

which will be solemnized tomorrow morning in the Church of the Madeleine, at 11:30 o'clock. The bride-elect has been lavishly entertained during her pre-nuptial days, the past week being an especially busy one socially.

A charming affair in honor of this attractive bride-elect was the bridge tea given by Misses Harriet and Mary Kern at their residence in Irvington Monday afternoon. Card honors fell to Miss Clarice Biles and the honor guest was given to the handsome bridegroom, Walter B. Gleason, who complimented his sister and her fiancé, Walter Albin Gruetter, with a jolly dinner at the Waverly Country Club Tuesday evening.

Miss Madeleine Stone was hostess at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon. The affair was charming in appointment and elaborate decorations apropos for brides were used. Card honors fell to Miss Edna Minsinger, Mrs. Arthur Sanders, a recent bride, and Miss Mabel Korell.

On Thursday Miss Irene Daly presided at an attractive luncheon in honor of Miss Gleason. It was a small informal affair at the Daly residence.

Next week Miss Adelaide Loewenson and Dr. Laurence Seidel will plight their troth and Miss Pearl McKenna and James Sharard Johns, of Pendleton, will also be wed on Wednesday of next week.

Among other affairs given for the pleasure of Miss Monks during the past week was the large bridge party for which Mrs. J. A. Jennings was hostess, Wednesday, and the pretty luncheon presided over by Miss Agnes Corcoran Thursday, followed by a motor trip.

One of the largest and smartest of the early season dances was given Friday evening by Mrs. L. W. Therkelsen for her son and daughter, Cachot and Miss Catherine Therkelsen. The party was given in the parlors and drawing-rooms of the Hotel Nortonia, with the big reception hall reserved for the dancers. The decorations were perfectly beautiful. Quantities of Autumn leaves in vari-colored hues, Oregon grape and great shaggy white chrysanthemums were bunched about the room. Mrs. Therkelsen was assisted in receiving by Miss Therkelsen and Mrs. Ralph S. Fisher, who, before her recent marriage, was Miss Hazel Therkelsen.

Mrs. Therkelsen wore an imported robe of white charmeuse with an overdrape of violet chiffon, and her ornaments were pearls and diamonds. Mrs. Therkelsen wore a Parisian gown of white charmeuse veiled with Nile green chiffon, and she also wore pearls. Mrs. Fisher's gown was an ultra-modish creation of light blue chiffon and ecru lace, trimmed with bands of moleskin. Her ornaments were diamonds. The guests included a great many of the young beaux and belles of Portland, as well as a number from the young married set. Those invited were: Misses Louise Heuser, Mildred Moulton, Dorothy Moulton, Frances Fuller, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Fisher, Misses Kate Brasel, Catherine Whitmer, Julie Whitmer, Edna Minsinger, Clea Nickerson, Katherine Graham, Margaret Webber, Lilla Lovell, of Oakland, Cal.; Edith Gray, Beulah Hays, Eva Zolliwell, Irene Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ludlam, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raynor, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Summers, Misses Frances Brady, Hildred Humason, Nancy Zan, Ruth Manion, Gretchen Klosterman, Elizabeth Moulton, Lillian Morgan, Vona Guthrie, Jean Martin, Florence Thornton, Charles Frohn, Oscar Chosset, Fred Rodgers, Lovell Walters, Charles Hurbutt, Herbert Brasel, Lester Brix, Floyd Cook, Alfred Clarke, James Brady, Fred Kribb, Oliver Hutchins, George Fanie Mott, Dunne, Arthur Mears, Joe Lambert, P. L. Menefee, Jack Price, Warren Novel, Alexander Morrison, Otto Mattem, M. Brewer, Howard Clark, and Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Jack Wooster, Aaron Whit-

Mrs. T. W. Nordby Tuesday afternoon at Hotel Portland in honor of Mrs. E. M. Elderidge, who left for an extended visit in Chicago. The decorations were pretty, tall standards of brilliant-hued Autumn foliage, combined with clusters of gaily-arranged and palms. Prizes were won by Mrs. Thomas Brittain Foster, Mrs. Edwin Bell and Mrs. Thomas Roberts.

The gowns worn were the source of much admiration, all being chic models and fashioned of the latest shades of satins and crepes. The guests included: Mrs. Elderidge, Mrs. Frank S. Johnson, Mrs. Byron E. Miller, Mrs. Edwin M. Baker, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. Abe Fichtenor, Mrs. M. J. DeLahunt, Mrs. George W. Kleiser, Mrs. Harlan W. Curtis, Mrs. Walter Tuck, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. L. A. Whittless, Mrs. Leon Peters, Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. Benjamin Trenkman, Mrs. E. Brong, Mrs. T. J. Seuffert, Mrs. T. B. Foster, Mrs. Effie Baranstecker, Mrs. Edwin H. Bell, Mrs. Ben Fleckenstein, Mrs. J. B. Holbrook, Mrs. Phil Met-schan, Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Carter, Mrs.

