Miss Cornelia Cook, Who Left Last Week for Panama.

Miss Harriett Johnson, Who Assisted at the Fruit and Flower Mission Tea.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Steiner, a Bride of the Week.

Mrs. E. L. Thompson, a Hostess of the Week.

Mrs. Penton E. Grigsby, one of the Directors of the Fruit and Flower Mission.

Louise Burns, Vincent Meyers, Hamilton Corbett, Frederick Forster and Lester T. Hodson.

One of the prettiest dinners of the week was proffered by Mrs. and Mr. Thomas Scott Brooke Thursday evening. Crystal vases filled with yellow roses adorned the table, and Mr. and Mrs. Brooke's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharp, of Prineville, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kirkham Smith, who have just returned from a sojourn in the East.

Mrs. J. D. Farrell, one of Portland's prominent matrons, is the inspiration for much entertaining in Seattle where she is passing several weeks. Mrs. Charles D. Stimson was hostess at an informal tea Saturday afternoon in her honor, and Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Green entertained at a theater party Monday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitney Treat were also hosts at a theater party Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Farrell.

Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and children, Jane, Prudence and Guy W., Jr., will leave this week to pass the remainder of the winter months in California. Mrs. Talbot is one of the most popular young matrons in society, as well as a charming hostess, and will be greatly missed from the season's festivities.

Complimenting Miss Maida Hart and her fiancé, Carl Leopold Wernicke, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Biddle were dinner hosts Friday evening. A crystal bowl of exquisite Killarney roses graced the center of the table, and covers were laid for Miss Hart and Mr. Wernicke, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Wood, informal tea Saturday afternoon. Miss Milla Wessinger and Philip Hart and the host, Captain Biddle, and hostess.

The most important event scheduled to take place this week is the wedding of Miss Evelyn Wilson and Arthur Murray Sherwood, Jr., which will be a church affair, followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's father, Dr. George F. Wilson. The ceremony will be performed Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Trinity Episcopal Church by Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, assisted by Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Church.

Miss Wilson will be attended by her sister, Miss Frances Wilson, and Mr. Sherwood's best man will be Frederick Allen Forster, formerly of New York. Mr. Sherwood and Mr. Forster were members of the class of 1910 at Harvard. The ushers will be Henry Reed, Dwight Fullerton, Dunbar Cass, Curtis Bailey, Hamilton Forbush Corbett, Kurt Koehler and Alexander Linthicum, cousin of the bride.

Miss Maida Hart, whose wedding will be an event of January 22, has chosen her sister, Miss Katherine Hart, for her maid of honor and Miss Milla Wessinger as bridesmaid. Henry Wessinger will be Mr. Wernicke's best man, and the wedding will take place at the Church of Our Father, Wednesday, January 22. Miss Hart is being much entertained, and several smart affairs have been planned for this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manton Bradley were hosts at an informal dinner and theater party Friday evening in compliment to M. and Mrs. Thomas Sharp, of Prineville. Mr. and Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux were additional guests.

Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux asked a few of the younger matrons to tea Thursday afternoon. Among the guests were Mrs. William S. Biddle, Mrs. Elliott Ruggles Corbett, Mrs. David Chambers Lewis, Mrs. Stanley G. Jewett, Mrs. Benjamin Lombard and Mrs. A. A. Morrison.

Miss Shirley Eastham was among the younger hostesses who entertained informally during the week. Tuesday afternoon Miss Eastham's guests at tea were Mrs. Alexander A. McDonnell, Mrs. James A. Cranston, Mrs. Coe A. McKenna, Miss Ethelwynne Glass and Miss Cornelia Stanley.

Miss Isabelle Tyson, of Tennessee, will arrive in Portland tomorrow to be the house guest of Miss Claire Wilcox. Miss Tyson finished at Miss Spence's school in New York with Miss Wilcox, and a number of Portland's buds. Miss Wilcox will compliment Miss Tyson with a dance Tuesday evening, and many other affairs are being planned in honor of this attractive visitor. Later she will visit at the home of Judge and Mrs. Charles Carey, as the guest of Miss Evelyn Carey.

Miss Wilcox will accompany her mother, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, about the first of the month for New York, from where they will sail for London. Miss Wilcox will be among the few Portland girls to attend a season in London, the center of the social world.

The Maud Powell recital Wednesday evening will be a social event as well as a musical treat. Among the box holders are Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, Mrs. R. Koehler, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. H. C. Wilson, Mrs. Bess Bloch Bauer, Mrs. S. Hirsch, Mrs. Miss May Failing. Many large dinners will precede the concert. Miss Powell has a large number of personal friends in Portland and has arranged to pass several days here to visit them. She will be much entertained during her sojourn. Among those who will compliment her is Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, who will give a small tea at her home on Thursday. Mrs. Thomas and Miss Powell have been close friends for many years.

