

EARLY SUNDAY RACE TOPIC URGED

Ayao Hattori Almost Sorry He Didn't Remain at Work in California.

EDITOR DEPLORES WARS

J. A. Macdonald Says Message Lloyd-George Should Be Brought to
United States — Armament
Not Road to Peace.

CLOSING PROGRAMME OF THE WORLD'S CHRISTIAN CITIZEN- SHIP CONFERENCE TODAY.

Forenoon—Sermons in various pulpits by conference ministers.
Stadium, afternoon—2:30, grand conference chorus; 3:30, "Practical Patriotism," Dr. James S. McGraw, Pittsburg, Pa., U. S. A.; 4:30, "Church Cooperation in Public Charities," Dr. Hugh B. McCauley, Philadelphia, Pa., U. S. A.; 5:30, music; 6:40, "Democracy and Christianity," the Foundation of American Education, President P. L. Campbell, Eugene, Or., U. S. A.
Stadium, evening—7:30, grand conference chorus; 7:45, farewell platform addresses.
Churches of the city have been asked to hold no services tonight and the entire crowd will be at the stadium.
Seating for 25,000 persons has been arranged.

Speaking in his native tongue from the platform of the World's Christian Citizenship Conference last night, Ayao Hattori, of Okayama, Japan, president of a Japanese college and formerly a member of the lower house of the Japanese Parliament, gave his message to the conference, with Professor H. H. Gey, of Berkeley, acting as his interpreter.

Although the Japanese have not been able to become citizens of the United States, the speaker declared, he believed the condition of the Japanese people in California to be a desirable one. He was originally a resident of California and endeavored to take out citizenship papers, but was informed that he could not become a citizen because he was not a native-born American.

"When I visited among the Japanese people in California on the commission in which I am at present engaged," he said, "I am almost persuaded that should have remained in the United States, even though I could not become a citizen."

Solution Is Predicted.
He predicted that the common bond of Christian belief and civilization is eventually to solve the problem of the Japanese immigration to the United States.

Professor Gey, following the address of Mr. Hattori, declared that he believed the United States may well adopt a policy of granting citizenship to the Japanese people who come to this country and seek naturalization. In his investigations among the Japanese in California, he said, he had found them a sober, thrifty and reliable type of citizen. Many of them have made several efforts to become citizens and are anxious to give their allegiance to the United States. In the banking circles of California communities, he declared, while the Japanese are in business with the Japanese residents amounts to many hundreds of thousands of dollars, he has never found an occasion in which a Japanese failed to the extent of a single penny in meeting his business obligations.

Editor Holds Audience.
Hon. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, of Toronto, Canada, closed the programme with an address on "World's Citizenship and World Peace."

The power of his oratory and the brilliancy of the attack he made upon the institution of war and armament held the audience eagerly attentive during every moment while he was on the platform, applause interspersed his address and at its close he was given one of the loudest ovations of the conference. Mr. Macdonald spoke under the handicap of a severe attack of cold, but his effort under which he labored was scarcely apparent.

War he denounced as the supreme relic of paganism in a world living under a Christian form of civilization. "The distinction and danger of the modern situation," he said, "is in the fact that all of the world is a neighborhood. All the nations find themselves suddenly crowded into a world neighborhood, while as yet they have not learned the lesson of neighborliness. They are doing business in the world's front street, but the street is still half jungle."

Was Declared Folly.
"The one unevilsed and unchristianized remainder of life is the international area. The most mischievous relic of barbarism in the civilization of America and Britain and Europe is the unashamed and unrepudiated glorification of international war."

The problem of the international situation he declared was at the bottom a social one—the problem of "living together." As a social problem, he denied the possibility of its ever being settled by the use of methods of force. No one of the great controversies of history was ever settled, he maintained, by war, or was ever brought to a solution until the combatants began to come together in peaceful conference to arrive at a common basis of understanding. Increase of armaments to promote the preservation of peace he denounced as "the maddest of all the mad follies of war."

The social programme of Britain, the old-age pensions, the insurance against sickness and unemployment, the effort to redeem the life of the working classes from sordidness and despair, would be made possible if the $100,000,000 of one year's war budget were turned into the channels of social service.

Lloyd-George's Message Told.
"What Lloyd-George says sternly said to the churchmen of England needs to be told in America, in Japan, in Germany and in France. Hear him: 'The stain on your national flag is as deep, if that flag floats over slumbered children, and over ill-paid, ill-fed, ill-housed men and women, as if it were to droop in defeat on the field of war.'"

