PRIZES IN ORATORY SOUGHT BY FIVE

Failing and Beekman Awards at University of Oregon Coveted by Students.

CONTEST WILL BE TUESDAY

Entrants Are Carleton Spencer, Howard Zimmerman, Hilda Brant, David C. Prickett and Russell D. Calkins.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., June 14.—(Special.)—Student in-terest at the University of Oregon is focused on the annual contest for the Failing and Beekman prizes in oratory, which will be held in Villard Hall Tuesday night, as part of the commencement exercises.

Formerly so many spellbinders have entered the lists that a preliminary try-out has been necessary to reduce the number in the finals to six. This Spring only six seniors declared their intention of competing, and therefore the elimination contest was dispensed with Since the first appropriement one with. Since the first announcement one aspirant, Alexander Martin, has withdrawn.

This leaves the following to take part in Tuesday's controversy: Carle-ton Spencer, of Cottage Grove, whose subject will be "Protection Which Does Subject will be Protection which Does Not Protect"; Howard Zimmerman, of Salem, "Education for Citizenship"; Miss Hilda Brant, of Portland, "The Man of Progress—Wendell Phillips"; David C. Pickett, of Prineville, "Prob-lems of Immigration"; Russell D. Calkins, of Eugene, "Representative Gov-ernment." They will appear on the programme in the alphabetical order of their names.

Prize Eagerly Sought.

The winning of the Falling and Beekman context is counted one of the chief honors within reach of the undergraduates at the University, on secount of its history. Twenty-three years ago the Failing prize was established by Henry Failing, of Portland. It consists of the income from a gift of $2500, "to be awarded to that member of the senior class in the classical, scientific, or the literary course prescribed by the University who shall pronounce the best original oration at the time of his or her graduation."

At the same time the Beekman prize was offered by C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville, under the same conditions as the Failing prize, for the second best Prize Eagerly Sought.

sonville, under the same conditions as the Failing prize, for the second best oration. It is the income of a gift of $1800 made by Mr. Beekman. The Failing prize amounts to $150 and the Beekman prize to $100.

Carleton Spencer, president of the student body, is one of the best-known orators ever turned out at Oregon. In his sophomore year he won first place in the state oratorical contest. His victory disgualified him for further partory disqualified him for further par-ticipation in this contest, but he made the varsity debating team last year, competing in the disastrous meeting with Washington.

Miss Brant in Dramatic Club. Miss Brant is a member of the dra-atic Club and has appeared in sev-al local productions, Calkins has real local productions, Calkins has never tried out for the debating team. He is president of the Oregon Club, an organization of students who do not live in fraternity houses and dormitories, and is known as a convincing speaker. It is declared that his speech nominating Henry Fowler for the editorship of the Emerald this Spring had much to do with Fowler's election. The names of the winners in the Fail-

According to the testimony introduced, the six claims were laid out along the Nocksack River, straddling the channel. It was contended by the Government that the sole object in seeking them was to take the power sites, and that no mineral deposits, veins or lodes ever existed on them. Judge Cushman, in his decision, held that patent to the six claims had been issued by the Government when at that

'DROUTH" IS LIKELY

The Dalles Saloon Licenses May Not Be Renewed.

'DRYS' WIN COURT DECISION

Votes of Seven Councilmen Need to Pass Emergency Bill Which Is Favored by Only Five. Liquor Men Puzzled.

THE DALLES, Or., June 14 .-- (Special.)—The Dalles may be a "dry" town after June 30, when all the local liquor licenses expire. Judge W. L. Brad-shaw has overruled the demurrer of the city in the case of the United Brethren, Christian, Baptist and Meth-

Brethren, Christian, Baptist and Methodist churches of this city, who instituted proceedings in Circuit Court against the city with the object of preventing the Council from reissuing saloon licenses on June 30.

They alleged that on account of an omission which was made by the State Legislature in 1905, when it re-enacted a section of the local charter, the Council has no legal right to issue liquor permits, and has been illegally granting saloon permits since 1905.

Ordinance Held Mercel Ordinance Held Illegal.

Judge Bradshaw held that an ordinance which the Council passed in 1909, providing for licensing and regulating of saloons, is not legal, because at that time the city charter did not give the Council power to license.

The Council will hold a special session soon and attempt to re-enact the saloon ordinance of 1909, or draft a similar measure under the home rule amendment to the state constitution, which was passed by the votors in 1916. In order to place such an ordinance in immediate effect it would require an emergency clause and necessarily an emergency clause and necessarily would have to be favorably voted upon by seven of the nine Councilmen. It is understood that only five Council-men favor such action.

Thirty-Day "Drouth" Likely.

Thirty-Day "Drouth" Likely.

If the ordinance were passed with only five Aldermen voting for it, the measure would not be effective for 30 days and in the meantime, at least, The Dalles would be "dry."

That the home rule is not self-enact. ing has been hinted at by the Supreme Court and it is possible that the Council legally cannot pass an ordinance under that amendment in view of the fact that the local charter since 1905 has not given the Council the power to license the saloon business. The question of the effect of the home rule law on a city charter which does not law on a city charter which does not delegate saloon licensing power to the Council has never been acted on by the Supreme Court.

Local saloon men are puzzled, not knowing whether they will be allowed to operate after June 30.

competing in the disastrous meeting with Washington.

Zimmerman's Record Good.

Zimmerman made the debating team in his freshman and sophomore years, during which Oregon won the coast championahip. His absence last year undoubtedly figured in Oregon's poor showing, but he re-entered and took part in the defeats of Stanford and Utah and the reciaiming of the coast championship for Oregon. He also won second place in the state oratorical contest this year, and was awarded the college at the local try-out.

David C. Pickett is the third Falling-Beekman contestant who has made the varsity team. Last year he duplicated Spencer's performance of the previous year by winning the state oratorical contest, He also made the debating team, and this year was a member of the team which unanimously defeated Washington. While in Salt Lake to represent the lemon-yellow against Utah, Pickett contracted a severe case of tonsilities, necessitating the rushing of a substitute to the scene.
