

JOY REIGNS AMONG OFFICERS OF FAIR

Curtain Rung Down on Successful Event Which Is Marred by Nothing.

HOTEL RATES NOT RAISED

Addison Bennett Tells of Pleasure Attending Prize Awarded Johnny Stump, of Monmouth, and Draws Lesson Therefrom.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. SALEM, Oct. 4.—(Special)—The word fair can be written after the 53d State Fair of Oregon, for at 10 o'clock tonight the gates closed on the last visitor, the curtain was rung down, the exhibits were released and the packers and shippers began their work.

Fair Directors Happy. It has indeed and in truth been a wonderful week. It is no wonder that President Booth wears such a won't-come-off smile. Mr. Booth felt so good over it yesterday that he went up to the Frank Alley dispersal sale, at the behest of Mrs. Booth, who wanted a certain single-foot driver that was to be offered, and bought a trotting horse.

"Undesirable" Ruled Out. All joking aside, the directors have great cause for rejoicing. They have given us our greatest fair. There was not a single jarring or discordant note. Tom Cornelius, the chief marshal, kept the best of order. He had under him eight deputies, among them Detective Sergeant Vaughn, of Portland, who was on his vacation and helped out his old friend Cornelius, more as a labor of fellowship than as a possibility.

As a result of the Cornelius administration there was not a pocket picked from the grounds, and Tom remembers the fair when 100 were lost, when 10 pocketbooks were found on one "dip."

Cherrians Take Active Part. All honor to the Salem Cherrians, who were always in evidence to assist the fair visitors in every possible way. The first person you met as you got off of the cars was a Cherrian. Do you want a room? Are you looking for a picnic place, a hotel? Ask a Cherrian. He is there for the sole purpose of assisting strangers, visitors. Isn't that a fine spirit! Isn't that just like the best of Oregon camaraderie? Do you think there is any other state in the Union where such a spirit prevails? Aren't you proud of your Cherrians and your Oregon? You ought to be.

Boy Winner Proud. Yesterday, Friday, the Shelton pony was given by the Portland Portland Company to the boy raising the best three classes of—well I am a little at sea as to the terms of the essentials. Anyhow, young Stump, of Monmouth, had as one of the "school kid" exhibitors two pigs, some chickens and lambs. Never mind the details. You have already read about them. If interested, Young Stump was brought out in front of the grandstand by Mr. Plummer and presented with the pony for having the two best pigs. He did not get fat. He received that pony he was the proudest boy that ever received a reward in the State of Oregon. He had a right to be. He wanted you to read the letter he wrote to Secretary Meredith when he sent the pigs and lambs and chickens to the fair.

"Dear Sir: This is an account of feed and care given my two Berkshire pigs entered in pig feeding contest. I got them on June 30 and they were born on May 14. Weighed 75 pounds. I fed them every day with skim milk with a little ground wheat and barley. In all three sacks, two sacks of wheat and one of barley, 330 pounds. They charged me $4.75 for it.

Pigs Play Too Much. "When I first got my pigs I kept them in a pen. Then my papa helped fix a little pen and saw it get fat. After I put them in the pen and gave them some ear corn and beets and a little kale. They would eat but little of the kale and beets, but ate all the corn. My papa said the corn, beets and kale was worth about 50 cents. The labor was not worth anything because it was lots of fun and kept me out of mischief. I spent most of my time with them and my ponies and goats.

"I named my farm the Nothing Better Farm. My pigs' names are Mollie and Maggie. Maggie is the smallest and she got her foot hurt and would not eat for a while and Mollie outgrew her."

"My papa says they cost $2.25 for grain, corn, beets and kale, and $4.50 for skim milk at 20 cents a hundred pounds. I do not know what they will weigh now. (Their weight when received at the fair grounds on September 29 was 310 pounds.) I can't tell how much they have gained."

EUGENE BOY HELD, FREED Ben Bingham Arrested for Passing Bad Checks; Mother Pays.

Ben Bingham, son of a wealthy family of Eugene, arrested last night on a charge of passing worthless checks in Salem, was released a few minutes later on telegraphic advices from the Chief of Police of the state capital. Mrs. Bingham, mother of Ben, is at the Hotel and is said to have made good all of the boy's bad paper. Detectives Day and Pierce found young Bingham a short time after receiving a tip that he had been in the police at Salem. Bingham is said to have left Eugene last Tuesday and on his arrival at Salem visited several merchants and obtained $43 on the "phony" paper. He then came on to Portland and was spending the money when caught.

MALARKEY NOT IN RUNNING President of Senate Says Senatorial Race Is Not Buzzing.

