

FEELING AGAINST AMERICANS RISING

Ambassador Wilson's Protest to Mexican Government Receives Attention.

PLAIN WARNING IS GIVEN

Huerta's Minister Told Reparation Will Be Exact if Any American Is Injured - Exodus From Capital Stimulated.

MEXICO CITY, July 12.—The American Ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, protested today to the Minister of Foreign Affairs against further anti-American demonstrations, and tonight the authorities refused permission to students to hold a demonstration they were planning for tomorrow.

In his note to the Mexican government the Ambassador deplored that the youth of the capital were to be permitted to indulge in violence to Americans residing in Mexico. He intimated the danger of allowing persons to use as tools the students and others who expected to participate.

Americans Show Alarm. Owing to alarm at the development of hostile feeling as displayed by the newspapers, the number of Americans leaving for Vera Cruz was greatly augmented today.

Ambassador Wilson has sent $1000 to George C. Carothers, American consular agent at Tepic, to arrange to buy food for Americans unable to reach the country because of their destitution.

Embassy Is Threatened. An anonymous letter containing threats to blow up the United States Embassy was received today by Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, and immediately referred to the Mexican Foreign Office for investigation.

As an indication of the fervor of patriotism that has been announced in Mexico, the Department of the Interior announced today that representatives of 30,000 workmen had appealed to the government for military instruction in order that they might be ready to fight for the national existence.

Mulhall Permitted to Go. The committee took a recess at 2:30 o'clock until 10 o'clock Monday. With the consent of the committee, Mulhall went to New York to spend Sunday, but the Senate committee remained technically in session so he could be called back to the stand if the House committee attempted to stop him.

James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers and referred to by Mulhall in a published statement as the "chief lobbyist" of the association at Washington, had also been subpoenaed by the House committee. He arrived today.

Mulhall Tells of Payroll. Mulhall in his testimony today told of his activities in labor contests and of a "payroll" he maintained to help him in his work. One time, he said, he hired six union men to work against William Hughes, now Senator from New Jersey, and had been $1800 which came from the National Association of Manufacturers through Hughes.

Association Not Vindictive. "He (McComas) needs to understand," the letter added, "that the industrial needs of the country are more thoroughly organized than ever before and that they will have none of his or of his eight-hour bill. All the same, they are not vindictive, and if he honestly means to let up, you, of course, can promise to do anything that you can remove any of the obstacles that you can from the path of his ambition."

Waechter was not up to the mark in Washington. He dodged too many votes on labor bills, said Senator Page. The inquiry shifted to Albany, N. Y. The introduction of a bill in the New York Legislature, by Senator Page, which would have placed the burden of proof upon the defendant in cases of injury from negligence, was discussed.

"Boas" Barnes Seen at Albany. "Cushing" sent me to oppose the bill as something that ought not to pass at that time," said Mulhall. Senator Cummins asked who Mulhall saw in Albany when he worked against the bill. "You didn't have to see many people in Albany at that time to stop a bill of that kind," I saw Boas Barnes. "Through him you defeated the bill?" "I believe I did. I knew him for many years."

Witness testified his activities were directed toward preventing sympathetic strikes in Philadelphia, keeping track of what the unions were doing and to control the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia, through men in that union.

Counsel Want to Appear. James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, made a formal request on the committee to have it give Robert McCarter, counsel for the American Federation of Labor, the right to appear as counsel for the manufacturers' body.

McMichael is put on the stand by the Garrett committee Monday that body will plunge at once into the Mulhall charges that spying work was done in the House for the manufacturers' association. Mulhall alleged that McMichael received $50 weekly and extra amounts to secure information when chief of the House pages and that he used the staff of pages to aid him.

It is expected that two investigations, therefore, will be in full running order Monday or Tuesday. The ball actually was started rolling yesterday toward an investigation by the grand jury of Multnomah County of alleged fraud in connection with the circulation of the workmen's compensation referendum petitions.

Ernest R. Ringo, special agent of Governor West, sent out subpoenas to several of the circulators, and two were interviewed at District Attorney Evans' office by Mr. Ringo as they appeared.

