Chicago Social Worker Scorns Charity Givers Who Are "Wage-Shavers."

PRACTICAL RELIGION IS AIM

Dr. H. F. Ward Explains Objects of Methodist Federation and Methods Undertaken to Reduce Crime and Needless Poverty.

"I don't believe in that kind of charity that prompts a rich man to give liberally to an anti-tuberculosis fund and at the same time maintain in his factory conditions that breed tuberculosis," said Rev. H. F. Ward, of Chicago, who arrived in Portland yester-day to aid in the spread of "social Christianity," the newly organized branch of religious endeavor that at-tempts to improve the present social and industrial conditions of the coun-and industrial conditions of the country.

"Such cases as that actually are on record and they are more numerous than you might suppose," continued Mr. Ward, who is accretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service and one of the secretaries of the social service commission of the Federal council of churches, a National organization embracing 30 denominations, with 17,000,000 members.

Mr. Ward says the churches are not so particular that the working people be given Sunday as their weekly day of rest as they are that every man who works be given one day out of every seven to himself.

The federation also has adopted a

The federation also has adopted a more extensive course of reforms that will be demanded immediately. The general programme covers the following subjects:

Child welfare-To secure for every Child welfare—To secure for every child the best possible education, adequate recreation, good housing, protection from ice and industrial exploitation, and to care for dependent delinquent and defective children.

Public health—To spread the knowledge of the methods of preventing disease. To enforce individual responsibility for the health of the community.

sation, reasonable hours of labor and a minimum wage.

Mr. Ward has been engaged in social reform work in Chicago for more than 10 years. His experiences have impressed him thoroughly with the necessity of removing the causes for distress among the working classes of the city instead of trying to remedy the

OFFICERS OF MEN'S CLUB OF WAVERLY HEIGHTS CONGREGA

Organized December 27, 1912, the Waverly Heights Men's Club, in connection with the Waverly Heights Congregational Church, with 30 charter members, has already taken high rank in the community as a moral, religious, civic and educational factor. Its organization was brought about through the initiative of Rev. A. W. Bond, pastor of the church, and through the cooperation of the official board, to provide a social and civic center for the young people of the community. Officers are: Rev. A. W. Bond, president; R. J. Kirkwood, secretary; W. Dennison, vice-president; R. F. Coffeen, treasurer. It is proposed to give lectures on moral and current topics, also scientific and moral subjects will be discussed. February 11 a moving-picture entertainment will be given in the church. Dr. Calvin White, secretary of the State Board of Health, is expected to be present and give a talk. This will be the first of similar entertainments in the church by the erection of a suitable building. The grounds are 100 by 30 feet, at the corner of East Thirty-third street and Woodward avenue, and part of the space may be occupied by the gymnasium and lawn tennis. The club contemplates the introduction of the moving-picture entertainment Sunday nights instead of the sermons. Pictures of religious, moral and educational value will be used. The club will also assist in the development of the district.

Widow Pension Bill Passed.

There is great rejoicing among the Portland members of the Congress of Mothers and the Parent-Teachers clubs that have worked untiringly during the past few weeks for the success of the widows' pension bill, which passed the House by a large majority and yesterday passed the Senate. Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, chairman of the committee that has had the destinies of the bill in hand, says that the Congress of Mothers will go to work as soon as the act is in force and see that the de-serving widows and women whose hus-bands are in some state institution have the proper consideration. Mrs. Bondurant says further that the women will work in conjunction with the Juve-nile Court and that no effort will be spared to make the newly-made law a success. It is considered by many phil-anthropists and students of social re-form as one of the wisest measures ever introduced, as by helping the widows to
