

COURTSHIP IN 60'S LEADS TO WEDDING

Romance Begun in New York Before Civil War Culminates in Portland.

EACH IS 73 YEARS OLD

Charles D. Jewett, of Albany, Learns Whereabouts of Former Sweetheart While on Trip to Early Home and Wins Bride.

Romance, which was begun in Watertown, N. Y., before the Civil War, yesterday resulted in the marriage of Charles D. Jewett, of Albany, Or., and Mrs. Mattie Leland, of Fargo, N. D. The bride and bridegroom are each 73 years old. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Hinson, pastor of the White Temple. The couple will pass their honeymoon in California and will return to make their home in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewett were chums in the New York town when they were boy and girl. In 1861 Mrs. Jewett married and moved with her husband to Vermont. Shortly afterwards Mr. Jewett married and moved to Nebraska, where he engaged in farming. Ten years ago he came to Albany, hoping to benefit his health by the change. Several years ago his wife died.

Last Summer Mr. Jewett made a trip to his boyhood home and in looking up old friends inquired for Mrs. Leland. He was told that her husband had died and that she was living with her brother in Fargo, N. D. On his way West after the completion of his visit in New York Mr. Jewett stopped at Fargo and visited Mrs. Leland. When Mr. Jewett returned to Oregon he could not forget the old sweetheart and correspondence followed. Yesterday morning Mrs. Leland arrived in Portland and the happy bridegroom appeared at the County Courthouse and applied for a wedding license. He did not deny the pleasure of the mission, and his aged face beamed as though he were a bashful boy when he told the story of his romance.

Those who saw the couple after the marriage had been solemnly said that if their smiles were a criterion, their 73 years will rest lightly on their shoulders during the years that are to come.

CODY WELCOMES PRINCE

Albert of Monaco Says Wynnong Town Even Too Hospitable.

CODY, Wyo., Sept. 25.—Prince Albert, of Monaco, came, saw and was conquered by the little town of Cody. He was sounded at the welcome that has been accorded him and is not backward in expressing his appreciation. "You are almost too hospitable to me," he declared with a smile when he responded to a welcoming speech at the opening of the Park County Fair. "I really don't deserve all this honor, but it makes me glad just the same. If I were not the ruler of Cody, I should like to be Mayor of Cody, or maybe a County Commissioner. That would be a higher honor in my eyes." Then he paid a glowing tribute to America and its people. "I have visited many lands in my life," he said, "but like America best of all. I can understand now why you people succeed. It's because you know how to hustle, and do not know what failure means. That indomitable, fighting, American spirit is wonderful to me."

FARMER'S ESTATE $700,000

First Norwegian in North Dakota County Walked Into Country.

SHERBROOK, N. D., Sept. 25.—Fingal Enger, Steel County's first Norwegian farmer, who died recently, left an estate valued at $669,000, according to appraisements made by the administrators. The estate is made up largely of land. In addition to the valuation placed by the administrators there is this season's crop, which will bring the total to about $700,000. Enger located in Steel County in 1878, being then without means, and he traveled into the county by foot, making more than 100 miles to reach the point he selected as his home.

FAMOUS OPERA SCENE WILL BE SUNG BY STAR

Beautiful Second Act Finale From 'Madame Butterfly' Will Be Part of Geraldine Farrar's Programme Wednesday Night.

GERALDINE FARRAR AS "MADAME BUTTERFLY."

Of all the prima donnas who have ever visited Portland, no one has a more winning voice and personality than Geraldine Farrar, who, assisted by the delightful cellist, Alwin Schroeder, opens the Lois Steers-Wynn Coman season October 1. The programme on this occasion will reveal all the beautiful tones of voice and "cello and the rare art of the two artists.

Among the many enchanting songs, ballads and lieder, is one aria from grand opera, the beautiful scene from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," with which Geraldine Farrar is so inseparably connected. It is the closing scene of the second act, unsurpassed for picturesque charm and grace. To celebrate the return of her American lover and husband, whose ship is just entering the harbor, Butterfly, in accordance with Japanese custom, has great baskets of blossoms brought in, and, always singing, showered the room with petals. She sways with the rhythm of joy and music, flinging the flowers in reckless profusion, her voice seeming to follow their long flight—up in the air—and down again. Thus rainbow clouds of jasmine, peach-blossoms and violets are scattered about while the orchestra tosses light to the breeze dainty fluttering phrases, which are seemingly shaken from the instruments like flowers from their stems by the winds of heaven.

As daylight melts into dusk, Butterfly decks herself in her wedding gown; and then as the moon rises, begins her weird, night-long wait, the thrill of approaching tragedy breaking mysteriously and solemnly into the music.

No more poetic scene could be imagined than this as Geraldine Farrar gives it—the beautiful young Japanese wife awaiting in a passion of faith, tenderness and expectancy the return of her faithless husband. She has caught the spirit of the scene and music with wonderful art.

festival will be staged in the large corner room of the Goodnough building. Fifth and Yamhill streets, and bids fair to excel the celebration of last year.

An elaborate programme has been arranged for the three evenings of the festival, a feature of which will be the attendance of the State Naval Militia Band of 25 pieces. A unique attraction, specially arranged by Mrs. C. O. Young, of Chicago, will be the dance and songs of the fairies.

