

STORMY SESSION IS AHEAD AT OLYMPIA

Republican Control Narrows to One Vote With Taylor as Speaker.

FACTIONS WELL DEFINED

"Cow" Counties to Make Hot Fight on "Big Three," Spokane, Pierce and King, and Hold Whip Hand if Harmony is Sustained.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—With an unusually large number of problems of state-wide importance to settle, a vast array of bills of a radical nature to dispose of, a $2,000,000 budget to handle and several new varieties of factionalism to deal with, the prospects are that the thirteenth session of the Washington State Legislature, which begins Monday, will be one of the most stormy in history.

New Factors Figure.

Another feature which is causing considerable conjecture is that of a Democrat holding the office of Governor. Just what the effect will be with a Republican Senate, a rather uncertain House and a Democratic Governor, is a puzzle.

This year, for the first time, there will be women members of the House, two having been elected last Fall, one from Bellingham and the other from Tacoma.

The road measures will involve many important road and bridge propositions, including among the others the proposed interstate bridge between Vancouver, Wash., and Portland, Or.

Minimum Wage Bill Up. A first aid provision in the industrial insurance law is provided in a bill to come probably from Pierce County.

Marriage Bureau Proposed. There are to be many bills of a freakish or radical nature, among them a measure for the creation of a state marriage bureau to promote matrimony.

One of the most important bills to come up is a women's minimum wage measure, which is to be introduced by Senator George W. Piper, of King County.

Restrictive District Bill Due. A home rule bill extending to municipalities the right to create restrictive districts if the people of the community favor such a plan will be introduced by Captain John Gray.

Education. Institutions of higher education probably will have a hard time when an appropriation $1,000,000 greater than that of 1911 is asked.

Statewide Registration. A bill will be introduced for the establishment of statewide registration. At present registration is required only in incorporated cities and towns.

Another planned change is to place the school system. He would abolish the present system of classroom training, substituting in its place a system whereby a student would spend one day a week in the classroom and the rest of the time as an apprentice in active work.

er of appropriations it is believed there are many lively fuses in store for the Legislature. Legislators who are here declare that the session will be by far the most important in history.

Bankers Have Bill. Proposed banking law changes are urged by the Washington Bankers' Association. Following are some of the recommendations: "To make the plaintiff pay costs and a small attorney's fee in garnishments; to place insolvent banks in the hands of the state examiner rather than under the receiver appointed by the court; to release estates from the expense of furnishing bonds where a trust company is handling them, unless the court considers it best to ask for bond beyond the combined capital and surplus of such company; to permit the withdrawal of joint accounts after death up to $1000 instead of $500 under the existing law."

SALEM, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The Oregon School for the Education of Deaf Mutes in the biennial report of Superintendent Tillinghast, asks a maintenance appropriation of $34,500 and betterment appropriations aggregating $30,950. Touching upon the splendid health record among the pupils at the school, the success which has attended the self-government plan inaugurated during the past two years and also pointing out the excellent results which have been accomplished by the school superintendent, Mr. Tillinghast, makes the following recommendations for improvement:

In order to purchase the minimum amount of land thought desirable to build upon the cottage system, and to provide a central heating plant, it has been impossible to complete the various plans, without leaving many minor parts and features uncompleted. The most important group of improvement appropriations, therefore, are those covering the exterior and interior painting and completion of various minor features of the two main buildings and the completion of the isolation hospital, the total being $220,000.

Next in importance I would place the installation of a water system for the protection and economy, and the continued improvement of the grounds, especially grading of the street and construction of a walk on the south side, and completion of the main driveway. For these purposes $5000 is required.

STEVENSON, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Playing with a shotgun, which was accidentally discharged, resulted in the death at Coos today of John Salmon, aged 12. The gun was in the hands of a playmate, who let the weapon fall and the charge entered Salmon, who died before aid could reach him.

Leopold Godowsky to Wm. Knabe & Co.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17th, 1912.

WM. KNABE & CO. Gentlemen: In the midst of my extensive and strenuous American tour I must express to you my hearty appreciation of the noble qualities of your instruments. The requirements of modern piano playing are so great and manifold, demanding of the instrument orchestral volume and variety of color as much as utmost delicacy, clearness and that pearly quality peculiar to the piano passages, that it is a most perplexing problem to the piano manufacturer to satisfy all the demands of the 20th century pianist.

You meet every conceivable wish of the most exacting artist, and to me your instrument is a most desirable companion on my tour. Cordially yours, LEOPOLD GODOWSKY.
