

HOUSE AND WILSON TO DICTATE TERMS

Senate Is Unlikely to Have Much Voice in Ultimate Currency Measure.

STEAMROLLER IS WAITING

Upper Body at Liberty to Debate and Amend, but When Time Comes It Will Be Forced to Meet President's Wishes.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 15.—If President Wilson continues to dominate the Democratic majority of the House of Representatives, he sooner or later will get the kind of currency bill he wants, regardless of any changes the Senate may desire to make in the Glass-Owen measure. The legislative situation is such that President Wilson can drive the Democratic Senate into submission, although he cannot compel the Senate to act as speedily as he might wish. It is evident that the President and the Democrats of the House have formed a compact to shape legislation to meet the approval of the executive, irrespective of what the Senate may think or desire. So long as this compact remains effective, just so long may the Senate revolt and amend without accomplishing anything, for if the House, upholding the President, refuses to accept Senate amendments, and if the President refuses to compromise with the Senate, then the Senate must do one of two things—submit to the terms laid down by the President and accepted by the House or bring about a deadlock, thus defeating the currency bill entirely. No one supposes that the Senate would go to such extremes.

Procedure Unusual.
In currency legislation the Democratic Congress and Democratic President are not proceeding along the lines contemplated by the framers of the Constitution, for a situation has been created whereby the Senate is virtually to lose the right of participation in the framing of the currency law. The Constitution confers on the Senate the same power regarding legislation that it conferred on the House, and it was intended that the joint work of the two houses should be submitted to the President for his approval. If the Senate disagreed with the House, means were provided whereby by the Senate and House might reconcile their differences and not until the compromise was reached would the executive be expected to participate. The present plan, so far as results are concerned, contemplates ignoring the Senate altogether, the House and the President doing all the legislating, with the President dictating and the House acquiescing. Virtually, the currency bill thus far has been drawn by the President and the House, and it is now proposed to override the Senate and compel that body to accept the House bill, or the House bill with such amendments as the President himself will agree to.

Senate Can Discuss Bill.
The Senate is to have the opportunity of discussing the currency bill to its heart's content, but the President now concedes that it will not be possible to curtail debate. The Senate, under its rules, will be at liberty to amend the bill if enough Democratic Senators will differ from the Administration view to bring about material changes, as could be done by a simple majority of the Senate. The caucus is to be used, if possible, to whip Democratic Senators into line, and, if this fails, the Senate will then be attacked by the Republicans and the President when the time comes. Once the bill goes through the Senate—and it is sure to pass some time this Winter—the President will have the House for concurrence in any amendments the Senate may make. Then the President will pass on the Senate amendments and if they are to be rejected any radical changes, if a Democratic-Republican combination in the Senate can force important changes, and the House will be instructed to back up the President, which it undoubtedly will do.

ONLY MEN ARE IMMORTAL

MATTHEWS TELLS WOMEN TO MAKE OLYMPUS OF THEIR OWN.

Hill in Which Portraits of Great Will Hang to Be "In New York, of Course," Garland Says.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—America's "Immortals" are planning a hall of fame in which their portraits will be preserved and where they can hold future meetings. It probably will be established in New York, Hamilton Garland of Chicago, said tonight that the proposed building had been discussed at an executive meeting of members of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and the American Academy of Arts and Literature. The subject was broached after Louis L'Amour, of Chicago, had volunteered to paint a portrait of Mr. Garland for the institute and the question arose where such a picture would be hung.

"I believe we will start with an endowment fund for the erection of a building of our own," said Mr. Garland. "Of course, it would be built in New York."

It is improbable that women will have any place in the proposed "Mount Olympus," as Dr. Brander Matthews, president of the institute, today advised feminine notables to start an "immortal suffrage group" of their own. The "Immortals" will meet next year in Paris.

