

LOWELL APPEALS TO YOUNG VOTERS

First-Time Balloters Told to Realize Importance of Modern Issues.

STAY IN PARTY, HE SAYS

Prominent Oregon Politician Warns Against Putting Democrats in Power — Selling's Fitness Is Highly Extolled.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 26. — (Special.)—At Milton today Judge Stephen A. Lowell made a special appeal to the young men, especially those casting their first ballot, of the county to give serious consideration to the conditions which would be brought about if Wilson were elected, declaring another great panic similar to 1893, and tinkering with the tariff, will result if a Democrat goes into the White House next term. A strong plea was made for all progressive Republicans to remain in the party, stating that a "house divided against itself cannot stand."

At Freewater Lowell spoke to a large crowd, endorsing heartily Selling for Senator and Taylor for President. In the event a Democratic President should be elected, Judge Lowell sees urgent need to retain the Senate safe as a protective tariff body, standing for reasonable protective principles, reasonable protection for American labor, industry and productions and yet for such reduction of the tariff as will make its benefits just to all. Mr. Lowell endorsed Ben Selling for the next Senator from Oregon.

Bourne Hated as Unfit
Bourne he hated as unfit because he could not be trusted, and Lane because of his weakness, of the Democratic party, which is a low tariff organization, leaning toward a tariff for revenue only. At Milton Judge Lowell said in part:

"You are about to exercise, perhaps for the first time, the highest privilege of American citizenship, the right to vote, and before you approach the ballot booth there may well be a season of thoughtful reflection. Do not ask yourself in the light of the Nation's history, 'For what do I stand, and how shall I cast my vote to make it count largest for the perpetuity of the great Republic and the prosperity of its people?'"

Learn the Truth, He Says.

"Before you vote for Wilson and Marshall it will be best for you to have a quiet conference with your fathers or other thoughtful men of middle life, and learn the truth as to the clouds and thick darkness which compassed this land during the last Democratic Administration, from 1893 to 1897. The only lamp to light your pathway is that of human experience. Do not accept as unquestioned truth the utterances of newpapers and platform orators who declare that the business and industrial world is declining to fear from Democratic triumph. The most of them told us the same story when Grover Cleveland was a candidate, and we found them false. Do not let your bitter, woeful, destructive, heart-breaking, come then. I, for one, do not care to try the experiment again. It may be that some of you have been hypnotized by the unique conception and theatrical birth of the candidacy of Roosevelt and Johnson. If so, I appeal to you to go back to your history before you vote, and know the decline and fall of the popular government of the past. If Roosevelt is now elected, the safe administration of Washington and Jefferson that eight years should be the limit of any man in the Presidency will die, and the Republic will begin its career as a republic. Such is the lesson of history."

"And another thing. You have a lifetime before you. Would you like a fair opportunity to carve out for yourself an industrial, commercial or business career? Are you interested in a fair opportunity and a square deal for the average man? If so, you should hesitate long before you endorse the Roosevelt scheme for legalizing the vast trusts of the country. They are a menace to industrial liberty and business opportunity now."

Old Party Offers Most.

"To my mind, and I speak as a radical progressive, the surest promise for the young man in America, for restoration of opportunity for the man of small means, for perpetuity of the Government of the people, for National prosperity, for the triumph of the progressive principles, is to support Taft and Sherman. If the progressive Republicans remain within the party, they will occupy a vantage point in the party councils when the smoke has rolled away, and their influence will ultimately leave the loaf of our political life. They are the men of principles, and a house divided against itself cannot stand."

At Freewater Judge Lowell said in part:

"Oregon's interests clearly require the election of Ben Selling, Republican direct primary nominee, to the United States Senate."
"As election day approaches men are foregoing indulgence in theory, getting away from the hypnotism of new issues and spectacular candidates, and are realizing the responsibility of citizenship. It is now the period when each man must consider his own interests, view his pocketbook, and weigh the claims of candidates in the balance of his own experience."

Selling Not Theoretical.

"Therefore the drift is to the Republican ticket, not because it is Republican, for party harness hangs loosely these days, but because upon the basis of every-day experience its policies have been found to benefit the country as a whole, and to make for better lives, better wages, freer circulation of money and for public confidence. The party is far from perfect, but it is a mighty sight better than experiment."
"Upon this basis thinking voters of all parties are finally likely to cast their ballots for Ben Selling because it is realized that he is not dealing in any theoretic tariff policies, and that, because of possible loss of the Presidency, it will be the part of wisdom to keep an anchor to the windward, and retain the Senate safe as a protective tariff body."

"Bourne was in the Senate when the extravagant Payne-Adrich bill was enacted, and permitted Aldrich to substantially vote his as a rubber stamp. He cannot be trusted to stand for the interests of the great producing West. He is Massachusetts manufacturer and his interests are in cheap raw materials. He will not do."

INDIANS BENEFIT BY LAW

Representative Hawley Proud of Progress on Siletz Reservation.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—After a visit to the Siletz Indian Reservation, Representative Hawley expresses himself as highly gratified at the results which have been achieved through the passage of a bill he pushed through the house in the Sixty-first Congress, providing for the sale of five sections of timber lands belonging to the Indians. The proceeds of these sales are used for their benefit, and a townsite was provided for in the bill. The act is now being put into effect, and Mr. Hawley states that it will do much toward promoting the peace and development of the community. He declares that the majority of the Indians are capable men and competent to handle their own affairs. Mr. Hawley is urging that greater responsibilities be given them by the Government in caring for themselves. Ill-founded suspicions of Government officials have also caused many of the homestead entries on the Siletz considerable trouble and Mr. Hawley is working to secure consideration as early as possible of all cases now pending in the Siletz which are ready to proceed to patent.

