

BRIDGE BOND SALE UP TO COMMITTEE

Walter H. Evans, Henry Teal and C. K. Williams Named as Advisory Board.

SERIAL ISSUE IS FAVORED

Sale to Be Made Subject to Opinion on Legality by Recognized Firm and Sinking Fund for Redemption Is Criticized.

To recommend the best procedure to follow in issuing the $1,250,000 bonds for the construction of the interstate bridge, the County Commissioners yesterday appointed Walter H. Evans, Henry Teal and C. K. Williams an advisory committee...

Mr. Evans said he had talked with each of the committeemen named to serve with him only in an informal way, but would call a meeting at an early date and consider the problems which must be determined in issuing the bonds.

Although no meeting of the committee has been held, Mr. Evans said that he believed all the members favor testing the legality of the bonds before they are offered for sale...

Close consideration of the character of the bonds and the manner of their retirement will be given by the committee. Much objection to sinking funds has been made by practicing lawyers in different parts of the country.

Mr. Evans said that though his mind was open to conviction, he is of opinion that the bonds should be serial, the first installment to be retired in five years and the remainder in equal amounts each year thereafter.

ELECTION PLANS MADE

MORE WOMEN TO BE OFFICIALS TUESDAY THAN EVER BEFORE.

Following Places Again to Be in Buildings Because of Expense of Heating Tents, Says Barbur.

Everything is in readiness for the special city election Tuesday, according to City Auditor Barbur, who has charge of the plans.

As in the last special state election, the polling places are to be in buildings. This is because of the expense and the added expense which would be necessary to heat tents if they were used.

It is expected that the election will cost about $10,000, depending upon the length of time required to count the ballots. If everything goes as expected, it will be necessary to have only one day board and one night board.

ARMY LASSIES COLLECT COINS FOR CITY'S POOR

Dimes, Nickels and Pennies Will Go Toward Providing Christmas Cheer for 1500 Persons—300 Baskets Will Be Filled.

SALVATION ARMY GATHERING FUNDS FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER.

TWELVE Salvation Army lassies, stationed with their Kettles in various parts of the city, will collect the nickels and dimes that will take Christmas cheer to 1500 persons this season. It wouldn't seem like Christmas time if these bright, cheery young women didn't make their appearance and give the stray coins a chance to get together and make up the big sum that will be necessary to fill 300 baskets with Christmas goodies.

The Army's ability and willingness to do the work systematically and intelligently is well known. They investigate each case carefully. They go into all parts of the city. They find the poverty-stricken and the friendless, the widow and the orphan, the family which has been visited with misfortune, disgrace or sickness, and they take into those households good cheer, happiness, practical Christianity.

The baskets will all be sent out the day before Christmas, and on the night of December 25 there will be Christmas trees at which there will be candy, apples, oranges and a present for each child attending.

The trees will be held at Corps No. 4, 507 Salmon street; Corps No. 1, Second and Ankeny streets; Corps No. 2

(Scandinavian), Second and Oak streets. In addition to the distribution of baskets and the holding of Christmas trees, the Army workers are anxious to provide clothing for those who will feel the sting of the cold weather. Shoes, dresses, suits, any clean, useful garments will be acceptable.

HORSETHIEF IS PAROLED

Guy R. Nelson Agrees to Pay Back $60 in $5 Installments.

Guy R. Nelson pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Kavanaugh to the larceny of a horse, valued at $75 from the Van Horn Transfer Company and was sentenced to from one to ten years in the penitentiary. Upon condition that he would remain a good citizen and pay back $60, in installments of not less than $5 a month to W. M. Copland, he was paroled.

Nelson formerly was employed by the transfer company. The horse he said he had stolen and sold to a junk dealer to supply money with which to buy drink. Before it was discovered that he had stolen the horse he had been sentenced to three months on the rockpile for vagrancy.

Dr. Edward Edwards, with offices with the Chicago Painless Dentists in the new Panama Building at the corner of Third and Alder streets, pleaded guilty before Judge Kavanaugh to practicing dentistry without a license and was fined $100.

PORTLAND MAN HAS CARPET CLEANING MACHINE

Harry L. Boynton Patents Device to Draw Out Dust, Remove Grease and Restore Color to Fabrics Trodden Underfoot.

BOYNTON CARPET CLEANING MACHINE.

If all that Harry L. Boynton says for his new invention for renovating rugs and carpets be true it will be a distinct advance in efficiency on the modern vacuum cleaner, for it is said not only to draw the dust out but to remove grease spots, restore the color and raise to its pristine freshness the nap of the fabric trampled down by many feet.

Mr. Boynton completed the work on his carpet renovator a month ago. Since then he has been putting it through a series of tests, and he says it is doing all that he expected of it. He has applied for a patent. The inventor is a native of Grants Pass, but has lived off and on in Portland for the last five years.

The machine over the rug is similar to a carpet sweeper. It is drawn back and forth, and it renews the rug as it goes.

