HAWAII INTERESTS MAN OF PORTLAND

Territorial Governor's Secretary Relates Experiences on Island.

Naval Base in Pacific Will Be Strongest Position on the Ocean When Complete.

"My first official act as the assistant secretary to the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii was on the 8th of December, 1911. When I was 1911 ember, 1911, when I was given the detail of arranging an automobile PROMINENT COLUMBIA COUNTY party around the Island of Oahu, stopping on the way for luncheon at the Haliwea Hotel," said Norman B. Courtney, son of A. A. Courtney, of Portland, who returned recently to this city. The party was given by the Governor in honor of Rear-Admiral Chaincey Thomas, now retired, Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Squad-Soldier, Prisoner of War and Public then visiting in the harbor of mander-in-Chief of the harbor of Honolulu.

"On the 19th of December I was appointed permanent secretary to the Governor, a position held by few at the age of 21, for it entails a great deal of complicated and arduous work as all the affairs of the government pass through the secretary's hands before being seen by the Governor. The small matters are sifted out and only the ones of importance gain the recognition of the Governor. There is, however, a great deal of entertaining and society to attend to, as well as work, for there are no theaters of standing there and people amuse themselves by giving dances, tennis teas, golf parties, polo matches, etc., which in most cases I was almost compelled.

CLATSKANIE. Or., Jan. II—(special.)—William H. Conyers, who died at his home here January 7, was born in Illinois in 1840. He received his education at Quincy, in that state, and was preparing to enter business when the Civil War broke out. In May, 1881, div.rce separated them. Her marriage with Guggenheim came next but, Newman states, they lived together only three days. After this divorce, Mrs. Guggenheim married Jules Roger Wahl, a Frenchman resident of New York. "They lived together for four years," related Newman, "when Wahl returned to France. Whether the report is true that Wahl's parents had his marriage annulled in France, I do not know."

Guggenheim married Miss Amy Steinberger, by whom he has a son, William, Jr., was after Mrs. Guggenheim had Naval Base Strong Position.

"The formal opening of the Naval base at Pearl Harbor on the Island of Oahu, was one that any one can well be proud of having witnessed, as it is to be one of the strongest positions we have in the Pacific. It is the only logical point we have for coaling between the Orient and the United States and with the fortifications now being placed there by the Government it will be practically impregnable. There is now located on the island one-fifth of the standing Army of the United States and during the year 1913 10,000 more troops will be placed there. The fortifications on the island are wonderful bits of engineering, some of which no one may enter. The 15-inch mortars at Diamond Head, controlled by a fire station carved out of the peak of an old crater a mile away, is a reminder of the great rock of Gibraltar. The commanding officers of the garrison at Fort Ruger can stand in these rooms carved out of the rock these rooms carved out of the rock and look out on the enemy unseen by them from a height of 1500 feet and give the positions through electric instruments to the mortars one mile away, which are tucked away behind the rear of the crater and so situated the rear of the crater and so situated that there is no warship in existence. that there is no warship in existence that can reach them as the angle is Entertainment Is Lavish.

"I went to Pearl Harbor on the first boat that entered, the Cruiser Cali-fornia, the flagship of the Pacific fleet, then commanded by Rear-Admiral Thomas. There was a yellow ribbon stretched across the opening of the harbor and as we passed through the prow of the California broke it in two pieces, a bit of which I have now in my possession and in years to come it il be greatly prized.
"Another feature of the position is e entertaining of distinguished 1870.

the entertaining of distinguished visitors. When you stop and think of the meaning of Hawalian hospitality you will realize that they were well office, then moved to Clatskanle, Or. where his older brother, E. W. Conwell of the content of the con you will realize that they were well entertained from the moment they entered the harbor to the time they were put aboard ship, with the leis around their necks and the band playing 'Aloin Ole.' There is a great deal to see, for in five minutes in an automobile you can see small bits of five different nations. You can see anything from a Hawaiian village, with the little taro patches to a miniature Geisha garden, with the little Japanese girls in their with the little Japanese girls in their native costume, playing on their little musical instruments and the Japanese men lying around drinking 'saki.' As you proceed you come to the Chinese quarter and hear the din of the Chinese band, which seems to be always playing and which sounds more like inferno than anything civilized. The odors that arise from Chinatown are quickly dissolled as you go you way to Manna and which sounds more like inferno than anything civilized. The odors that arise from Chinatown are quickly dispelled as you go on your way to Mauna Lou Park, which contains some of the rarest of tropical plants and which is a small paradise in itself and in which one would like to linger longer. From there you can go through miles and Mara Convers. illes of sugar cane and pineapple plan-

Scenery Is Gorgeous.

The most interesting bit of scenery is however, I think the 'Pali,' brink of an extinct crater at the top of a range of mountains about 2500 feet high and overlooking the ocean. It is where, in the olden times, King Kamahanca, the first King of Hawaii, pushed the Oahuan forces over the precible to their destruction. From there ipice to their destruction. From there you can look over miles of plantations with the sea on one side and the ocean on the other. Here also is the wireless station over which messages can be flushed to Portland and other cities on the coast, there now being a night and day service. With all this to see and many other wonderful sights, visitors may well call it the Paradise of the Pacific. inles to their destruction. From there

"I may say that Ambassador Bryce, the British Ambassador to the United States, was the most distinguished vis-tior I had to take care of during my sojourn in the Islands, and he cer-tainly was duly impressed with the beauties of the Island, even after he had just come from a trip around the world, having seen all the other coun-tries before. Sun Yat Sen, the first president of China, who was born in Honolulu, called at the office occasionally and took small side trips with me to the different parts of the Island.

