

Powers' Dignified Credit Plan Always Solves the Furniture Problem

Just a simple "promise to pay" has saved many a day for the world's greatest financiers. It is a dignified commercial way of exchanging promises for goods without the bother of passing currency from hand to hand. Without this the world would be very much askew. Credit is the cornerstone on which great businesses are built. It is the foundation of all successful enterprises. If you envy thy neighbor his comfortable home it is ten to one that credit enabled him to be the proud owner. Why envy since your credit will do as much and more, perhaps, than his has done for him? It is no task to ask and it is ready for the asking here. Easy terms to the man who wishes to pay as he earns—a little a week or a month.

We pride ourselves on a showing of distinct quality and design, of artistic beauty not overdone and to new patterns which are in a class by themselves and rarely found outside of this store.