"In the world citizenship America must lead in the movement for the eradication of war. More than any other nation, America has to denounce the fruits of a policy of peace. No other country in the world can show 4000 miles of boundary between two countries with not a fort nor a single vestige of the regime of force."

The musical feature of last night's programme was a vocal solo by Robert Wilson, of New York. The Apollo Club will give the principal musical numbers at the closing programme tonight.

Quartet Will Sing.
One of the musical features of the Conference programme for today is to be the singing of the Sierra Mixed Quartet, from California, which has offered its services to the music committee and will sing the "Festival Te Deum" by Bach at the stadium this afternoon and will appear probably tonight. The Apollo Club also will give a selection at the meeting tonight. The personnel of the Sierra quartet is as follows: So-

PORTLAND PASTOR SPEAKS FOR SWEDISH IMMIGRATION

Rev. J. Richard Olson, Pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran Church.

Born in America of Swedish parents, the Rev. J. Richard Olson, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran Church, Ninth and Irving streets, was selected to say a word for that country at the international conference held in Portland during the World's Christian Citizenship Conference.

"It is with pardonable pride that I say that my immediate ancestry goes back to the land from which I would bring you a greeting," said Mr. Olson, after having spoken a few words in Swedish.

"But of greater significance," he continued, "to America and to the entire Christendom is this: Sweden is the country that gave birth to John Ericsson, a great engineering genius, who, providentially sent to these shores in the dark hour of civil strife; and the country that gave birth to that gigantic champion of religious and civil liberty, the God-fearing, humanity-loving, sacrificing hero of Lutzen, Gustavus Adolphus."

"Speaking on behalf of that country, its colors, the gold and blue, and his loyal Majesty, Gustav V, do we bring tribute to Columbia on this, the natal day of her independence, to her starry banner and the principles which it protectingly flings to the breeze."

Rev. Olson is Chaplain and Lieutenant of the Oregon Naval Militia.

prano, Zilpha R. Jenkins; contralto, Ruth W. Anderson; tenor, Carl E. Anderson; baritone, Lowell M. Redfield; pianiste, Mable H. Redfield.

Piano Tuner Disturbs Visitor's Siesta

Musically Inclined Delegate to World's Conference by Chance
Picks Out Most Inharmonious
Hour and Place for Afternoon
Siesta.

A MUSICALLY inclined delegate to the Citizenship Conference strayed from the fold and sat on the porch of Hotel Portland in the shade, on one of the hot afternoons. Other persons also enjoyed the cool retreat and each at a different hour of the day. The piano tuner, however, picked out the most inharmonious hour and place for his afternoon siesta.

He was sitting on the porch of the hotel, looking out at the city, when he was disturbed by the sound of a piano in one of the hotel parlors. He was annoyed, it literally "smote" because there was no harmony. Maybe it was C or maybe D that was struck first; anyway, other notes followed in irregular fashion, but with fearful monotony.

APOLLO CLUB WILL SING TODAY.

The Apollo Club, Portland's well-known men's chorus of 60 voices, has been urged by the Conference officials and those in attendance at the meetings, to appear again and the board of directors of the club announced that two selections by the club will be offered Sunday night. This is a notice to all members of the Apollo Club to be in front of the grandstand at the stadium Sunday evening at 7:30 precisely. "The Recollection" and one other number will be given.

Sometimes one note would be struck five or six times in succession. A fat traveling man in a had been half asleep stirred uneasily.

"Spose someone thinks we're enjoying that," he said, testily. The playing continued. It got on everyone's nerves. The keys were struck too hard and firmly to be a child's hand; evidently some grown-up didn't know any better.

The musically-inclined delegate to the Citizenship Conference couldn't stand it any longer. Was someone crazy in there? He left his chair and made for the door, disappearing in the direction of the parlor.

The colony on the porch waited. The "music" ceased, then began again. Evidently the Citizenship Conference man had been defeated.

He reappeared.

"They're tuning the piano," he said.

THOUSAND SING IN CHORUS

International Welsh Elisteddof Declared Best Held in America.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 5.—The ringing voices of almost 1000 singers brought the International Welsh Elisteddof to a close tonight after five days of singing and religious exercises at the most successful meeting of Welsh people ever held in the United States. The next meeting will be held in San Francisco in 1915.

The last sessions were given over to some of the most interesting features of the Elisteddof, chief among them being the competition for mixed choirs of 150 members each.

A $550 88-note Primatone player piano, at Graves' Removal Sale $250. See advertisement, page 9, section 3.

NATION IS ADVISED TO ADOPT RELIGION

Dr. Wylie Would Have Government and Education Recognize Bible.

