

HODGE DENIES HE TOOK CLOTHES IN WASHINGTON

"It Was I Who Took Clothes In" Declares Washington Candidate.

"MATE DID FRILLS ONLY"

Aspirant to Governorship Denounces Attacks on Private Life to Large Audience in Spokane—John L. Wilson Is Arraigned.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—"A blatant lie," was the reply that Robert T. Hodge, Progressive candidate for Governor, made here Friday night before 1500 people to the charge that his wife had taken clothes to take in washing to support him.

"It was I that took the washing in," he said. "That was down in Coeur d'Alene when the laundry burned down. I went around town and gathered up dirty clothes and brought them home and washed them. Of course, when there were some fancy things with frills my wife washed them, but I did the bulk of the work with these two hands" and he hung them out in front of him. "These charges will act like a boomerang," he declared, "for those so cowardly and so low as to stoop to such an attack. Denunciations against me are coming to me now.

"Look at those people who make the charges against me," he continued. "There is M. A. Morgan, Pleasanton, Ore., they call him. He took the hospitality of my family for months, he borrowed money and never paid it back, and now, because his conscience is troubling him, he is attacking me. That's the kind of people that are attacking me.

Sons Are Hurt, He Says. "I've been placed on the defensive wherever I go. I have to devote most of my speeches to talking about myself. When they made these charges they knew they were absolutely false. By doing this they are not only hurting my wife that was, but my boys."

Hodge denounced in ringing words those who have brought charges against his private life. While he did not overlook Progressive principles and the Progressive platform, taking some of the more important measures up singly for discussion, the main body of Hodge's address had to deal with the accusations published in the papers of the Coast.

Wilson Is Arraigned. Hodge plunged into the thing right at the outset, and then, after a few brief paragraphs, he leaned far over the footlights and, with fist clenched, shouted "I refuse to discuss from the public platform any of my private affairs," the big crowd broke forth in a long cheer.

The rally at the South Central High School was the big state rally of the Progressives. F. M. Goodwin, candidate for Congress, from this district, and Governor Teas, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, also delivered addresses.

Hodge arraigned ex-Senator John L. Wilson, E. A. Perkins, and to a lesser degree Governor Hay. "The Progressive party will come through with a majority of 30,000 or 40,000," declared Mr. Hodge. "I have dared these men to make charges against me under the guise of a newspaper to come up on the platform with me and make them. I have offered to defend myself in public, but they have not responded to my money to make such accusations and use the newspapers as have these enemies—more money than I have got. John L. Wilson has offered me inducements to quit this race. I will never quit until I am either elected or defeated."

TEACHERS FAVOR CHANGE

Clackamas County School League Declares for State Textbooks.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—J. A. Calavan, one of the county school supervisors was elected president of the Clackamas County School League at a meeting in Willamette today. John R. Howland was elected vice-president; Carl F. Anderson, treasurer; John L. Aston, secretary, and Malcolm Woodie, of Estacada, and Jean Mitts, of Canby, were elected student members of the executive committee. The other members of the committee are County Superintendent Gary and the officers of the league.

A resolution urging a change in text books in grammar, spelling, penmanship and reading was adopted. It was also suggested that the state should publish the text books for the county schools, which met with the unanimous approval of those present. A resolution providing for a committee to be appointed to arrange a banquet for the men principals and teachers to organize the debating and other speaking contests was adopted. The banquet will be held in a week or two.

A parent-teachers meeting was held also at Willamette today. Dr. Coleman, professor of Pathology in Reed College, made the principal address. "Picture Study" was the subject of an interesting address by Miss Winnie Hewitt and Miss Lena Elen Rendell a solo. "The High School Fund Law" and "What Can Parents Do to Help Schools" were subjects for general discussion. The attendance was large and the women of Willamette provided an excellent dinner at noon.

ALBANY PLANTS SUNFISH

Two Lakes Near Willamette Valley City Get First Lot.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Five hundred small sunfish have been planted in two lakes near this city. It is believed to be the first time sunfish were ever introduced into any waters in the Willamette valley. The fish were secured from the Government by officers of the First National Bank of this city, through the efforts of Representative Hawley and were planted by A. C. Schmitt, Charles Stewart and Clinton Archibald. Half of the fish were placed in Third Lake, about two miles north of Albany, and the remainder in Horseshoe Lake, southwest of the city.

A number of channel catfish were planted in the Willamette River here by F. J. Baltimore of this city, to whom the fish were sent by the Government at the instance of United States Senator Chamberlain.

CORNERSTONE IS PLACED

Spokane Hides Current Documents in New City Hall Foundation.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—In accordance with the impulsive usage of the Masonic order the cornerstone of the new City Hall at Front avenue and Wall street was lowered into place this afternoon under the direction of Frank N. McCandless, of Tacoma, grand master of the Masons of Washington. Mayor Hindley, himself a past master of the Masons, delivered a short talk. The five city commissioners occupied seats on the platform. Mayor Hindley hinted briefly at the problems the city government had to overcome in its quarters. The old City Council having sold the present City Hall to the railroad, and the people have refused to approve in general the original plans for a fireproof building to cost $500,000.

