WESTERN BELLE IS PROMINENT AT GOVERNORS' CONVENTION JUST HELD

Gladys Ravenscroft, ex-Champion Golfer of England, Will Try Her Skill in This Country--Lady Charles Henry, Formerly Julia Lewisohn, of New York, Introduces American Garden Movement in London.

Miss Ammons

Miss Aileen

Miss Mona Dunne

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—at the recent convention of the House of Governors held at Colorado Springs, Colo., four daughters of Governors received about as much attention as the delegates. The quartet of beauties represented the South, the Middle West and the Far West. Miss Olivia O'Neill, daughter of Governor O'Neill, of Alabama, although not yet 20, has attended three conventions of the Governors. The other members were: Miss Ammons, daughter of Governor Ammons, of Colorado, and the Misses Aileen and Mona Dunne, daughters of Governor Dunne, of Illinois.

Another pretty English golf player is coming here to try her skill against Marion Hollins this fall. She is Gladys Ravenscroft, ex-champion of England.

An American woman has introduced into England the American garden movement, and it proved an immediate success. She is the wife of Sir Charles S. Henry, M. P., and was Julia Lewisohn, of New York. Her husband represents in Parliament a constituency in Shropshire, and it was among the children of that county that Lady Henry first began to teach the cultivation of gardens. She next took a piece of waste ground in Amptill Square, in London, and began the education of 40 children of St. Pancras school, who a few months ago had never seen a bulb. She taught them about seeds and bulbs and they are now cultivating two plots apiece—one of flowers and the other of vegetables. Many prominent persons have taken a great interest in the work.

OLD LANDMARK IS PASSING

Roller Mills Structure at Harrisburg Being Razed.

HARRISBURG, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The old roller mills building, one of the historic landmarks of the city, is being torn down by workmen and as soon as the ground can be cleared one or two residences will be erected on the site. This building was originally built for a school, being the second school building used in the city. The first and second floors were used for the public schools while the third was the home of the Masonic lodge. Some of the present business men were initiated into the Masonic lodge in this building about 40 years ago.

When no longer suitable for educational purposes the structure was moved across the street and a flouring mill installed. For several years past the building has been used as a warehouse and has been considered as a menace in case of fire to the public school building across the street as well as nearby residences.

MONMOUTH PASTOR GOES

Rev. J. M. Orrick Enters New Work at Centralia, Wash.

MONMOUTH, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Rev. J. M. Orrick, pastor of the Christian Church in this city, recently tendered his resignation and left for Centralia, Wash., where he will take up new work.

Rev. Mr. Orrick was elected pastor last December while connected with the church here promoting plans for a new building. As a result of his work the Christian Church here is greatly strengthened and a new $4000 building is nearly completed. Services will first be held in it next Sunday.

Corvallis Woman Dies.

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. Paul Rusch, wife of a wealthy farmer and fruitgrower, died Wednesday night following a two weeks' illness. Mr. and Mrs. Rusch came to Corvallis from Indiana two years ago. Mrs. Rusch was past 30 years of age and the mother of two children.