BEAUTIES OF CITY PRAISED

Pennsylvania Professor Urges Delegates to Christian Citizenship
Conference to Visit Heights
Before Leaving Portland.

Recognition of Christianity, not only in the individual life, but in the organic principles of the United States Government, was urged by Rev. Richard Cameron Wylie, of Pittsburg, at the afternoon session of the World's Christian Citizenship Conference yesterday.

"Those who insist that religion is an affair of the individual or of the church alone are wrong," he said. "Our Government derives its sovereignty from God, and it is meet that we should give recognition to Him in our Constitution and in our common law."

Dr. Wylie also urged incorporation of Christianity in the public schools and other institutions of the state.

Religion Improves Immigration.

Dr. Walter Laidlaw, of New York, outlined the development of laws affecting immigration in the United States, declaring that the Christian religion has had a vital effect in steadily improving conditions under which new citizens are brought to the United States and are converted into citizens of this country.

Dr. R. B. Peery, of Atchison, speaking on "The Impact of the Occident on the Orient," outlined the results resulting from the activity of the Western peoples among those of the Far East, and pointed out that the future demands still greater activity on the part of the Occidental people, if they desire to make their influence on the Orient most beneficial.

Portland Beauties Praised.

Professor H. M. Downie, of Beaver Falls, Pa., in an impromptu address paid high tribute to the beauty of Portland's surroundings and urged that every delegate before leaving the city should visit the Heights and enjoy the scenic advantages.

Professor Downie, at the close of his address, called upon the audience for contributions to the reform movements of the conference, offering to start the list himself with a pledge of $1000.

A message received from Mrs. Christina Armstrong, of Salinas, Cal., pledged another $1000 for the movement to have the Bible put in the public school curriculum. The appeal was answered by J. A. McCauley, of Pittsburg; B. L. Rose, of Gaston, Or., and C. H. Larabee, of Fayette, Ia., who stood up in the grandstand and pledged $100 each.

Mrs. Marx Offers Solo.

Mrs. Delphine Marx sang a solo in the middle of the afternoon programme. The solo was "The Christian Religion," a hold-over conference on temperance, was held in the White Temple yesterday morning. The principal speaker was the Rev. J. J. Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland, originator of the "Catch-My-Pal" temperance movement.

D. C. Poling and L. M. Leiper, members of a special committee from the sectional conference, submitted their report, in which it was urged that all citizens of the United States make an effort to send as large a representation as possible to the great temperance convention in St. Louis in November.

TURKISH EDUCATOR HERE

STYLES, IMITATED BY AMERI-CANS, DISCUSSED.

Many Languages Taught in Dr. Haigazian's School Avoiding Jealousy of Nationalities.

BY MAY KELLY.
Ye shades of Bulgarian blueses: Although they come in colors so deep, they rarely, you really can't call them shades!

Anyway, I've just been interviewing Dr. Haigazian, a distinguished gentleman from the borderland of Turkish warfare, and although as president of the Apostolic College for Young Men at Konia, Asia Minor, he might not be considered as a good representative of our own Ladies Tailoring Association, yet he's been right on the ground and seen real Bulgarians bulging and blousing in all directions, so listen!

You can't wear 'em too baggy! So the HEAD OF FOREIGN MISSION- ARY SOCIETY TELLS OF WORK IN PHILIPPINES.

That some of the best Christians in the world are being made out of former "head hunters" in the wilds of the Philippines is the word brought to the second World's Christian Citizenship Conference by Rev. Archibald McLean, of Cincinnati. Mr. McLean is president of the National Foreign Missionary Society of the Church of the Disciples of Christ, and continually has his hand on the lever which controls the movements of some 450 missionaries and 1500 native helpers in the most remote corners of the earth.

modish young women who are now appearing on our streets in these gunny-sack effects, gathered into a wide band around their hips, should cut off the bands and let the gathers fly loose in the breeze.

A real Bulgar on top of all his tunics, wears a short coat, cut also in the style with the sleeves hanging empty over his shoulders like a soldier home from the wars with both arms gone and a long, narrow cap a-top of his head with French guano drooping therefrom. All loose and jaunty one would think, and calculated to give him a wide awake and plenty of freedom movement when he feels like stabling a Turk.

No; those are not their dress-up, party clothes, as they are with us, at present. No, indeed! Those are just their lounging, everyday, poker-playing, hand-me-downs (they'd be astonished to see our fair women wearing such things to tea, balls and receptions) and when it comes to fighting clothes, they send to France and have their uniforms made there. Moreover, they fight with French guns. Dr. Haigazian told me, and so their victory over the Turks, who used German guns, was doubly delightful to the French, who attributed it all to their own guns.

