GEARHART CONTINUES GAY
Surfeit of Good Times Portion of Sojourners at Popular Resort.

GEARHART, Or., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Gearhart has been surfeited with good times this season, and so far there is no cessation of these jolly affairs. All the visitors to this attractive resort are unanimous in proclaiming this summer the gayest and most delightful ever experienced. In the vernacular of the present day, "there is something doing every minute," as a glance at milder's calendar will prove.

An added attraction for tomorrow is the paper chase to take place in the afternoon. The commanding officer and staff from Fort Stevens are going to participate in this event and a number of devotees of the saddle from Portland have also entered.

The Good Roads convention brought forth a large number of visitors to Gearhart. Samuel Hill and party of 15 headed the list and Senator Jonathan Bourne arrived yesterday, adding interest to the "notables" present.

The golf tournament of last week was one of the best held on Gearhart links and was responsible for the surplus of men, as there were about 10 men to one woman attending the dance Saturday evening, thereby assuring more than enough partners for the vivacious young belles who "just love to dance."

One of the attractive affairs of the week was the card party given at Gearhart Hotel to aid the little Catholic chapel. The committee in charge of the affair received $40 net and everybody had a good time. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. W. Lathrop and W. G. Nease. About 18 tables were made up and both bridge and 599 were played. A jolly supper party was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Honeyman Saturday evening and Mrs. James Dougherty was hostess at a similar affair Sunday evening.

SEASIDE SEASON AT HEIGHT

September is ushered in with good weather and expectancy.

SEASIDE, Or., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Perfect weather makes the summer visitors loath to leave the beach resorts, and the balmy September days bid fair to outnumber the present month in the way of an influx of pleasure-seekers. Each day brings down its full quota of visitors, who are planning to stay way through the closing month. Very few cottages are closed, and all the fascinating diversions found at the beach at the height of the season are proving more attractive each week, and enthusiasm, instead of being on the wane, grows apace.

One of the largest affairs of the week and perhaps the most deserving was the card party given at Hotel Moore on Thursday afternoon for the benefit of the Catholic Church, whose only means of paying off its indebtedness is by subscription and through the efforts of the parishioners.

Phillip Hart spent several days at the Wessinger cottage during the week.

Miss Mary Agnes Sulgrove and Mrs. C. E. Evans, of Astoria, Mont., are sojourning in Seaside.

Mrs. E. C. Johnson was hostess at a charming card party Tuesday afternoon for the younger set.

LONG BEACH HOLDS GUESTS
Surf Bathing Continues to Be One of Chief Attractions.

LONG BEACH, Wash., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—This resort is still proving attractive to many summer visitors, who will pass the next few weeks in absolute rest, preparatory to the winter's festivities and duties. Bathing in the surf continues to be the main diversion, with an occasional picnic and motor trip. Many of the younger set have returned to their homes on account of leaving early for schools in the East.

A crowd of boys left last week for Cannon Beach, where Meisel Griffin will entertain them at his home. The party includes Martin Nelson, Will Corcoran, Leo Malarkey, Robert Malarkey, Harold Hoffer, P. Daniels, John Parsons, Percy McClung, R. Gilbert, Hart Spellman, Buck Garrett and Hugh Lacey.

Mrs. L. Chamberau has closed her Meadows cottage and is visiting relatives in Portland.

After a pleasant stay at Long Beach, Mrs. W. M. Taylor and daughter, Florence, closed their summer home and returned to Watsburg, Wash.

In a pretty cottage at Long Beach are Mr. and Mrs. William Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. George Baer, of Seattle,