In this number 25 young women will take part in an allegorical presentation of the seasons, costumed to represent Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter. The Fairy Queen will be portrayed by Miss Helen Scott and the Butterfly Fairy by Miss Joannette Sherlock.

The programme for the first evening of the festival includes music by the Naval Militia Band and the Fairies of the Seasons, to be followed the next evening by singing by the Columbia Male Chorus and cradle songs of the nation. A typical lullaby of five nations will be sung in English, Norwegian, Russian and Swedish. The third and last evening will be opened by Miss German, Danish, French and Indian cradle songs and selections by the Naval Militia orchestra.

The floor plan as arranged calls for booths representing the four seasons, at which various articles of general use will be on sale, including embroidery, towels, aprons and fancy pieces.

DRY CAMPAIGN PLANNED

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION MEETS.

State Association at Corvallis Selects Edith Hill Booker President, Mrs. Swope, Secretary.

The 13th annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Oregon at Corvallis closed Friday. A large number of delegates were in attendance. Multnomah County had a delegation numbering 40. Linn County came next with a delegation of 20.

Henrietta Brown, vice-president-at-large, presided over the entire session. A spirit of harmony and good fellowship prevailed. The work of the past year did not show the progress that was expected, but in other respects it came above the average. The report of the state corresponding secretary was applauded.

The hour for the suffrage jubilee was held by Mrs. J. W. Wilkins, of Portland. The discussion of the "Oregon Dry Campaign, When?" was enthusiastically discussed. Larger work has been planned for the coming year. The convention address was made by Edith Hill Booker, National evangelist.

DRIVER IN RACE TRAMPLED

Driver's Horse Finishes First in Race at Moscow Fair.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—John Gordon, driving Lottie Dishman, this afternoon in the 270 race in the Laish County Fair, narrowly missed death beneath the heels of a field of harness horses, when he fell from his sulky and was trampled under foot.

He was seriously, but not critically, injured. Lottie Dishman continued down the home stretch, landing under the wire first, with her lines wrapped around her legs. She was disqualified.

A big race card today and a contest battle tonight closed the third annual fair, which was a brilliant success.

A feature was the presence of the Idaho University students and faculty at the fair, augmented by one of the biggest fair-weather crowds of the week.

Baby show awards were made today. The 12 winners scoring above 95 were paraded in autos before the grandstand and they elicited wild applause.

The costly silver cup from the O-W-R. N. Company for the best pen of hogs went to Charles Yockey, of Troy. The town of Deary captured the sweepstakes on individual agricultural exhibits. Deary also won first on district agricultural exhibits, Princeton was second.

A special train tomorrow morning will carry the crowd, race horses, exhibits and a carnival company to Lewiston to attend the fair that opens there Monday.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—United States Senator J. H. Brady will be here Monday and preparations are being made to give him a welcoming reception on his first visit since elected to the Senate.

JOHN W. MINTO IS 65

Famous Captor of Criminals Is Much Congratulated.

CAREER ONE OF THRILLS

Former Sheriff of Marion County, ex-Chief of Police and Once Postmaster of Portland Is Still Young in Reality.

John W. Minto was born near Salem, on the old Minto homestead, in 1848; received his education in Willamette University between 1869 and 1865 and after that passed some five years in the saddle in the cattle country of South Central Oregon. Late in the year he returned to Salem, where he worked for several years in all kinds of labor.

Most of the sand and gravel for the basement of the State Capitol and the Marion County Courthouse he hauled and he worked on the foundation of the historic Marion Hotel. Then he was asked to join the police force by the Mayor of Salem, and turning his taming business over to another man he entered the line of activity with which he was chiefly identified for many years. He became Chief of Police and was reappointed to that office for three successive terms.

Then he ran for the office of Sheriff of Marion County. Finding election he went into the service of the Wells-Fargo Company and for two years rode with the Wells-Fargo boxes through a territory equipped with all the holdup risks of the average frontier country of those days.

Campaign Efforts Rewarded. Although he was frequently in rather serious difficulties, the company never suffered a holdup on his route, though an attempt was made once, nearly successful, to take the strongbox away from his companion, who was known as "Buckskin Joe." Mr. Minto was present at the driving of the golden spike on the Great Northern.

In '82 Mr. Minto came back to Salem and again ran for the office of Sheriff of Marion County. Finding election he went into the service of the Wells-Fargo Company and for two years rode with the Wells-Fargo boxes through a territory equipped with all the holdup risks of the average frontier country of those days.

During his career as Sheriff of Marion County and as Chief of Police of Portland, in times which were most turbulent in comparison with the present day, Mr. Minto came in for enough adventures to keep the average chronicler busy for an indefinite length of time and was identified with the pursuit and capture of probably more desperate criminals than any other one man in the state in the same period of time.

MEAGHER LOSES CASE

Judge Cleeton yesterday ruled against Del V. Meagher in his suit to collect $15,000 from Mrs. Alice Campbell. Meagher alleged in his complaint that he was owner of Hagerty's Smart Shop and had deeded it to Mrs. Campbell to secure her when she gave bond for him while under indictment last Winter in connection with the vice clique. Mrs. Campbell contended that he had never owned any interest in the shop, but had been only a clerk.
