

DUAL GOVERNMENT FOR DENVER ENDED

New Commission Wins Court Decision and Old Officials Agree to Retire.

APPEAL WILL BE TAKEN

Auditor Recognizes Later Arrivals by Declaring He Will Pay Obligations Incurred by Them, as Well as Their Salaries.

DENVER, June 7.—(Special.)—Denver's dual government was ended today for the time, after a bitter fight by a court decision in which Judge Teller, of the District Court, upheld the contents of the newly-elected Commissioners. Judge Teller denied all attempts of attorneys for the defacto officials to get a stay of execution and fixed the bond for costs and damages at $5000 for each Commissioner. Within half an hour the Commissioners had furnished bonds and the old officers retired. The attorneys declared that they would take the case to the Supreme Court on a supersedeas.

Among the most bitterly opposed to turning over the municipality to the Commissioners was Mayor Arnold, who rode into office by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate for Mayor because of a wave of popular indignation aroused when he was "crow-barr'd" out of the County Assessorship by ex-Mayor Speer and his steam roller tactics.

Pledge Given to Resign. This is the pledge Arnold and other candidates signed prior to their election. "We, the undersigned, do hereby pledge, each for himself or herself, that if elected to the respective offices for which we have been nominated we will do everything within our power to bring about commission government for Denver at the earliest possible date, and we pledge further that if commission government be adopted for Denver we will each of us immediately upon such adoption of commission government forthwith resign from the respective offices to which we have been severally elected."

Arnold as a candidate and since his election warmly advocated the commission plan until a few weeks ago. Then he and others of his administration suddenly changed front. Then followed their determination to resist by force any effort of the five commissioners to begin their incumbency of the several departments at midnight. At the same time armed deputy sheriffs paced the corridors of the County Courthouse for the same purpose, and admittance to either building on any pretext whatsoever was denied to all comers.

Mutterings of People Heard. Windows and doors were doubly barred and locked, and thus intrenched they announced that they would not surrender their respective offices until so ordered. Behind their intrenched positions, however, the ominous mutterings of protest by an enraged citizenship reached them and by Monday morning the exact picket line was materially modified.

Secure in the knowledge of the legality of their action, passed upon by competent legal authorities, the Commissioners met and organized Monday morning. Dr. J. M. Perkins, Commissioner of Social Welfare, was chosen Mayor. I. N. Stevedore, former City Attorney. It took just five minutes and four ballots to seat the new Mayor. One ballot appointed Stevens as City Attorney, over W. H. Brant, former incumbent, who received two out of the five votes.

At the afternoon session of the Commissioners, Auditor Markey announced that he would recognize the commission form of government to the extent of paying all debts incurred by the new Commissioners and all salaries to them and their deputies. The Commissioners have announced their appointments of their various deputies, and conflicting offices—inspectors of justice, of peace, etc.—will oppose each other until a legal decision intervenes.

WOODSAWYER IS KILLED

Man Fatally Injured by Machine at Hazel Green.

SALEM, Or., June 7.—(Special.)—Charles Zelinski, 30 years of age, was crushed to death today in the steering gear of a woodsawyer at Hazel Green. Zelinski and his brother, Bliss, were riding on the machine when it was discovered that something was wrong with the steering gear. Without stopping it, he started to climb down to the exhaust, falling, as he did so, on the flywheel.

BEEF CONCERNS COMPLAIN

Argentine Monopoly in Trade With Europe Threatened.

BUENOS AYRES, Argentine, June 7.—Six of the leading Anglo-Argentine beef companies presented to the Argentine government today a note declaring that they were about to be compelled to close their plants because other Argentine companies were preparing to establish an absolute monopoly of the meat trade by selling in the English market Argentine meats at less than cost. The complaining companies demand justice from the Argentine government.

High School Graduates.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., June 7.—(Special.)—Exactly the same number of students graduated from the high school this year as did in 1912, when previous records were broken, the number being an even dozen. A peculiar thing about the class is that all were born in the 30's and 40's and 1897, the year being born in 1894 and five in the latter year. Marguerite Johnson, the valedictorian, is the only member of the 1913 class who has done all her school work in the Cottage Grove schools.