Fisher Visits Islands. "A short time before I returned the bonorable Secretary of the Interior, Walter L. Fisher, arrived to investigate, at the request of the President, the administration of the Governor, and I am proud to say that I was able to be of assistance to the Governor in repudiating charges instigated by Prince Kalanaanoile, for political res-sons and through petty jealousy. The charges were without foundation and were proven to be practically a farce. "During the Secretary's stay we took a trip around all of the islands, which took the better part of a month, and took the better part of a month, and upon which we saw the volcano of Kiluoca, the largest active volcano in the world, which is in constant cruption and which occasionally overflows, as well as the leper settlement on the Island of Molokai, which is without a doubt the best known leper Island in history and where leaves from all over doubt the best known leper island in history, and where lepers from all over many horrible and grewsome sights may be seen. My close association with the Secretary on this trip has been of great value to me, for it is not often that one is fortunate enough to travel around with one of the cabinet officers of the President.

"Upon the invitation of Secretary Knox I returned with him as he was passing through Honolulu from Japan, where he had been as the emissary of the United States to the funeral of the Japanese Emperor. The trip across on the cruiser Maryland was a very pleasurable one. I had freedom to any part of the ship and learned a great deal about naval warfare that I did not know before and also learned by experience what the life on the ships of our navy is like. We were entertained every night on the quarter-deck with the marine band and moving ENTERTAINMENT IS LAVISH deck with the marine band and moving pictures, although as we came steadily across the Pacific it kept getting colder. A great deal of the time was also passed by the many various drills that are held at different times during the day and which are very interesting. day and which are very interesting. "Upon arrival at Seattle the party split up, as Secretary Knox remained in Seattle for two days, and Secretary Fisher and myself came immediately to Portland.

Divorce, Dismissing Case

for Want of Equity.

JUDGE ARRAIGNS WOMAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The application of Mrs. Grace Brown Guggenheim to have her divorce from William Guggen-heim annulled was dismissed by Judge Heard here today for want of equity.

Mrs. Guggenheim based her application on the allegation that when she obtained her decree she swore erroneously that she was a resident of Illi-

It was after Mrs. Guggenheim had married Wahl that she filed suit in New York state for divorce from Guggenheim, claiming that the Illinois divorce was illegal. The case went to the Supreme Court of that state, where her bill was dismissed. In 1999 she filed another suit to set aside the original Illinois divorce, but Judge Honore denied her right to file her petition after the lapse of eight years. She sent this case to the Appellate Court, where it is still needer. where it is still pending.

the divorce was obtained. Mrs. Guggenheim, or Wahl, alleges that she does not want money, but wishes to ascer-tain beyond doubt whether the divorce was legal.

Judge Heard, in giving his decision criticised the present divorce laws of Illinois, and urged that steps be taken to change them. He declared that both Mr. and Mrs. Guggenheim procured the divorce of 1901 by fraud. He also held that if fraud were practiced in scouring the divorce, Mrs. Guggenheim was a party to it.

Bioomingdale, Mich.—"I had sores on my legs, back, on my head and on the tips of my fingers. They looked first like little of my fingers. They looked first like little bolls and had pus in them. They started with a throbbing and burning pain. They opened and formed a scab and would spread to the size of a sliver dollar. My mother had to cut off my hair because we couldn't comb it, it pained me so badly and besides it was stuck together with pus. My underwear would stick to the scree on my body. My mother had to scak the clothes off of me. The clothing irritated my body. I had to go bare-footed for four weeks because I could not got on a shoe or a stocking.

They would store to take sores, and I could not got them off.

"The trouble started two weeks before my mother tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I was a little relieved in three days and was entirely cured in six weeks by Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Miss Olive Dayley Sort 23 1912. Olive Dalton, Sept. 28, 1912.

STATE EXAMINER WRIGHT SAYS

CONDITIONS ARE GOOD. Assets More Satisfactory Through

Elimination of Bad and Doubtful Items, Asserts Report. SALEM, Or., Jan. 11. - (Special.)-The State Bank Commission met today in Governor West's office and received the annual report from State Bank

Mr. Wright summarizes the general banking conditions throughout the state as "generally very good, with the adopas "generally very good, with the adop-tion of the principles of sound and conservative banking more noticeable. Assets are in more satisfactory condi-tion through the elimination of bad and doubtful items, investments in stocks show large decreases, while in-vestments in high-class bonds and real etate mortgages have seen materially increased."

Examiner Will Wright.

For the year the net gain in bank capital was $495,299.80 and the total deposit on November 26 was $59,633.46. The cash on hand and balance due from other banks amounts to $19,301,929.87, which gives the very safe rate of 32 2-5 per cent on the total deposits. The increase in the deposits was $1. 452,081,29, it is hoped to pay them out in ...

In conclusion, the Commission makes recommendations for new legislation to assist them in the work of more fully regulating the state's banking facilities. Among these is the law for putting in effect the recently adopted stockholders' double liability provisions passed in the late election. Also laws library. We all feel that we have been regulate the trust companies and that this will be an inspiration to and that this will be an inspiration to and that this work this year.

Bankers' Association is drawing up the outlines of a bill. The Commission also believes that the supervision of the building and loan companies should be transferred to its nands from the department of the Secretary of State, where it rests.

Finally, it is urged that laws should be passed so as to put the state banks on a footing with the National banks as depositories for the postal savings bank funds and that the fees for examination of the state banks should be raised so as to cover completely the cost to the state of making such ex-

Four private institutions have incorporated.

The total expense for maintaining the department throughout the year has amounted to $14,187.17, leaving a balance in the fund of $4122.89.

The examiner reports that the in-
