WEDDINGS.

Ralph H. Baldwin and Miss Olive Fies were married at the Sunnyside Congregational Church, Wednesday evening, February 25, by Rev. J. J. Staub. The decorations of the auditorium were effective in palms and ferns, musically arranged about a large basket of white carnations. The service was preceded by a series of musical numbers. Miss Elsie M. Smith presiding at the organ rendered the "Pilgrims Chorus" from "Tannhauser"; "The Evening Star" from "Tannhauser"; "To a Wild Rose," by Ed McDowell. For the wedding march she played "The Bridal hymn" from "Loehengrin" and for the recessional "Mendelssohn's Wedding March." Miss Harriette Leach sang "Oh, Perfect Love," and "Because God Gave Me You" with excellent effect. The ushers were: Thomas Collier, J. Frank Kable, Thomas Reich-ster, MacDonald Mayer, Charles Hein- man and Folger Johnson. Master William Giles led the bridal party as ring bearer, followed by Miss Agnes Fies, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; little Dorothy Webster made a charming flower girl. The bride came to the altar on the arm of her father and was met there by the bridegroom and his brother, Lyle A. Baldwin, who acted as best man. She looked charming in white charmeuse with pearl trimming. The only ornament she wore, the gift of the bridegroom, was a beautiful amethyst pin set with pearls. Her white veil was fastened with orange blossoms in cap form. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Agnes Fies, the maid of honor, was beautifully gowned in pink charmeuse and shadow lace, with green velvet and pearl trim- ming. She carried a shower bouquet of Killarney roses. The bride's mother, Mrs. L. F. Fies, wore a black char- meuse, the waist of light Dresden velvet with tucked marquisette. After the service a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Fies, 175 East Thirty-first street. The re- ceiving and dining-rooms were dec- orated with pink carnations and pink tulle. In the former a canopy of green-and white tulle formed the artistic back- ground for the bridal party. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Fies, Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Webster, Lyle Baldwin and Miss Agnes Fies. The Misses Louise Peterson and Marguerite Ostrander served punch. Miss Ostrander caught the bridal bouquet. Miss Agnes Fies sang "The Rosary" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" with piano and cello accompaniment by Miss Elsie Smith and Raymond R. Staub. The popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin was enthusiastically attested by the great host of friends who attended the ceremony. They left for a short trip and will be at home after March 29 at 484 East Fifty-second street.

Bloore-Benke.

Myrtle Marie Benke and William Mines Bloore were married Wednes- day, February 19, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benke, 539 East Fourteenth street North. Rev. E. S. Bollinger, pastor of High- land Congregational Church, officiat- ing. The house was decorated in white and yellow and green cedar leaves. The bride's bouquet was of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Hazel O. K. Cole acting as best man. Milton and Ethel Reed, cousins of the bride, played the wedding march with violin and piano. The wedding supper was served in the dining-room, a large bowl of carnations being the center piece.

Macomber-Franke.

Raymond L. Macomber and Miss Nettie P. Franke were married Tues- day evening, February 25, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. Custer, 1037 East Thirteenth street, by Rev. Luther E. Dyson, of the First Congre- gational Church. The wedding march was played by Miss Maud Peterson. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the family were present.