The graduates are: Marguerite Johnson, valedictorian; Fern Holcomb, salutatorian; Frances Cox, Ruby Keyes, Carol Sams, Edna Ellidge, Esther Anderson, Jane Gilchrist, Pruda Chesbro, Pearl Demorest, Ralph Milne and Waldo Hull. As usual the girls predominate, there being 19 of them to two of the boys.

ARMY OFFICER'S WIFE, AND CHILD ON WHOSE ACCOUNT SHE SAYS SHE IS FIGHTING DIVORCE SUIT

MRS. HESSIE C. MERRIAM AND DAUGHTER.

WIFE FIGHTS SUIT

Mrs. Merriam Says She Wants Vindication Chiefly.

COMPROMISE IS REFUSED

Little Daughter's Good Name as Well as Own Reputation Are at Stake on Outcome, Wife of Army Captain Avers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Mrs. Hessie C. Merriam has definitely thrown down the gauntlet to her husband, Captain Henry Merriam, U. S. A., and will fight his efforts to procure a divorce from her, either directly or indirectly. She says she is moved in her new determination by a desire to save the good name of her little daughter, as well as her own reputation. She says she does not care so far as the divorce itself is concerned, but she wants a vindication.

The troubles of the Merriams have been one of the most-talked-of scandals which army social circles have known in recent years. Captain Merriam has accused his wife of serious misconduct and the suit came up before Judge Gramham, who has a reputation for promissory cases of domestic difficulty wherever possible. The case was dropped after evidence had been taken the understanding being that her husband would not press his charges and that she would obtain a decree on the ground of desertion.

This agreement is the one now repudiated by Mrs. Merriam, who says she will insist before a divorce case be thrashed out in open court.

WELCOME SENT TO GUESTS

readiness for the entrance of the King into his domain.

The California delegations in their special will arrive in Portland tomorrow morning at 3 o'clock.

Welcomes Will Be Given. Their hosts, the Royal Rosarians, will greet them at the station and the party will escort the delegations to their hotels. Just before the royal barge, the Sea Otter, sails down to the harbor to receive Rex Oregonus, the flagship of the marine procession which is to convey the barge of the king through the harbor. The main body of the Rosarians will remain on shore, to receive and form an escort for the king when he lands at the Stark-street dock, the special committee after they have charge of the guests and the marine parade will form in the lower harbor under the direction of

ROSES SENT TO LEADING HOTELS WILL BE GIVEN TO FESTIVAL VISITORS

Roses for every one that attends the Rose Festival! Not merely to gaze at longingly in vases or on the bushes on the well-kept lawns, but roses for every one to have, to wear, to smell.

To accomplish this idea, the Rose Festival management has made arrangements with the managers of the leading hotels whereby they are to receive roses, all this week, and distribute them to their patrons. It is believed that in this way there will be roses for all, and the Rose Festival will take on a new and beautiful meaning to the thousands who will come to Portland to join in the annual festival in honor of the queenly blossom which reaches the height of her perfection in the early days of June.

Therefore, clip your roses and send them to any of the leading hotels every day during the festival. It will help "make" the festival.

Admiral C. V. Cooper, and shortly after 11 o'clock, will move up through the harbor.

Salute to Be Given. A hydroplane will precede the royal barge from which a herald will proclaim his approach, and after the royal barge will move up river, ranging from the larger river steamers down to the liveliest little motorboats, all decorated in brilliant holiday colors. The flagships, Rose City, will fire a salute of 21 aerial bombs, as it reaches the city which will be replied to with a salute of 21 guns in honor of Rex Oregonus.

The body of the parade will sweep on by the Stark-street dock after the king's barge has landed, and turning above the Hawthorne bridge, will retrace its route before the royal barge. Received at the landing by the Royal Rosarians, Rex Oregonus will proceed with his train to the City Hall, where Mayor Rosenthal will greet him and give him the keys of the city, after which he will declare his festival and then go to his headquarters, where he will remain in seclusion until night, when he will hold court at the Armory and amid the scenes of the annual Rose Show, will receive his guests from other cities.

River Trip Projected. The guests of the Royal Rosarians will spend a few hours on the river after the marine pageant. They will be given some time to themselves and at night will be escorted by the Rosarians to the Armory for the reception.