PORTLAND GIRL ENGAGED TO WED JAMES M. ROBERTE AT HOME AFFAIR.

Miss Daisy Gibson. Mr. and Mrs. J. Oswald Gibson last week announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Daisy Gibson, to James M. Roberte, son of Mrs. Robert Berger. The wedding will be a simple home affair, taking place early in November. The bride-elect, who is a charming girl, is being extensively entertained.

organized the Cathedral Social Club. The club plans, among other things, to give two dances for the Catholics of Portland, one about Thanksgiving time and the other next Spring. The following attended the meeting and have been constituted a committee to forward the club's purposes: Mr. and Mrs. Coe A. McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Costello, Miss Irene Daly, Miss Mamie Helen Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey, Miss Emma Klosterman, J. P. Cronin, Walter M. Daly, C. A. Campbell and Hall S. Lusk.

One of the prettiest of the week's social affairs was the bridge party given by Mrs. A. Craig McKicken on Wednesday at her residence in Irvington. The rooms were decorated beautifully with a profusion of Richmond roses and scarlet carnations. The fortunate contestants at cards

Walter Albin Gruetter, whose wedding to Louise Gleason will be solemnized Monday morning, was the guest of honor at a farewell bachelor dinner Friday night at the Chantler Inn, by his best man and ushers. Those present were Mr. Gruetter, Walter B. Gleason, Harold Sooyemith of Salem, Maurice Dooly, Walter H. Daly, William Healy and Joseph Cronin.

Mrs. Joseph P. Ludlam and Mrs. James Edward Ludlam were hostesses at a delightful bride tea at the latter's home in Laurelhurst Wednesday afternoon. The spacious rooms were decked attractively with Autumn foliage and bright-hued dahlias. Auction bridge was played at seven tables, after which several additional guests came in and refreshments were served. Miss Mabel Ayers presided at the samovar and Miss Judith Scott served tea. Assisting about the rooms were Miss Beth Ludlam, Miss Helen Nesbit and Miss Rachel Vogel. Card honors fell to Mrs. Harry Gaylor, Mrs. A. H. McDonald and Mrs. Leon Peters.

Miss Dorothy Bliss entertained at a "forget-me-not luncheon" Saturday at her home in Irvington in honor of Miss Beth Ludlam, who is to leave soon for the East for an extended visit. The attractively appointed table was decked in the dainty blues of the forget-me-not and the pretty frocks of the guests added much to the beauty of the decorative scheme. Those present were Miss Beth Ludlam, Miss Jeanette West, Miss Yerna Barker, Miss Helen Barnes, Miss Beatrice Porteous, Miss Jeannette Wiggins, Miss Helen Zimmerman and the hostess.

An engagement of interest which has just been announced is that of Miss Ethel May Wright to Floyd C. Warren, a prominent Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club member. The wedding will be at the home of the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. William L. Barr, in Centralia, some time next month. The bride-to-be is a former resident of Boulder, Colo. Mr. Warren is a member of the old family of Warrens in this city and is connected with the Security Savings & Trust Bank. At the invitation of Rev. Edwin V.

mer, John Scott, Edgar Piper and M. Haworth.

A wedding of interest to Portlanders is that of Miss Luene Moreland, sister of Mrs. Mark Gill, of this city, to Chester Moores, of Salem. The wedding will be a simple home affair and will be solemnized on Wednesday, October 15 in Seaside. A number of Portland relatives and friends will go down for the ceremony.

Miss Fay Nichols will be hostess at a tea tomorrow complimenting two brides-to-be, Miss Ruth Church, whose wedding to Kenneth Robertson will be an event of November 5, and Miss Le-celle Parker, who will become the bride of Eugene Mersereau. Mrs. Whitney Boise also will be hostess next week complimenting Miss Church at a luncheon on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Monks will become the bride of Frank S. Healy Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Patrick's Church at an elaborate ceremony. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Monks. The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. J. C. Costello as matron of honor; Miss Theresa Jennings, Spokane, and Miss Anne Healy will be bridesmaids, and little Miss Mildred Seuffert will be flower girl.

William Healy will act as his brother's best man, and the guests will be ushered by J. Albert McHolland, J. C. Costello, Joseph M. Healy and Roger Seuffert.

An elaborate musical programme will be given by Mrs. E. A. Tetzl, Miss Nona Lawlor, Victor Cullon, soloists, and Miss Evelyn Calbreath will be violin soloist.

Misses Mamie, Etta and Ossie Burke entertained informally Friday evening for Miss Monks and Mr. Healy, music forming the chief diversion of the evening.

One of the prettiest informal dinners of the week was presided over by Miss Ruth Rosenfeld on Wednesday evening in compliment to Miss Adelaide Loewenson and Dr. Laurence Seidel, whose wedding will be a brilliant affair of next week. Miss Rosenfeld's guests numbered 20, and after dinner, dancing was the diversion.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the week was the bridge tea given by

How to Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is itchy. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of a case, where the hair has grown from four to six inches in a few months after using this simple recipe: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.—Adv.