Dr. Haigazian, however, says that the Bulgarians were much better trained and disciplined than the Turks. In fact, were in a high state of efficiency, to borrow a commission-chapter campaign term, and the Turks were half-starved most of the time, but if properly trained and fed would make good soldiers, he says, for they are brave.

One effect of the war has been to make the Turks realize their own weakness, for they imagined themselves invincible and able to conquer any nation in the world. It seems that the King of Bulgaria has a strong nose, and a common threat of the Turks was that they would go and shorten King Ferdinand's nose! Instead of that, the Bulgarians reached Constantinople in a short time, which so astounded the inhabitants that they couldn't believe in their defeat, and the government covered the real facts of the war, and published false reports of having Greek and Bulgarian prisoners to deceive the people.

Dr. Haigazian is an Armenian, but speaks many languages, and at one time spent five years in America, coming as far west as Chicago, where he studied in the university. The Apostolic College at Konia, of which he is president, is supported by funds from America, but many Jews and Mohammedans attend who are free to keep their own religion.

Many languages are taught there, the Turkish, because it is the official language of the government; French, which is the commercial language; Greek, both modern and classic; Armenian; and English, which is the language of the school—thus avoiding any jealousy among the other nationalities represented there—and which is also the society language adopted by the people of fashion in that country.

DELEGATES GIVE THANKS

CORDIAL RECEPTION IN PORT-LAND PLEASES.

Executive Committee of Christian Conference Adopts Resolution Extolling Press of Oregon.

Over the signature of delegates from more than a dozen foreign countries who were present at the World's Christian Citizenship Conference, a formal resolution of thanks to the citizens of Portland for their cordial reception in this city has been issued in the following form:

"We the undersigned, delegates from foreign lands, who have just closed our Christian Citizenship Conference, deeply impressed with the great cordiality and hospitality extended to us by the citizens of the city of Portland during our stay, and unable to express individually our heartfelt gratitude for all this kindness, wish to do so collectively by this declaration, and convey to them assurance of our sincere desire for the highest welfare and truest prosperity of this beautiful city."

The names of the delegates signing the resolution are: Dr. R. J. Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland; the Rev. J. J. Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland; Dr. C. H. Larabee, of Fayette, Ia.; Dr. Theophil Mann, of Frankfurt-on-Maine, Germany; Dr. P. DeRougemont, of Neuchâtel, Switzerland; Dr. Charles D'Aubigne, of Paris, France; Dr. Armenag H. Haigazian, of Konia, Asia Minor; Dr. Berni Stoylen, of Christchurch, New Zealand; Dr. J. S. Macdonald, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Signor David, Bosto, of Palermo, Italy; W. M. Rochester, of Toronto, Canada; Pyong K. Yoon, of Korea; Dr. J. S. Matoda, of Tokyo, Japan; Dr. G. A. Baynes, of Chile.

The executive committee of the conference yesterday issued the following resolution of thanks to the press: "Whereas, The press of the entire world has contributed much to the success of the Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference; therefore, be it Resolved, That the thanks of this conference be offered to all newspapers and periodicals co-operating, and most particularly to the publications issued in the City of Portland and the State of Oregon, all of which have rendered exceptional service."

MORMONS SEEK DEBATE

CHALLENGE TO DR. ROBERT F.
COYLE IS RENEWED.

Melvin J. Ballard Invites Detractors to Go to Salt Lake and Make Investigation of Faith.

Mormon leaders in Portland have renewed their challenge to Dr. Robert F. Coyle, of Denver, or any other of the opponents of their faith, to meet them in joint debate at any place that they may designate for that purpose.

The offer of the Baker Theater and several other auditoriums in which to hold the debate, so no cost need attach to the meeting. In the original offer they agreed to pay half the expenses of a hall and to allow their opponents to take up a collection from which to provide their own refreshments. Since then the Baker Theater has been offered free of charge.

Pending an answer to their challenge the conference yesterday issued the following resolution: "Resolved, That the undersigned, members of the Mormon faith, challenge Dr. Coyle and his supporters to their regular Sunday evening services in their church at East Tenth and Sherman streets tonight. All the charges and accusations made by Dr. Coyle and other speakers at the recent session of the Christian Citizenship Conference be brought to the attention of the church in the Northwest yesterday."

"We have invited the delegates to this conference to go to Salt Lake City and make their own investigations," said Melvin J. Ballard, head of the church in the Northwest, yesterday. "They can hold their meetings in the Mormon tabernacle and get their information first hand, if they want to."

