THE Northwestern Baseball League will have the curtain dropped for the season of 1913 this afternoon with Vancouver declared winner of the pennant. The game this afternoon will have no bearing on Vancouver's standing, but Portland and Seattle will battle their hardest, the former to hold second and the latter to win the runner-up place, which is but six points in advance.
Seattle meets Vancouver at Seattle. R. P. Brown, manager of the British Columbia team, has no particular love for the Colts and fans look to see him send in a weak pitcher to aid Seattle's chances for second.
If Seattle wins Portland would have to lose one game of the double (if played) to Spokane to give the Sound city the second niche.
That race for second place has been an absorbing topic all week. It will bring the teams concerned more money than the last in which Vancouver figures.
The Northwestern League, according to the standings of the teams at the start of each series, was settled early in the season. Vancouver started 13 successive weeks in first place and in the entire season had that honor 13 times. That makes but seven when it did not start in first.
The bottom places of the league, fourth, fifth and sixth, were settled shortly before Vancouver dropped into the winning stride.
The last 20 series were started with Spokane in sixth place. Tacoma dropped into fifth one week after Spokane settled and Victoria held on in fourth through 21 weeks. With the exception of the first week Victoria never saw the first division. Both Spokane and Tacoma started two series in third place.
Seattle was the only other team which made a good showing in first. It started six weeks in that place. Portland made a valiant fight in the first division after May 12, and never went below third, but still never started a series in first place.
The Colts will spend their last day as a team in Portland tomorrow when they meet the Beavers. Most of them will leave the same night for a trip through Northern California, meeting the teams of the towns on route.
The Colts will have with them Carl Mays, the bat leader on paper. However, he has been at bat but a few more than 100 times, while Harry Meek, the unquenchable batter of the Victoria team, is next to him with about 500 times at bat. This gives Meek the real claim to the hitting title.
The Northwestern League magnates will officially close the Northwestern season with a meeting in Seattle either tonight or tomorrow morning.
President Brown, of St. Louis, and will take care of the closing meeting.

BATTING CHAMPIONSHIP

Harry Meek.
He will come out for the freshman track team and in another year will be eligible for the varsity.
BASEBALL MOGULS IN CITY
Ewing, Hess, Darmandy and Wolff Gather in Portland.
Portland entertained a host of prominent Pacific Coast baseball men yesterday.
Besides Cal Ewing, of the Seals, and the local moguls, there were at the ball game I. Hess, a stockholder in the Oakland club, and Tom Darmandy, a director of the Los Angeles team.
L. A. Wolff, Pacific Coast manager for a line of sporting goods stores, was also a visitor. Mr. Wolff left last night to attend the annual session of the Northwestern League at Seattle.

BIG GAME IS ON MONDAY

COLTS AND BEAVERS TO CLASH FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP.
Nick Williams' Rooters Will Gather in North Section of Stand and "Cap" Rodgers' on South.
Monday is going to be a hard day on the Portland fans when the Portland Colts meet the Beavers on the local lot. The Beavers have a strange hold on the Pacific Coast League "rag," but then nobody is ashamed of "Nick" Williams and his fillies. However, the fans will have to split. The north shore of the Vaughn street will be under the guidance of the Colt rooters and the south side solid Beaver.
It will be a very hard task for the everyday fan who has boosted in both leagues for everything Portland flavored.
However, the Colts will not be unattended. It would be somewhat of a sensation to have the Colts whip the Beavers, and for just no better reason a well-determined band of leather-lunged exhorters will help the Northwesterners.
The batteries for the day have not been definitely announced, Nick Williams declared some time ago that he would send in Carl Mays against the Beaver lineup of league-leading batsmen.
If Nick will stand for it, Stanley will probably be used on the mound for the Beavers.
The game between the Colts and the Beavers is only definite part of the program. However, the day's visitors will see many things not on the schedule.
The Colts will all be here preparatory to shipping for the South, where the team expects to clean up several shekels in meeting teams of the Northern California bushes.

McCredie Says Speas Best First-Sacker in League

Only Trouble is "Bill" Doesn't Want to Play Initial Base—Portland Magistrate Picks All-Stars.
WHO is the best first-sacker in the Pacific Coast League?
Hold your hat now and prepare for a surprise from Manager McCredie, of the Portland Club. It is not Fred Derrick, the Beavers' regular first-sacker, but Bill Speas, utility outfielder.
Queried yesterday for a few slants on his coast all-star opinion for 1913, Manager McCredie declared unequivocally that Speas has it on every first baseman in the league.
"The trouble with Bill is that he doesn't want to play first base," said Mac. "Speas is an outfielder and likes the gardens. But, take it from me, he is some first baseman. He hits better than any other first-sacker in the league, fields just as well and can run bases better than any except Derrick."
Rodgers is McCredie's choice for the second base all-star position. Mac has always been sweet on his scrappy captain. At short, McCredie thinks Corhan, of the Seals, has it on any other shortstopper although Kores is a close second.
The Portland manager isn't positive about his third sack choice but his talk would seem to indicate a leaning toward Hallinan, of Sacramento.
"Too many good outfielders for me to settle on three men," said the big boss, shaking his head when he had disposed of the innerworks.
"Here are some of the top notchers: Kane, Leber, Doane, Chadbourne, Margert, Moran, Shinn, Johnston, Bayless, Howard."
McCredie's catching choices are: Fisher, of Portland, and Boles, of Los Angeles. Among the pitchers McCredie names West, Hagerman and James, of Portland, Koestner, of Venice, Fanning, Overall and Lelfield, of the Seals and Klawitter, of Sacramento and one or two others.
Miners to Play Ball.
CENTRALIA, Wash., Sept. 27.—The Tono ball team will play a return game at Olympia tomorrow. As a side issue the coal miners will give a demonstration of the use of mine rescue and first aid equipment, the Tono mines being thoroughly equipped with this apparatus.

CLUB AT RAYMOND OPENED

Athletic Organization for Men and Women Is Formed.
RAYMOND, Wash., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—The Eagles Athletic Club was formally opened Thursday night with a crowd estimated at 600 in attendance at a tree entertainment and dance in the Eagles' Annex building. The big room was packed.
Mayor Little acted as master of ceremonies. The entertainment consisted of solos, basketball, indoor baseball, wrestling and boxing at the conclusion of its football season was given.
The South Bend basketball team defeated the Raymond team by a score of 19 to 9, and the Eagles' indoor basketball team defeated the Longshoremen's team by a score of 11 to 7.
The Athletic Association will give membership to both men and women and promises to be a most popular and valuable acquisition to this city.

MINNESOTA'S TEAMWORK POOR

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 27.—Displaying strength but an apparent lack of team work, the University of Minnesota opened its football season today by defeating South Dakota University 14 to 0, in a hard-fought game. All of the scoring was in the initial period when Minnesota broke through their opponents line almost at will.