The Oregon Packing Company will reopen for business tomorrow morning, Governor West visited the plant in the afternoon before the riot got under way and discussed the wage matter with the management, as he had promised the labor people at the morning conference that he would do so.

Extra Watchmen Hired. The Governor's back was no sooner turned than the disorder broke out in full force. Because of the threats to burn the plant the management employed three extra watchmen last night.

After Governor West had declared that he would take charge of the plant himself if necessary and run it and that he would run the strike, too, if he thought best, picketing was resumed by girl strikers at the Packing plant yesterday afternoon following the conference in the Council chamber in the City Hall participated in by the Governor, the strikers, L. W. W. and Socialist leaders and the Oregon Industrial Welfare Commission.

Commerce Club Supports Cannery Project. Movement Is Started to Improve County Roads—High School Department to Be Established.

Not discouraged by the failure of the Eastern Multnomah Railway Company so far to build the proposed extension of the Mount Hood Railway from Cottrell to Sandy, the Sandy Commerce Club has taken up several plans for the development of that district, including the erection of a cannery that will take care of the small fruits and berries and vegetables grown in that community.

It has been demonstrated that the Sandy Valley, of which Sandy is a center, has no railroad connection with the Portland market it is thought that a cannery would take care of the output and thus provide a market at home. The plans for working out the cannery proposition have been definite since the club was organized by another season to get the enterprise under way.

Another progressive movement at Sandy was in the action of the taxpayers of the district in voting to establish a permanent high school department. The ninth grade was taught last year for the first time. There was considerable discussion at the time, and a meeting was made for the high school department. It is expected that an educational center will be developed at Sandy through establishment of a high school department. Pupils from outside points will be charged a small tuition to help defray expenses.

house directly opposite the cannery, two good-sized disturbances got under way and the police waded in and arrested Edith Kohler and Andy Kohler and bundled them into an auto amid jeers and curses. Kohler is a cook and the woman is his wife. They were taken to headquarters and released on their own recognizance.

Working Girls Insulted. The management of the cannery let the girls, 150 in all, out in small detachments and by various exits, but the mob was on all sides to jeer and cast insults. When the last of the young women had gone, speaking started again and continued until it began to grow dark, when the scene of action was shifted to Sixth and Washington streets. Here, as on the East Side, the speakers unloosed their talk and directed their abuse at Governor West.

and said: "We have made a Socialist out of every policeman on duty over there."

Mrs. Schwab rebuffed the Governor throughout the meeting by frequent interruptions in a high-pitched voice. Father O'Hara also made the assertion of sympathy for the strikers, even to the point of shedding her life-blood or being burned on a cross.

Women Define Issue. That the packing plant ought to be closed if it cannot pay its women workers $1.50 a day was the assertion of witnesses. The women leading the strikers told Governor West it was their business as well as that of the strikers when women had to work for as low as 40 cents a day, because if some women had to do it that lowered the wage scale for all the rest.

The Governor was told that this strike had been nothing but a peaceful picnic, but that the cannery people saw they were losing and had had the strike leaders arrested in the hope of breaking up the strike that way.

Inspection Is Promised. Governor West promised that the State Health and Sanitation authorities would see that any insanitary conditions that might prevail at the packing plant would be remedied and he said he was sure that the management would be glad to co-operate in this.

West Takes Stand. "There is no use in waiting for the Commission," they shouted, "the berry season is passing and soon there will be no work."

Mayor Does Not Attend. The Governor also took a veiled rap at the city authorities when he said he would do all in the premises that was needed to be done, if the local authorities would picketing. They all chorused "No." Then she asked if they would return to the plant as pickets and they shouted "Yes."

Picketing Is Resumed. The conference broke up in confusion after Governor West had declared that he would take charge of the plant and I. W. W. leaders, who have been directing the strike rallied the girls and marched them out of the City Hall building to the plant on the East Side, where picketing was resumed at once.

Stetler, of this city, has reduced his weight fifty-seven pounds in an incredibly short time by wearing a simple, invisible device washing less than an ounce. This, when worn as directed, acts as an infallible flesh reducer, dispensing entirely with dieting, medicine, and exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this easy means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Prof. D. W. Burns, of No. 17 West Thirty-eighth street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him. (Advertisement)
