MRS. WILLIAM B. BAILEY received as many guests at her home party on Monday evening, February 1, as any hostess could reasonably hope for. Mrs. Bailey's forays to Europe this winter have given her a most unique and exclusive knowledge of artistic and fashionable circles, and her guests, who included many of the most prominent socialites of Portland, were charmed and delighted by the unusual display of works of art that she was able to secure in London and Paris for her home. A large number of the articles were paintings by American and European artists, and were placed on view for the guests to admire. Mrs. Bailey's appreciation of the finer things in life was evident in her selection of the decorations for the dinner table, which were designed to complement the artworks on display. The evening was a great success, and the guests left feeling that they had been treated to a most enjoyable and memorable evening.