The advantages claimed over the vacuum cleaner are that it removes all dirtiness and grease spots and restores the colors to their original brightness and its suction on the dampened carpet draws the nap up into an erect position, leaving the rug apparently the same as new. Moreover, the chemical solution is free from poisonous ingredients and harmless to the most delicate colors. It contains anti-septics, which are death to germs, moths, fleas and other objectionable or dangerous parasites.

Boynton's renovator is not intended to be attached to the electrical fixtures of a house, although doubtless it could be operated by that means if desired. It is intended to be a medium operated from an automobile, in which the electrical current is generated and conveyed to the machine. The reason for this method of operation is the saving of the expense of the electricity that would be used by attaching the machine to the electric fixtures within the home.

PLEA FOR PARKS OUT

Commissioner Brewster Replies to Criticism.

$200,000 BOND ISSUE ASKED

City Official Says Rose City Park, Vernon, Upper and Lower Albina and Central East Portland Will Not Block Move.

Declaring that opposition from the Rose City Park Improvement Association and other organizations to the plans for the proposed $200,000 bond issue for permanent park improvements is inconsistent, City Commissioner Brewster, author of the proposed park bond issue, has prepared a statement in the form of a reply to Walter Seaberg, of the Rose City Park Club, who apparently has been most active in the campaign against the bonds.

Mr. Seaberg declares that at the election last Fall there was a proposed $2,000,000 bond issue up for the purchase of parks and playgrounds and that it was defeated largely because of the cry that no more property should be secured until the present holdings are improved. Now he says an issue is up proposing to raise money to make those improvements and the cry is being made that the issue should be voted down because no provision is made for acquisition of more land.

"Mr. Seaberg's letter in Saturday's Oregonian deserves a reply," said Commissioner Brewster yesterday.

"His objection was directed largely against the item of lights for the parks, which he assumes to be merely for ornament. Summer Needs Known.

"At this season of the year the need of park lights may not be apparent, but during the Summer months complaints were numerous that the parks were being used at night for immoral purposes. Light is one of the best means of preventing these things from being done, and it is necessary to provide protection by lights, the remaining question to be settled is as to the best kind of lights. Arc lamps must be placed high, and if near trees they only increase the darkness of the shadows and for this reason cannot be recommended. Posts eight or 10 feet high have been selected, and are made of concrete instead of iron or steel for the sake of durability, appearance and lower cost.

"The item for lights is $40,000, as Mr. Seaberg says, but about two-thirds of this amount is for wiring. The attempt is to get a serviceable light post which at the same time is good looking. Some of these posts have been installed during the past year and may be seen in Washington and Peninsula Parks and on the south end of the Terwilliger boulevard, and, before taking ground, 'Goddess of Liberty' lights, Mr. Seaberg might have found out what the proposed posts look like.

"In the same letter a policy is advised, a prophecy made—'A park and playground bond issue covering all sections, definitely stated and covering practical needs of present parks, all in one measure would carry.' This statement is worthy of consideration, for, if correct, the Council made a mistake in recommending to the public a partial measure like the present one, which is by no means the 'practical needs of present parks.'

"Practical Use to Be Made of Money.—'That we intend to use the money in practical needs is true, if we agree that lights, drainage, water, drinking fountains, walks, drives, comfort stations, a swimming pool and fencing are required in the parks. All of these items, except drives and a swimming pool, are necessities in every park or playground. Without them the land remains unfit as a resort for the public.

"The objection most generally urged to the former $2,000,000 bond issue was that it was extravagant to buy more land until we had improved the land we have. Now the objection is that we provide nothing for purchases of land. The real trouble seems to be that a bond issue large enough to satisfy legitimate needs of all sections in this city of magnificent distances frightens taxpayers on account of its size, and a bond issue which takes only a step in the inevitable direction will not meet universal approval because everyone will not get what he wants immediately.

"Rose City Park, Vernon, Upper and Lower Albina, Central East Portland and other neighborhoods are getting nothing. Will they oppose the present bond issue, which will benefit 13 other communities? I do not think so. I feel confident that they will act as citizens of Portland, without local animosity, help to pass this measure, and then join a general movement to have the Council obtain options in the different sections, and submit to the voters a bond issue for the purchase of particular parcels of land at known prices and providing for the improvement of such land on a statement as definite as that already submitted for the proposed issue."

2564 Miles And the Motor Never Stopped

Mitchell Little Six Complete at Portland $2050

This remarkable record was established by a Mitchell Little Six over the hilly highways of Pennsylvania. The first thousand miles was completed in 47 hours' running time, the entire 2564 miles in 126 1/2 hours. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator during the entire run.

At the Finish the Motor Was Still Running Perfectly, But Was Purposely Stopped to Give the Drivers a Much Needed Rest

The car will continue in use for an indefinite period without unlocking the hood or adjusting the motor.