Members of the general reception committee of the Rosarians for Monday are: Mr. McMurray, Frank McCrillis, Dr. E. A. Pierce, W. A. Knight, F. Smith, L. M. Shetterly, T. J. Seufert, M. Mosesson, F. W. Robinson, Dr. Emmet Drake, Martin Winch, Paul Chamberlain, R. L. Aldrich, J. A. Cursey, F. E. Watkins and Elwood Wiles.

Women Will Assist. The following committee of women will assist throughout the week: Mrs. F. T. Hyskell, Mrs. F. A. Freeman, Mrs. Phil Metcham, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. O. C. Bortmeyer, Mrs. Frank McCrillis, Mrs. J. Fred Larson, Mrs. W. F. Morgan, Mrs. H. L. Pitcock, Mrs. W. J. Buchanan, Mrs. W. P. Strandberg, Mrs. M. N. Dana, Mrs. T. J. Seufert, Mrs. E. L. Hatch, Mrs. Robert Aldrich, Mrs. Clifford Reid, Mrs. C. E. Leonard, Mrs. Fred Lockley, Mrs. J. L. M. Shetterly, Mrs. F. C. Riggs, Mrs. A. L. Finley, Mrs. V. Y. Jones, Mrs. E. P. Cornellius, Miss Elizabeth Nelson and Miss Adelaide Knapp.

WINSTOCK WILL GIVE PASSES

Manager of Moving Picture Company to Help Entertain Visitors.

M. G. Winstock, manager of the People's Amusement Company, yesterday turned over to the Royal Rosarians pads of passes which will be honored in any of the theaters of the company he represents in Portland, and announced to the Rosarians that he was prepared to issue unlimited pass privileges to their guests during the entire festival week.

A committee has been appointed from the Rosarians, and will wait on all of the theater managers of the city, giving them an opportunity to take advantage of the generosity of Mr. Winstock in helping out in the entertainment of the guests from California and Washington.

Friday, especially, a day for which little entertainment has been arranged for the afternoon, and the Rosarians hope that the theater managers of the city will honor the visitors on that day or will issue to them passes to the theaters, and thus assist in extending to the guests the hospitality of the city.

KING'S IDENTITY HIDDEN

IMPENETRABLE MYSTERY SURROUNDS OREGONUS VII.

Despite Ignorance of Ruler's Life or Habits, He Insists on Festive Spirit During Short Reign.

Never has the identity of Oregonus VII, King of the Rose Festival, who will arrive, robed, crowned and sceptered, on his royal barge, "Sea Otter," on the majestic bosom of the Willamette at high noon tomorrow, been more closely concealed than this year. He comes from his mysterious winter quarters surrounded by a fottilla as gorgeous as that which accompanied Cleopatra on her little pleasure jaunts on the Nile, to assume his annual temporary sovereignty. No one knows whence he comes or who he is. For five sun-crowded days he will be shrouded in impenetrable mystery.

It is not true, as some believe, that he subsists entirely on rose petals during his reign. In fact, he lives, moves and has his being pretty much as do common mortals, to whom he makes his particular business once a year to bring a week of pleasure unalloyed, to the thousands who will come to Portland, spanglers, scallions and all other decorative appurtenances. He claims all such happy notions as "Enjoy Yourself," "Go As Far as You Like" and "We Should Worry," for his own. However, he has no copyright on them, and he wants everyone to use them freely.

Who is he? Never mind who he is. He is IT—Rex Oregonus, King of the Festival, and beneath his rose-garlanded scepter fun buds and blooms like the flowers in the Spring, tri-ali-

GOVERNORS ASSERT RIGHTS OF STATES

Demand Made That Federal Bureaus Be Withdrawn as Preparation Is Made.

"RADICAL ELEMENT" WINS

Dilatory Action in Granting Patents Condemned as Unfair and Permanent Withdrawal of Lands Denounced.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7.—With the adoption of a declaration of principles and the selection of officers and the next meeting place, the conference of Western Governors came to an end this afternoon.

The declaration of principles, which was presented by Governor Spry, although adopted unanimously, was considered a victory for the radical element. It expressed the belief that jurisdiction of the states should extend to their territory, taxing power to all their lands and their political power and influence be thereby secured.

The governors decided to convene next year at Denver. Governor Carey, of Wyoming, and Governor Ammons, of Colorado, were elected president and secretary respectively for the year. Governor Carey had been elected president previously to preside at the conference here.