"I am not a candidate for the United States Senate, nor do I intend to become a candidate," said Dan J. Malarkey, President of the State Senate, last night. Mr. Malarkey said he could not conceive of how the report got started. "It is utterly without foundation," he said. "I have not even considered becoming a candidate. For the next few years, at least, I intend to practice law rather than politics. I am much more interested in providing for my family than I am in chasing the will-o'-the-wisp of political ambition."

DUBLIN FORCES DEADLOCK Employers Refuse Demand That All Strikers Be Reinstated.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—Something perilously like a deadlock has been reached at the Board of Trade inquiry into the strike of transport workers. The committee adjourned today until Monday without reaching any solution of the difficulty. The reason for failure to arrive at a settlement is that the Trades Council insists on reinstatement of all strikers as well as men who have been locked out. The employers say they have engaged new men and intend to keep them.

TELLS HOW TO DO IT.

The best way is to look everywhere for the best player-piano to be had at whatever price you wish to invest, then come to the big piano house, where the exact same grade and quality will be found for just about 35 per cent less and the player-pianos being sold for bank-note credits can be had for exactly half price. It's most too good to be true, but it's true—that's why so many people are buying here each day. See announcement page 10, section 1, this issue under heading, Music in the Home, etc.—Adv.

HISTORY WILL BE MADE

Question of Remarrying Innocent Party to Divorce Case May Be Forced—Pensions for Clergymen Advocated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The next three weeks will witness the making of ecclesiastical history here by the triennial general convention of the Episcopal Church. Beginning Wednesday, October 8, 116 bishops, 395 clerical and 305 lay delegates will meet at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine to hold daily sessions until October 24.

The house of bishops and the house of deputies will discuss amendments to the church organization. No provision has been made for presenting to the convention the question of changing the corporate name of the denomination. Churchmen and laymen of high church tendencies have suggested that the present name, "the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and its tributaries beyond the seas," be replaced by "American Catholic Church." Delegates already have expressed the opinion, however, that low church party would be in the majority in the convention and those who favored another name would not wish to risk defeat.

Divorce Issue May Come Up. The question of the remarriage of divorced persons may be forced upon the convention by individual delegates, but no provision has been made for its formal presentation. A sentiment has existed in favor of changing the constitution so that Episcopal clergymen may be permitted to perform the marriage ceremony for the innocent party to a divorce. At present the church does not sanction the remarriage of divorced persons.

Representation to Be Changed. The convention will receive a report favoring the method of representation in the House of Deputies. Each diocese, irrespective of its geographical strength, is represented by four clerical delegates and four lay delegates. It is proposed to leave the total number of delegates the same, but to apportion the voting strength so that instead of each delegate's having one vote, voting power shall be based on a fractional system depending on the number of communicants in each diocese.

Pension System Advocated. A committee appointed at the last general convention in Cincinnati will recommend that a special diocese be constituted embracing the regular Army posts and the Naval reservations and the Navy. Indications are that this change will be sanctioned.

Lie Is Passed When Mayor Accuses Councilman.

ALDERMEN SCORN PROBE

Executive Says Governor West's Agent Found City Official Immoral—"Personal Grudge," Declare Others.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special)—The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was enlivened last night when Mayor Anderson preferred a charge of immorality against Councilman Darnielle. The latter called the Mayor a liar, and Mr. Anderson returned the compliment.

The Mayor said he had the affidavit of Special Agent Roy West's squad, who some months ago investigated moral conditions in The Dalles, to substantiate his allegation and asked for an investigation by the Council. He announced the appointment of the chairman of all the standing committees of the Council as a special committee to investigate the conduct of Mr. Darnielle. The Mayor was turned down flatly and unceremoniously by the committee chairman, who, one by one refused to serve as investigators.

The nine Councilmen were unanimous in contending that the Council has no right to investigate the alleged immorality of Darnielle, who refused to resign and stated that the charge was a lie and had been trumped up against him because of a "personal grudge" held against him by the Mayor. This led Mr. Anderson to say something that sounded like "liar."

GIANT CHARGE EXPLODED

Fifty Thousand Yards of Rock Moved at Kelly Butte.

More than 50,000 yards of rock were moved yesterday afternoon, when a giant charge of dynamite was ignited at Kelly Butte quarry. So careful had Superintendent Eatchel been in his plans that not a board in the fence was broken and not the slightest accident occurred to mar the work. Although 1250 pounds of dynamite were exploded none other than those who were looking for the explosion felt the jar and heard the report. Mr. Eatchel says he now has sufficient rock to keep the prisoners busy for the next two years.

Preparations for the big explosion have been in progress for some time. One large hole was drilled in which the entire charge was placed and every precaution taken to safeguard the lives and property of those who were in the vicinity.

The last big explosion at Kelly Butte was December 28, 1911, when only 35,000 yards of rock were moved. At that time only six tons of dynamite were exploded.