The gold medal of the academy was presented annually to Augustus Thomas as a dramatist. Previous awards have been in sculpture to Augustus St. Gaudens, in history to James Ford Rhodes, in poetry to James Whitcomb Riley and in architecture to William H. Murray. Mr. Thomas declared that before returning to New York he was going to St. Louis to show the medal to his 81-year-old mother.

"She will not be as proud as I am," he said. "She will wonder what has occasioned the long delay of my recognition."

OREGON CITY WATER PURE

State Board of Health Test Shows No Colon Bacilli Present Now.

OREGON CITY, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Six samples of water analyzed by Dr. B. L. Arms, of the State Board of Health, during the last few days have been found to be absolutely free from contamination. Ten cubic centimeters were taken in each instance, and the absence of colon bacilli was noted in each case. All of the samples consisted of water from the city's filtered supply. Two plates were secured from each sample, and six organisms were found and no gas production. Last Monday W. M. Hedden, a chemist in the employ of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, reported the presence of colon bacilli in the city water, after making several tests. His findings were submitted to the Board of Water Commissioners, who immediately started an investigation of their own by communicating with the State Board of Health and securing the presence of Dr. Arms, who took four samples of water in Oregon City for analysis. On the following day two samples were secured from the Willamette City and sent to Dr. Arms, as the colon bacilli alleged to have been found by Mr. Hedden was in water taken on the West Side. The members of the Board of Water

PIONEER CLARKE COUNTY WOMAN WILL BE LAID TO FINAL REST TODAY.

Mrs. Eliza Titus.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Eliza Titus, who died at La Center last night, crossed the plains with an old team, arriving in Clarke County, where the family took up a donation land claim. When but 15 years old, Miss Eliza Rice was married to John S. Pollock, at St. Helena. To them four children were born—James A. Pollock, Centralia; Lucinda J. Pollock, of Portland; John T. Pollock, of Murray, Idaho, and Marcella E. Kelley, of Carson, Or. Mr. Pollock died, and in 1875, Mrs. Pollock was married to M. Titus, who died a few years ago. The funeral will be held from the family home tomorrow at 1 o'clock, Rev. Hughes officiating.

Commissioners and Superintendent Howell regard the report of Dr. Arms as conclusive that the city water is free from disease germs.

Teachnor Elected President.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—News was received in Centralia yesterday that E. E. Teachnor, chairman of the Lewis County Commission, and a prominent resident of this city, had been elected president of the Washington State Association of County Commissioners, which closed a successful two days' session in Wenatchee yesterday. The next meeting will be held in Chehalis.

HAD CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

Peruna Relieved a Serious Case.

Mr. A. M. Ikerd, Box 31, West Burlington, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me; said I had a cancer of the stomach, and I was to be operated on. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse. "Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for that dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time. "It is a remarkable story that Mr. Ikerd tells. It is a true story, but very briefly told. If he put into a chapter of the details it would make a chapter of suspense and agony, hope and final recovery, equal to the wildest fiction one is wishing to so can write Mr. Ikerd and ascertain whether there has been any exaggeration in his case. "The 'Ils of Life' will be sent free by addressing the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio. "Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.—Adv.

May Help You if Lungs Are Affected

Proper diet, fresh air and temperate habits are beneficial to persons suffering from Lung Trouble; but in a great many instances reports show that the addition of a medicine for this affection has materially helped in bringing about recovery. For more than fifteen years Eekman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles, has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case: "Gentlemen: In December, 1908, and January, 1909, and September, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which confined me several weeks, each time to my bed. My doctor advised me to go West. In November I started for Denver, Colo. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon hearing of my condition, urged me to take Eekman's Alternative. I kept on taking the medicine and improving myself. In March, 1910, I returned home. I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep. When I left Denver my weight was 150 pounds. I now weigh 165, my normal weight. I thank God and your Alternative for my recovery. (Affidavit) PAUL L. FARNACH, Eekman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections. Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Stomach Cold and upbuilding the system. It contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Sold by the Owl Drug Co. and leading drug stores. Write the Eekman Laboratory, Philadelphia, for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.—Adv.
