

STYLES SHAMEFUL, SAYS MRS. PALMER

Chicago Woman Arraigns Fair Sex of Europe for Immodesty in Dress.

IS SHE A MOOSETTE? NAY

Politics Not for Her, She Asserts. Annual Denial Also Made That Her Home Will Be Sold and Hotel Erected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—"In Europe the prevailing styles for women are just as ridiculous and outrageous as ever. Modesty seemingly has been lost sight of in the desire to get the bizarre effects. Many of the costumes worn by women in Europe as I have seen them are disgraceful, to put it mildly. This was the message brought back to Chicago today by Mrs. Potter Palmer. "Is there any cure for these extreme styles?" she was asked. "I'm sure I do not know," was the laughing answer. I suppose, though, in a circle just as we always do and that things gradually will right themselves.

More Sensible Gowns Hoped For.

"I hope that in a short time women's gowns will be built on better lines and not according to prevailing styles. I hope that women will become more sensible in their ideas of dress and that gradually they will learn to pay less attention to the modes of the minute and more to the cut of gowns that will best suit the individuality of each woman. That change is coming, I think. The day of the prevailing extreme styles, to say nothing of the immodest style, will soon be ended."

"How about election, Mrs. Palmer? Are you a 'Moosette'?"

"Merely no," she shouted. "Don't accuse me of being that. Why should you? Please do not ask me to discuss politics. I am not a politician."

"Another thing," she continued. "Please make the annual denial that our home here is to be sold and that a hotel is going up on the site. It is not going to be sold and I never have had any intention of selling it. It is home for me. "I see, too, that in my absence I have been accused of being a follower of Hanish. I am not. I attended one of his lectures once, and that was all. I was not interested in the man or his teachings."

ACTRESS IS FIRE VICTIM

SECOND BODY IN ST. LOUIS HOTEL FIRE IDENTIFIED.

Ruins Now Searched for Body of Mrs. C. K. McFadden—St. Louis Financier Also Killed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 2.—The second body found this afternoon in the ruins of Berlin Hotel, which was destroyed by fire early today, was identified tonight as that of Mrs. Helen Harrington-Shepard-Conley-Abeles, former actress and stenographer and divorced wife of James Abeles, son of a wealthy St. Louis family. The body was first identified as that of Mrs. C. K. McFadden, a patron of the hotel and tonight the ruins were searched for Mrs. McFadden's body, as she has not been seen since the fire. Mrs. Abeles was married three times. She and Abeles separated and later she had him arrested on an abandonment charge. The case was dropped and the suit against her father-in-law was dismissed after a settlement was reached. Later Abeles obtained a divorce. Mrs. McFadden lived in a room adjoining that of Mrs. Abeles and that part of the building collapsed soon after the fire started. W. C. Douglas, a St. Louis financier, was also burned to death in the hotel fire and 29 persons were injured.

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

Coryza-Influenza

The uncertainties of Autumn weather have caused an epidemic of Influenza and Coryza, according to the Health Department.

It especially affects persons of advanced age and men and women whose constitutions had been previously weakened.

It is known by lassitude, shiverings, weight in the head, sneezing, watery eyes, obstruction of nostrils, followed by cough, hoarseness and sore throat, pains and soreness of limbs, fever, loss of appetite.

It is not when the body is hot, but when it is cooling that it is most susceptible.
