FERRY MAY GO TO MAKE RIVER ROOM
Dock Commission Will Recommend Abandonment of Lower Alina Line.

CROWDED HARBOR CAUSE:
Data Trending to Show Upper House Next to Proposed by politicians and Tourists Will Be Lost Below Gravity Cours.

In the interest of future commerce and navigation, a member of the Board of Censors of the Port of Portland submitted to the mayor a complete report in which he refers to the shipyard which, he says, has become a veritable railroad of commerce and in which he has a special interest, as the report shows that the shipyard is not properly equipped for the needs of the port.

The member of the board says that the shipyard is not properly equipped for the demands of the port and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.

The member of the board also states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that the present method of handling ships is inadequate.

The report states that the yard is not properly equipped for repairs and that it is engaged in a business that is not properly supervised.