Mr. Hawley discovered while in Lincoln County that harbor lights on the jetty are badly needed at Toledo, there being more than 100 motorboats that use the Yaquina waterway and the lack of lights results in considerable danger. Representative Hawley has taken this matter up with the Light-house Board of the Department of Commerce and Labor, asking that lights be supplied for the jetty, especially for the lower one.

WOMAN RESENTS SEARCH

Stewardess on Liner Persia Is Indignant.

"Inspector" Accused of Subjecting Female Employee of Vessel to Indignities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. M. V. Lawrence, who for years has been a customs "inspector" in the water front, has been cited to appear before Customs Collector Stratton to answer charges made against her by Mrs. Jessie Showen, stewardess on the Pacific Mail liner Persia.

Mrs. Showen, in a lengthy communication to the collector, complains that she was subjected to indignities by the woman customs searcher. The stewardess dwells in detail upon the alleged insults.

There are two women inspectors, Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Sadie E. Adams, who search the ship's stewardesses and all women passengers who may be suspected of having dutiable articles secreted on their persons. The stewardesses and other women have frequently complained of the manner in which the inspectors have searched their rooms and persons, but Mrs. Showen is the first to make formal complaint to the collector of the port.

Collector Stratton said today that his instructions had always been that no woman coming from a foreign port should be subjected to a personal search unless there was well-founded suspicion of smuggling. He said a full investigation would be made.

POLICE CHIEF ON STAND

Removal of Trademark From Dynamite Attributed to J. J. McNamara — Specially Designed Suitcase Is Shown.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—Alarm clocks, gumshoes, nitro-glycerine cans, tags from dynamite packages and wires were produced at the "dynamite" conspiracy trial today, and identified by Martin J. Hyland, chief of police of Indianapolis, as having been taken from the vault of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers the night J. J. McNamara was arrested.

Photographs of packages of dynamite also were identified by Chief Hyland. All the exhibits introduced by the government to sustain its contention that the 45 defendants now on trial are equally guilty with the McNamara brothers and Orle E. McNamara, secretary of the union, were piled in heaps before the jury.

Search Protested by Ryan. Chief Hyland testified that on the night of April 22, 1911, when McNamara, secretary of the union, was arrested, President Ryan and other defendants were present. The witness said Ryan had protested against a search of the union's vaults before a warrant was procured.

Out of a vault in the basement of the office building the witness testified, four packages containing stilles of dynamite, fuse and other articles were taken. "I now hand you a package, State whether it was taken out of that vault," said James W. Noel, special counsel for the government.

Alarm Clocks Identified. "Yes, it was. It contains 14 alarm clocks," replied Chief Hyland. The witness showed the jury. They are said by the government to be part of those used by the dynamiters in causing explosions. Several hours long bombs to explode several hours after they had been planted, as was after they had been planted in the Times building. Chief Hyland described how on information given by McNamara, secretly under arrest in Chicago, he drove to a farm near Indianapolis and there in a barn found nitro-glycerine and dynamite packed in sawdust.

"Did you notice anything particular about the dynamite?" Chief Hyland, was asked. "Yes, I noticed the trademark on each stick had been cut off," McNamara, in his confession said J. J. McNamara, becoming uneasy over the loss of life at Los Angeles and fearing they would capture James B. had cut off the trademarks with a knife.

Among other exhibits shown the jury was a suitcase referred to by the government as having been especially designed to carry a 13-quart can of nitro-glycerine on passenger trains and as having been bought by Henry

W. Leggett, of Denver, a member of the union's executive board, from Pittsburg to Indianapolis.

MOTHER GETS CHILD

Partial Victory Won by Mrs. Virginia Clark-Tanner.

CUSTODY IS RESTRICTED

Widow of Titanic Victim, Now Married Again, Must Permit Son to Visit Paternal Grandparents Every Day.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Virginia McDowell Clark-Tanner regained possession today of her baby son, J. Ross Clark II, for whose custody the child's grandfather, J. Ross Clark, the millionaire railroad man, had obtained a court order six weeks ago, immediately upon learning of the mother's remarriage. The court revoked the order that had been previously made by Judge Rivers, after hearing brief arguments on Mrs. Tanner's suit.

Mrs. Tanner was the widow of Walter Miller Clark, who lost his life when the liner Titanic struck an iceberg in mid-ocean last April and foundered. She was married to "Jack" Tanner, a New York club man, six weeks ago on a visit East. She had left her baby boy here and when the grandfather learned of the marriage he immediately instituted proceedings to establish his legal guardianship over the child's person and property.

Meantime Mrs. Tanner went with her husband to Europe, but returned two days ago and at once brought suit to regain her boy.

The order restoring the child to Mrs. Tanner is temporary, and Mrs. Tanner's custody of the baby is restricted. He will live at the home of Mrs. Tanner's mother, and the court instructed the nurse, Mrs. Margaret Hoffner, to take him to visit his grandparents, the Clarks, every day.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CATHARTICS AREN'T FOR YOU.

Harmless, Gentle "Syrup of Figs" Is Best to Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Decaying Food, Gases and Clogged-Up Waste.

You old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercise would do if you look enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.