Miss Kathleen Baillie, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe for a fortnight, returned to her home in Tacoma Monday. Miss Baillie passed the week-end at the W. J. Burns residence, as a guest of Miss Anita Burns, and the latter part of this month will visit Mrs. L. U. Loomis, at Shelter-neuk Farm, Ellensburg.

A reading club, composed of a group of studious young society maids, met at the home of Miss Jean Morrison Thursday afternoon. The club is a new organization, which was formed early this winter and includes Miss Claire Wilcox, Miss Jean Morrison, Miss Louise Burns, Miss Mildred Honeyman, Miss Grace Honeyman, Miss Maise MacMaster, Miss Lora Cumming, Miss Margaret Hewett, Miss Clementine Lambert and Mrs. Landon E. Mason, Jr.

Miss Alta Rush, who passed the holidays in Portland with her parents, returned to New York Sunday to continue her studies in art. She expects to devote two or three years in the great metropolis continuing her studies.

Mrs. James A. Cranston plans to leave Portland Tuesday to be the guest of Mrs. G. Brougham, in Vancouver, B. C. for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Cook and daughters, the Misses Cully and Cornelia Cook, left Sunday for San Francisco and proceeded to Panama. They expect to be away for two or three months. Mrs. James A. Dougherty and small son, Jack, accompanied the former's father, Timothy Kinney, of Salt Lake City, to leave at Wednesday morning, and will also join the colony migrating to Panama.

The dance at which the Wednesday Night Dancing Club were hosts at the Portland Heights Club Wednesday evening was one of the delightful affairs of the week. The clubhouse was gayly decorated with lights, poinsettias and Oregon grape, and made an attractive setting for the handsome gowns worn by the members. These gowns were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew and eagerly anticipated by the members and their friends. The next dance will be given Wednesday, January 22.

Mrs. Dan J. Malarky will leave on Tuesday for New York, where she will join her daughter, Miss Margaret, who is attending school at Edenhall, Philadelphia. They will sail on the Cunard steamer Coronado, January 20, to make a tour of the Mediterranean country, including Egypt and the Holy Land. They expect to be gone about four months.

The first of a series of teas planned by the Fruit and Flower Mission for the benefit of the day nursery was given Monday afternoon, and proved a tremendous success. A profusion of carnations was used on the tea table and about the rooms, and the guests were received by Mrs. E. C. Gilmer, president; Mrs. E. C. Meara, vice-president; Mrs. Chester Darling, second vice-president; Miss Mabel Beck, chairman; Miss Harriet Jellison, secretary; Mrs. Lewis Meade, Mrs. William E. Fuchsheim, Mrs. Edith Stetson, Mrs. Louise Williams, Miss Rosemary Baldwin and Miss Lola Sanders. Mrs. Fenton E. Grigsby and Mrs. J. Frank Watkins, directors of the mission, presided at the tea table.

Mrs. J. H. Freedlander, of New York, wife of the well-known architect who was one of the successful competitors in the building of the new auditorium for Portland, passed a fortnight at the Hotel Portland, and during her stay was much feted in an informal manner. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Thompson entertained at dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Freedlander, and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox also was a hostess in compliment to Mrs. Freedlander. Mrs. Edward L. Thompson, a portrait of whom appears today, was hostess at a charming tea Thursday afternoon, when a number of prominent matrons were asked to meet the attractive visitor. A delightful feature of the afternoon was the musical programme, to which Mrs. Sara Glance Bowman contributed a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Warren E. Thomas. The solos included "Requiem" and "Dearest," by Homer; "Lullaby," by Brahms, and "You and Love," by Handel. Mr. and Mrs. Freedlander will leave today for their home.

Larry Dolph, youngest son of the late United States Senator Joseph N. Dolph, who has been passing much of his time for several years at his ranch in Polk County, was married Saturday, January 11, to Miss Elizabeth Reddick, of Dallas, Or., at the First Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. W. B. Hinson officiating. The wedding was a simple one, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother. After a short stay in Washington, D. C., and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Dolph will sail for Europe, where they expect to remain about a year.

About 29 prominent young matrons and maids have planned to devote their time during the Lenten period to study, hence the formation of a French class, which will meet Tuesday mornings, under the instruction of Mrs. F. R. Johnson, whose late husband, Dr. F. R. Johnson, was connected with the Portland Academy for years. The course will extend into the summer, and promises to be most interesting.

Following an established custom, Rev. and Mrs. Henry R. Talbot were hosts at a delightful reception Monday afternoon and evening at the rectory of St. David's Church. The house was a bower of lovely blossoms, lilies, jonquils, Roman hyacinths and a profusion of roses were effectively arranged about the rooms and on the tea table. Presiding in the dining-room were Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. Henry C. Cabell, Mrs. William S. Biddle, Mrs. Amon Moore and Mrs. Robert W. Lewis. Assisting in receiving in-