The present building will cost only about $300,000, and was decided upon only after the commissioners found it would be cheaper than renting quarters in some down-town building and allowing the new site, purchased by

STRIKING MINERS IN RIOT

Sheriff Called to Quell Outbreak at Renton, Wash., Coal Mines.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 26.—Reports of rioting among striking miners at the Renton coal mine of the Puget Sound Electric Light & Power company caused the Sheriff's office to send two deputies to assist in preserving order. It was reported that windows had been broken and a Deputy Sheriff struck by a striker. The officer paid no attention to the attack on himself, it was said, and succeeded in preventing much damage. Reports received from the mine tonight said that further trouble was not expected. Two hundred strike-breakers employed in the mine are housed in a stockade.

Sunday School Teachers to Meet.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—A Sunday School teachers' educational institute will be held in this city November 2, 3 and 4. The institute will be held in the First Christian Church and the instructors will be Rev. J. D. Springston, Ph. D., of Portland, Baptist educational director for the North Pacific Coast; Rev. Miles B. Fisher, of San Francisco, Congregational secretary for the Pacific Coast; Rev. A. M. Williams, of Portland, Presbyterian educational superintendent for the Pacific Northwest; Rev. F. E. STRAHORN IS GUEST

Albany Pays Respects at Banquet to Railroad Head.

LINE TO COAST FORESEEN

Electricification of Harriman Territory in Willamette Valley to Be Duplicate of That in California if Possible.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Robert E. Strahorn, president of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railroad, was the guest of the Albany Commercial Club at a banquet in the St. Francis Hotel here last night. Sixty prominent business men attended the banquet and assured President Strahorn of the co-operation of Albany people in the plan of the railroad in carrying forward the development of old lines and the construction of new ones radiating from this city.

"We used to hear that the Harriman people were going to build a new railroad," said Tommaster Van Winkle, "and would remark that we had heard that before very often and as usual there was nothing doing. But this man Strahorn comes down here and puts men in the field before we hear of it. We like the new system."

Preceding the banquet Mr. Strahorn met the business men of the city in an informal reception. Accompanying him were T. L. Billingsley, general superintendent, and Mark Woodruff, publicity man of the road. J. B. Eddy, tax and right of way agent of the Southern Pacific, was in the city and also attended the banquet. J. S. Van Winkle, president of the Albany Commercial Club, presided at the banquet, and P. D. Gilbert, Mayor of Albany, welcomed the railway officials.

Duplication Is Planned. Mr. Strahorn said, in opening his talk, that he hoped to duplicate the Harriman system of electric lines in Southern California in the Willamette Valley. He said there was 1000 miles of electric roads there and that the prospect which the Willamette Valley has for development indicate such a system here. He urged a spirit of co-operation rather than antagonism between the people and the railroads.

President Strahorn said that not only the agricultural opportunities and natural resources were here to stimulate the construction of electric lines, but that the country has splendid coast and mountain resorts, mineral springs and opportunities for hunting and fishing to bring traffic to such lines.

The necessity of the subdivision of big farming lands to develop traffic and encourage the construction of electric lines was emphasized by the speaker. He spoke of the needs of intensive cultivation also and told how by bringing in new people and bringing the land up to a higher standard of development. Such lines also bring the city and country closer together and raise the standard of living in both.

Willamette Valley Lauded. "The Willamette Valley is the finest territory of its extent on the globe," said President Strahorn, "and is thoroughly adapted to intensive cultivation and development by the trolley. If we co-operate along this line we will have that thousand miles of electric line in the Willamette Valley almost before we know it."

Speaking of plans for railroad development in this part of the state, President Strahorn said it was the intention of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern to get into Albany at the earliest possible date by the best possible route. He said the road would develop new territory at the same time as of paralleling other roads in reaching this city. He said a new line would be built on the west side of the Willamette River from West Salem to get into Albany at the earliest possible date by the best possible route. He said the road would be built from Wellsville to Albany.

He said he looked forward to the time when the Corvallis & Eastern line would be electrified from Albany to the coast. He said that project was not being considered now, but that if the Summer traffic to Newport and Yaquina Bay grows sufficiently and the land between this city and the greatest era of development in the valley's history in the next few years.

Mark Woodruff said that the initials of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railroad meant "Prosperity Everywhere and Everybody Reaching." He urged co-operation and said that this railroad was putting $12,000,000 into the Willamette Valley and was asking for nothing but a square deal.

Others who spoke were Colonel J. B. Eddy, right of way agent of the Southern Pacific; Mark Woodruff, publicity man of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern; J. K. Weatherford, president of the Corvallis & Eastern; Dr. J. P. Woodruff, ex-Mayor of Albany, and Dr. W. H. Davis, also an ex-Mayor of this city. All discussed the past and future of railroad building in the Willamette Valley and foretold the greatest era of development in the valley's history in the next few years.

25-CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

Don't Pay 50c for Worthless Hair Tonics—Use Old, Reliable, Harmless "Danderine"—Get Results.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is a mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which, if not remedied, causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.