"We always are ready and willing to answer any questions that are made in

THE LOUVRE

Corner Fourth and Alder Streets
The Louvre will introduce to the public on Monday, July 7, at 1 P. M., and after that evenings, between 6 to 8 and 10 to 12 o'clock.

THE CELEBRATED YAMA YAMA GIRLS

To properly introduce this new feature the Louvre dining-room has been redecorated in Japanese style and in keeping with the "Three Twins" opera. The public will find the Louvre the most cozy place in the city to spend a few hours.

Instrumental and Vocal Music, 6-8; 10-12 P. M.

THEO. KRUSE, Prop. FRITZ HAENLEIN, Musical Director

5000 SEATS ADDED

Big Crowd Expected at Closing
Session of Conference.

MEETING CLOSSES TONIGHT

Recommendation of Business Committee, for Place of Gathering in 1915, Due Today—San Francisco Likely Winner.

Attendance tonight at the closing session of the World's Christian Citizenship Conference is expected to exceed that of any previous session of the conference and to bring out the largest open-air congregation that has ever gathered at a religious service in the City of Portland.

The executive committee, of which J. E. Werlein is secretary, and the sub-committees have made careful preparations for the accommodation of the crowds at the meeting. Yesterday seats were installed in the stadium sufficient to accommodate 5000 additional persons. Between 20,000 and 25,000 people can be accommodated, and it is believed that fully that number will attend.

Farewell speeches from the speakers of the conference will be given. Of special note will be the speeches of Ng Poon Chew, of China, and Dr. C. W. Bailey, of St. C. Minton, of Pittsburg, will preside.

The report of the business committee of the conference recommending the place of meeting for the conference next session will be given in the afternoon. This recommendation will be made to the executive committee for final decision. Some 40 cities have made the invitation for the next conference, among which the principal ones are Atlantic City, New York, Chicago, Baltimore, Boston, Nashville, St. Louis and San Francisco. It is probable that the recommendation from the business committee will be in favor of San Francisco in 1915, owing to the Panama-Pacific Exposition in that year.

Speakers in the afternoon session will be Dr. James McGraw, of "Practical Patriotism," Dr. H. B. MacCauley, of Philadelphia, on "Church Co-operation in Public Charities," and P. L. Campbell, president of the University of Oregon, on "Democracy and Christianity, the Foundation of American Education."

Edleson guarantees good fuel. **

Messrs. Mead & Murphy
Sales Agents for LAURELHURST,
The Addition With Character

offer this beautiful new home, constructed by one of the high-class contractors of this city, for sale at $13,500 on easy terms.

This well-appointed residence is located in the most exclusive section of LAURELHURST, facing south on the very crest of East Burnside street, a splendid view of LAURELHURST, Mt. Albion, Albee's mansion, and is built as heavy and staunch as a residence could be; all floors being hardwood or tile.

Living-room of old ivory and mahogany finish. Fireplace faced with onyx embellished with an elaborate design of solid African mahogany. The ceiling cornice is of a neat southern ornamental plaster effect. Walls have been left to paper or tint to suit. All windows are plate glass.

A fountain, or palm fountain, in the dining-room, with patterned floor or tile; fountain to be selected from several sketches from the Galloway Studio of Philadelphia. This room is a decided innovation as it shows its artistic effect from the main entry hall.

The large dining-room is finished in old ivory and has two of the Colonial closets of a century ago, with recessed space between for a buffet.

The kitchen, the most practical and sanitary in Portland, bar none, has walls tiled as well as floor. Large pottery sink with tiled drain boards. Massive built-in refrigerator, with four doors, holding 100 pounds of ice. A breakfast table nook off to itself, which makes a pleasing effect. Tiled recess for range.

The maid's room, on first floor off kitchen, has private bath and large closet with ventilation.

Basement has large billiard room, with fireplace, a corner is of a neat southern ornamental plaster effect. Windows, two large roomy closets.

Bathroom connects with owner's bedroom. All fixtures in separate recesses, such as shower, built-in tub and toilet, walls tiled as well as floor. Two extra-size medicine cabinets.

Sleeping-porch, garage, covered driveway and large living-porch, which could be made into an attractive den if desired, go to make this the most elaborate residence on sale in Portland.

Our home-selling department, having its own auto service, has other desirable homes for sale, and also invites listing of first-class residences in LAURELHURST.

If you are looking for a beautiful home, it will be greatly to your advantage to call and look over our offerings at office of Laurelhurst Co., 270 1/2 Stark street, or see Clements and Delahunty at Tract Office, East Thirty-ninth and Glisan streets.