Declaration of Policy Made. The statement of what the Governors believed would be the policy of the National Government was in part as follows:

"That as rapidly as the states become prepared to take over the work of conservation the Federal Government withdraw its bureau from the field. The permanent withdrawal of all lands from entry and sale, we believe contrary to the spirit of the ordinance of 1787 and we urge that such lands be returned to entry.

"Dilatory action on the part of the executive departments of the Government in passing title to purchasers of public lands is unfair to the states, as they are forced to occupy lands indefinitely without paying taxes. "Homestead entry within forest reserves should be permitted in the same manner as the entry of lands, subject only to protests where lands are heavily timbered. That the Government grant to the public lands remaining in each to be administered by the states as school lands are now administered, for the purpose of building National public highways.

Mineral Rights Insured. "That mineral lands now withheld from entry or classified at prohibitive prices be reopened at nominal prices."

The resolutions expressed appreciation of the work done by the department at Washington in co-operation with the several states in experimentation and instruction.

Clay Tallman, commissioner of the General Land Office was the first speaker at the morning session.

"I am going to defend," he said, in opening; "in fact, I am not going to try to defend the actions of the Department in the past, I am here as a constructive critic. My opinion can be obtained only through co-operation, not through quarrelling."

Commissioner Tallman then asked a series of questions of the Governors present with a view of ascertaining the exact changes which may be wanted. Special attention was given to the position of actual prospectors in the Forest Service, it being alleged by some of the Governors that the administration of the service had discouraged mining and prospecting.

At the close of the discussion, Commissioner Tallman said that as far as he was concerned if the prospectors would consent to actual prospecting and obeyed the rules of the Forest Service, there would be no disposition on the part of the Administration to hinder every effort would be made to encourage.

MANLY STUDENTS FAIL

RESULTS OF CLACKAMAS EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED.

Teachers Attribute Low Percentage of Successes to Effort Necessary During Final Year.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 7.—(Special.)—As a result of the May examinations 187 eighth-grade pupils in the Clackamas County schools have secured diplomas that entitle them to any high school in the state, 164 more were "conditioned" and they will have to take further examination in one or two studies either in June or in September before they can enter the high school, and 103 failed. In all 284 eighth-grade pupils took the test.

That but a third passed clear of conditions is blamed largely upon the questions, which were extreme, though fair. That almost a third failed altogether to pass is blamed on the teachers to be due to the fact that an effort was made in the last year of the grade schools to teach the children too much and too many subjects that are not of practical use and which therefore they have not studied carefully. A large percentage of those that were "conditioned" are expected to pass upon re-examination.

Eighth-grade pupils in the various districts who passed the examination are as follows: District No. 1—Minnie Spring and William Miller.

RED ACCUSES WHITE MAN

INDIAN'S DEFENSE IS ANOTHER SLEW UMATILLA SQUAW.

Attorney for Columbia George to Try to Show Seattle Murderer Is Mrs. Temot's Slayer.

PENDELTON, Or., June 7.—(Special.)—Indicating that a defense who had been killed in a like manner, Iverson disappeared shortly after the murder of Mrs. C. A. Temot, committed the crime, a surprise was sprung on the United States District Attorney's office today when a letter from the attorney for Columbia George, the Indian who is awaiting trial on a charge of having killed and robbed to death the aged squaw at the Rittner ranch near the mouth of the Umatilla reservation, July 6, 1912, Iverson was employed at the Rittner ranch when the murder occurred.

The prosecution will move a continuance when the case is called Tuesday to investigate. Haley got on Iverson's trail through a newspaper misquoting saying that he had been arrested in Seattle charged with making a murderous assault on August Volcrack, beating his head with a flatiron and leaving him for dead. Iverson confessed and named several other persons whom he had killed in a like manner. Iverson is said to be a dangerous man and leaving him for dead. RUPTURE IS CUREABLE

Results Not Influenced by Age or Time Standing, Says Expert.

Rupture is not a tear or breach in the abdominal wall, as commonly supposed, but is the stretching or dilating of a natural opening, therefore subject to closure, said F. H. Seeley, on a late visit to Portland.

"The Spermatic Shield Truss closes the opening in ten days on the average case, producing results without surgery or harmful injections." Mr. Seeley has documents from the Government, Washington, D.
