themselves up today to federal authorities here, surrendering their rifles and accepting the amnesty recently offered by President Madero. Escobedo since last May has given the federal troops a lively chase. The condition of the rebels was pitiable. They suffered greatly for want of food and clothing.

RAINS MAROON SCIENTISTS

Visiting Savants Must Wait for Arizona Waters to Subside.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 5.—The 65 European scientists who have been touring the United States as the guests of the American Geographical Society were marooned today by heavy rains at Roosevelt dam. The party left here yesterday in automobiles to visit the dam.

The rains have so swollen the creeks that passage back will be impossible until the waters subside.

Newspaper Warehouse Burns.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—The warehouse of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror company, publishers of the Times, burned late today, entailing a loss of about $25,000. The stock of print paper stored in the warehouse with other supplies, was entirely destroyed.

Salt Lake Police Make Arrests in Mysterious Case—Man Killed Would Have Been Witness Against Suspect.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 5.—A taxicab, a mysterious woman and revolver shots at midnight figured in the murder of Thomas E. White, a public chauffeur, whose body was found in his car early today. Two arrests have been made.

The police gathered statements from various witnesses that a man had made inquiries on the previous evening as to White's hours of duty; that a veiled woman in a dark cloak entered White's car at midnight; that two shots were heard at 12:15 A. M. near Third and East Ninth South streets, where the car and its dead driver were found.

Looking for the man who snatched the cab stand, the officers took into custody Caleb A. Inlow, Superintendent of Schools at Upper Hingham, Utah. Inlow had been arrested five days before for the burglary of a house and for stealing a valuable collection of minerals. His arrest was due to information given the police by White, who said he had taken a passenger to and from the house where the burglary occurred.

The schoolmaster gave bond and was preparing for a trial at which White was expected to be the principal witness for the state.

Then the woman at whose place Inlow roomed, told detectives that she had borrowed a coat and an automobile veil last night and came back with her husband about 1 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Inlow was taken to police headquarters for questioning.

VALE PROJECT ON SOON

Bully Creek Irrigation Work Has Sufficient Funds.

VALE, Or., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Word has just been received here that available funds have been secured from Eastern concerns sufficient to construct the Bully Creek irrigation project, which has been hanging fire for several months. This news comes from D. M. Brogan, who is now in the East and to whose untiring efforts this project has been made possible. Mr. Rigby, of this place, who is connected with Mr. Brogan in this enterprise, left for Boise today to let the contract to parties there. Work will begin as soon as possible.

This bit of news, while the details are not yet fully known, has caused much interest here. The dam will be constructed in the canyon about two miles above the town of Westfall and the reservoir, when completed, will furnish water for about 40,000 acres of now arid land, all of which is in the vicinity of Vale. Twenty thousand acres have already been signed up for water. This enterprise, in connection with the railroad work, will make Vale one of the busiest centers in Eastern Oregon.

AMERICAN FORCES VICTORS

Retary Huntington Wilson served formal notice upon the Nicaraguan government of the policy of the United States "to take measures for an adequate league guard at Managua; to keep open communications and to protect American life and property."

The Nicaraguan government had already declared its willingness and even its earnest desire that the United States should act, finding itself fully engaged in fighting the rebels.

State Department officials are fully prepared for any adverse criticism of the use of the American naval forces. The answer probably will be given in an elaborate memorandum to be sent to all who write him.—Adv.

Prisoner Is Mute and Circumstantial Story Told by O'Keefe, ex-Convict, Is Unsubstantiated by Authorities.

After four days of combing Portland and vicinity for some evidence to connect Tom C. Maxey with the murder of Harry Barr, who was shot and killed on the Linnon road September 16, the police ordered the release of the suspect yesterday. He departed from detective headquarters with a hearty handshake for his captors, with whom he is on the best of terms.

Maxey, who was arrested a week ago at Seattle by Detective Vaughn, had passed a week in the city jail with sealed lips, and his attitude for a time gave support to the suspicion against him, but his reticence can be accounted for by his probable knowledge of other things which he did not desire known. His maximum sentence at San Quentin Penitentiary is not yet out, and even minor delinquencies, if discovered, might be disastrous to him.

MORAL CRUSADE IN CHICAGO TAKES NEW TURN.

Warrants Issued for Trust Company Officials Charged With Renting Property for Evil Use.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The first warrants for the arrest of persons charged with renting property in this city for immoral purposes were issued today and were given to officers for service. They are for Harrison B. Riley, president of the Chicago Title & Trust Company and Justice M. Dall, secretary of the company. Both are prominent in business and society.

A summons for the Chicago Title & Trust Company also was issued, the charge in all three instances being that the corporation and the men named are trustees of property leased for immoral purposes.

States' Attorney Wayman announced that on Monday 50 or more informations for the arrest of party owners would be filed.

It is the intention of Mr. Wayman not to prosecute the inmates of the houses.

One Time Chief Resident at Celebes Jailed at Vancouver, B. C.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 5.—Weak from the effects of drugs and fever, with his mind wandering, Hendrick Cecil Burke, who was once chief resident of the Dutch government on the island of Celebes, Malay Archipelago, lies in the Vancouver City Jail today with a charge of vagrancy resting against him.

Burke, who is more than 60 years old, and but a drifting derelict, was found late last night muttering incoherently to himself in half forgotten Malay dialects, and apparently suffering from an overdose of strychnine.

Burke was born of Dutch-Irish parentage in the islands, and educated in the best colleges of Holland. He acted in various high and influential positions in the archipelago for many years, finally being appointed chief resident of Celebes.

New Method of Flesh Reduction Proves Astonishingly Successful.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 5.—Investigation has fully established that Hon. H. T. Stetler, of this city, has reduced his weight 57 pounds in an incredibly short time by wearing a simple, invisible device, weighing less than an ounce. This, when worn as directed, acts as an infallible flesh reducer, dispensing with dieting, medicines and exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this easy means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Professor D. W. Burns, of 17 West Thirty-eighth street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him.—Adv.

Republicans Want to Deliver 30-Minute Talk to Workers.

Hoping to cope with the general misrepresentation that has been made of President Taft, his policies and his attitude towards the workingmen, Robert C. Wright, chairman of the Republican county central committee, has written the managements of the large labor-employing concerns of Portland and vicinity requesting that they designate a period of 30 minutes to be allowed in which speakers representing the county organization may address the workmen.

At the same time Chairman Wright has appealed to accredit the Republican members of the city to contribute their services to the campaign in order that a full complement of speakers may be provided for these meetings.

Commission Checks Freight Bills.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—In the chance of saving money for the State of Oregon the Railroad Commission today notified Secretary of State Ottcott that it would be pleased to check up the freight bills on all freight recently received by the state. It would also assist in collecting should any overcharge be located. The latter says that similar services are rendered to thousands of Oregon shippers during the year.

SOME people look at necessary expenditures entirely the wrong way. They figure to save the few dollars that, if properly spent, would be worth hundreds or thousands to them. One man saves a carfare; and misses his train. Another saves the cost of house paint; and ruins the house. Another saves the price of good clothes; and goes around shabby. They all pay:—sometimes in cash, often in serious loss.
