

3 POSTERS RACE

Rose Festival Committee Eliminates 48 Sketches.

GENERAL WORK PLEASING

Trio Left Are Passed to Printers for Decision as to Which Can Be Reproduced Best—Decision Is Due January 10.

By working several hours each day since Tuesday the executive committee of the Rose Festival Association, by the process of elimination, has selected three poster designs, one of the three to be selected for this year in advertising the show.

They are now being prepared for the printing committee for the purpose of selecting the one that will be most suitable for reproduction and at the same time be the best for advertising purposes.

With but one or two exceptions those who entered the contest followed instructions and did not make errors on their drawings. Each drawing was accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the name and address of the artist.

All the posters were designed seriously and had devoted a great deal of thought and study to the design. It was clear that the hope of winning the $75 in prize money was not the only incentive, but each artist proved that the honor of winning the 1914 contest, was of the greatest importance.
