

You Are What Your Reading Makes You

Portrait Copyright 1899, by Notman, Boston.

What you read has a great bearing on what you earn, whether your job is that of a mechanic, office worker or millionaire banker.

Napoleon said, "Show me a family of readers and I will show you the people that rule the world."

For forty years Dr. Eliot has been training men to rule the world. Now he is guiding busy men and women to read for SUCCESS.

For you he has selected out of all the world's literature, just fifty volumes—418 masterpieces by 300 authors. Here, he says, are the essentials of a liberal education—just the books that the twentieth century man needs to read.

A free thirty-two page book tells the fascinating story of

Dr. Eliot's Five-Foot Shelf of Books

The Harvard Classics

Now Yours at Only a Few Cents a Day

Good reading marks the difference between a broad and narrow perspective of life—between a position in the lead and one in the line—often between success and failure.

That is why Dr. Eliot has gathered together and arranged in such splendid order the best of all the world's literature for today's busy men and women. In the Five-Foot Shelf you are given a picture of the progress of civilization. You live through every age with Dr. Eliot. Here he says are "the essentials of a liberal education, if you can read but fifteen minutes a day."

The Best Literature of All the Ages

Are you fond of travel? You can have Columbus tell you in his own words how he discovered America. You can travel around the world in the works of the great travelers with Dr. Eliot.

Drama? Here are all the great dramas of history from the days of Greece. Read them in your own library with Dr. Eliot to explain every movement of the actors.

P. F. Collier & Son, Inc.
409 W. 13th St., New York City

Please send to me by mail, free of charge, and without any obligation on my part, the 32-page book describing Dr. Eliot's Five-Foot Shelf of Books and Reader's Course.

Name

Occupation

Address

19246e

Biography? The greatest men of history are waiting to talk to you and Dr. Eliot will introduce them to you.

Dr. Eliot is ever at your side with introductions and footnotes to make your reading still more profitable and enjoyable.

76,000 Reading Topics

Seventy-six thousand subjects are indexed for your instant reference in volume fifty. By simply turning to this magnificent index you find references to all that has been written by the 300 greatest writers of the ages on any conceivable subject. This index is a master key to all literature. No more sorting through dozens of books for information. Dr. Eliot has done the searching for you.

The Popular Edition at a Few Cents Per Day

The Popular Edition has been issued at about one-tenth the price at which the De Luxe Edition was sold at Dr. Eliot's request for men and women who want the matter rather than the binding. But these books are printed from the same clear cut type used in printing the costlier edition and the quality of binding and workmanship is the result of thirty-eight years' experience in the making of good books by P. F. Collier & Son.

P. F. COLLIER & SON, Inc.
Publishers of Good Books
Portland, Ore., 415 Oregonian Bldg.
General Offices, 409 W. 13th St., New York City

At Least Send for This Free Booklet

Dr. Eliot, Trainer of men for big Jobs, tells YOU all about his Five-Foot Shelf of Books in this Free Booklet. Send for it.

