DEMOCRATS EAGER TO GATHER PLUMS

Friends of Bert Haney Insist He Should Receive First Consideration.

WILL R. KING STANDS HIGH

National Committeeman Expected to Have Much to Say in Giving Out Jobs to Hungry Politicians of Oregon.

Andrew Jackson's declaration "to the Andrew Jackson's declaration "to the victor's belong the spoils" has become the popular slogan of Oregon's Democracy. Aspiring officeseekers among the Democrats, long separated from the Pederat payroll, are already clamoring for one or the other of a dozen julcy Government jobs in this state. They are hoping, even praying, that the Republicans will continue to remain at outs regarding overdue appointments, that these jobs may be peddled out to voracious Democrats by Wilson on the recommendation of the two Democratic Senators.

There is a possibility that the Republican Administration and Senator Bourne may agree on a division of the appointments to be made and confirmed before the inauguration of Wilson and the convening of the Democratic Congress next March. It is strongly suspected that negotiations are in progress looking to a settleemnt of these differences. It is also understood that the only terms under which Nathat the only terms under which Na-tional Committeeman Williams will consent to compromising the situation with Bourne is that he be allowed to name the United States Marshal, Col-lector of Customs and Collector of Internal Revenue for the Portland dis-

Chamberlain May Block Game.

But even if the Republicaps do get together and decide upon appointments, Senator Chamberlain may be expected senator Chamberlain may be expected to exert his every energy on one pretext and another to block their confirmation by the Senate in December. Senator Chamberlain is just as desirous of naming these officeholders himself as innumerable Oregon Democrats are ager to get on Uncle Sam's payroll. Besides, Senator Chamberlain would like to have the active support of a troup of well-paid Federal officeholders when he comes up for re-election iwo years hence.

If Bourne and Williams can get together and with the President parcel out the jobs to the friends of both on something like an equal division, the commissions issued will hold good for four years, and the hopes of Democrats for the same jobs in this state will be deferred for another quartet of years. But if the conflicting Republican forces fall to reach an agreement, the best the incumbents of these effices, or others who may be given receast appointments, can hope to do will be to hold on to their jobs until Wilson and a Democratic Congresses can decide upon their their jobs until Wilson and a Demo-ratic Congress can decide upon their successors next March.

I'vecessors next March.

If the Federal jobs now available in this state are to be plucked by a Democratic administration, the friends of Bert E. Haney, Democratic state chair-man, are insisting that he shall be con-sidered first in the distribution. They give him full measure of credit in his capacity as chairman of the state committee for the notable victory of carrying Oregon for Wilson by a piurality of probably 10,000, as well as the election of Lane to the United States Senting ate. Mr. Haney's friends would have him appointed United States District Attorney, an office for which, they af-firm he is especially qualified, Accord-ing to report, there is another con-tender for this appointment in the person of Claud C. McCulloch, at present State Senator from Baker County.

Aspirants for the Portland Postmastership have not made themselves known yet, but this $6000-a-year plum will not go begging long among the small army of hungry Democrats whose appetites have been whetted by a fast some 16 years. Milton A. Miller, State Senator from Linn County, is an active candidate for Collector of Customs, Portland District, to succeed P. S. Malcolm. Alex Sweek, it is understood, would like to be Collector of Internal Revenue, Portland District, succeeding Colonel David M.

Will R. King's Pavor Sought.

Will R. King's Favor Sought.

But there is a real scramble on for United States Marshal, if one is to rely on current gossip. Not less than three Democrats already have visions of landing the Marshalship. They include R. B. Beattin, ex-Sheriff and present County Judge of Clackamas County; Claud C. Povey, recently of Warm Springs, Crook County, candidate for the nomination for Representative in Congress from the Second District Congress from the Second District in the primary election, now a resident of Portland, and Mark Holmes, of Polk, one of the delegates from Oregon to the Baltimore convention.

E. Versteeg, of this city, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for County Treasurer, wants the job of Appraiser of Customs, held by C. V. Johnson, whose appointment awaits confirmation by

It is understood that Will R. King. Democratic National committeeman, is figuring on securing a Commissionership of some kind at the seat of government. Incidentally, the indorsement of Mr King will go a great way
