Miss Vickie Moore, who left yesterday for Columbia.

Mr. C. S. Couderc of St. Paul.

In a chic gown of green chiffon and satin, with trimming of American Beauty roses.

Miss Evelyn Carey—Dull blue brocaded chiffon over white satin.

Miss Claire Houghton—White satin frock, with short tunic of blue wiffon, trimmed with bands of fur. A feature of the gown was the orange sash, trimmed with strings of pearls.

Miss Barbara Mackenzie, who has just returned from the Bay City, wore a handsome frock of white satin and lace.

Miss Mildred Honeyman—White shadow lace with plum-colored chiffon tunic.

Miss Maizie MacMaster—Simple gown of white satin and silver trimmings.

Miss Claire Wilcox—Stunning model of black charmeuse, with waist and short tunic of exquisite lace.

Mrs. Philip Hart—A pale pink satin with silver embellishments.

Mrs. Henry Wessinger—A striking gown of white satin, with Oriental beaded drape.

Mrs. Carl Wernicke—A chic frock of black satin, with cut steel trimming.

Mrs. Thomas Sharp, of White—Pretty gown of white satin and lace.

Miss Molly Kliner, house guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Houghton, is attired in a pastel yellow gown of chiffon and lace, with bead trimming.

Miss Shanna Cumming—A smart frock of white satin, trimmed with garlands of red rosebuds.

Miss Violet Erskine—Simple model of white satin with overdrape of lace.

Of paramount interest this week in an intellectual and social way is the arrival of Thursday afternoon of Miss Ellen Fitz Pendleton, Ph. D., president of Wellesley College. As president of the Wellesley College, D. Pendleton will be the honored guest of Mrs. Vincent Cook. As president of Wellesley this gifted woman occupies one of the highest positions in America and also stands in the foremost rank among the world of letters. Miss Pendleton will remain in Portland until Wednesday night. On Tuesday Mrs. Robert Wilson Lewis will entertain the members of the Wellesley Club at a tea, to meet Miss Pendleton. Another charming affair in her honor is the large reception to be given by the Wellesley Club and Collegiate Alumnae of Portland on Wednesday at the University Club. Mrs. Vincent Cook is president of the club in Portland and Mrs. Robert W. Lewis is counsellor.

Mrs. Joseph Nathan Teal and Mrs. James B. Honeyman are en route to their homes from a visit in New York with their daughter, Miss Ruth Teal and Miss Helen Honeyman, who were students at Miss Spence's school in New York. Mrs. Teal and Mrs. Honeyman were at the Wolcott Hotel and attended numerous other delightful social affairs for the pleasure of the girls and their friends. Mrs. Teal concluded the festivities with the Dansant at the hotel in the afternoon of January 5. The palm room was reserved for the use of the party, and Miss Teal and her house guests, Miss Olive Irwin, of Louisville, received with them. There were 30 guests present, among those from Portland being Miss Helen Honeyman and Reed Rumeltn, who is attending Yale.

One of the prettiest dinner parties of the early week was preceded by the Major and Mrs. Jay J. Morrow in the Arcadian Gardens of the Hotel Multnomah on Monday evening. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mears, Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Menefee. The affair followed a dancing class, which includes the above members.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Durham were hosts for an informal tango and supper party at their residence on Willamette Heights on Tuesday evening. A few of their intimates were present and made merry throughout the evening.

Mrs. Chester Griffin Murphy will entertain on Thursday at an informal luncheon at her apartments in the Trinity Place.

Mrs. Martin Gay Lombard was hostess at one of the smartest affairs of the week on Tuesday at her home. Seven tables were arranged for bridge, and later in the afternoon about twenty national guests called for tea. Mrs. T. H. Tongue received with her daughter. The drawing-room was charmingly decorated with a profusion of pink, white, France roses and begonias. The same lovely blossoms adorned the dining-room and the tea table was decked with an arrangement of pink, white, and blue lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns. Mrs. James A. Dougherty and Mrs. David T. Honeyman presided at the samovar. Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and Mrs. George A. Marshall served ices. Attractively-gowned assistants in the dining-room were Mrs. Harry J. Litt, the Misses Diana and Violet Erskine and Miss Katherine Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd were hosts for a charming informal dinner and bridge on Wednesday evening at their residence. The guests were Miss Claire Houghton, Miss Isabella Gault, Miss Clara Weidner, Leland Smith, William Lines, Audrey Watzek and Ray Small.

Preceding the Monday night dance which will be given tomorrow evening at the Hotel Multnomah, Mrs. H. Martin will be hosts for an attractive dinner party at the Hotel Multnomah; Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz and Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Wilson will give a large dinner party for about 50 members of the club at the University Club, and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Wentworth also will be hosts for a dinner party at their residence, preceding the dance.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl T. Ross, who lately arrived from New York City, are at present visiting the former's uncle and Mrs. J. W. Ross, of Astoria. Dr. Ross is the son of William Ross, Astoria, and both he and Mrs. Ross anticipate making their home in this city.

A smart affair of the week was the tea given in honor of Mrs. George Ladd's sister, Mrs. Robert T. Noble, on Wednesday, at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Buehner. Mrs. Sallor and small son, who are from Carlton, Or., are to spend the holidays with her parents and they will leave today for their home. Within a couple of months they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Noble, who are also planning to make their residence in Carlton for the next three years. They have recently returned from Chicago, where they went after their wedding.

An effective arrangement of violets and roses were used in adorning the Buehner residence for the tea and also decked the tea table, over which Mrs. Donald Ranney Munro, Mrs. Frederick H. Green, Mrs. Carl L. Wernicke and Mrs. Robert T. Noble presided. They were assisted by several of the younger set.

One of the most interesting weddings of the week was that of Miss Edith Waldo and Polger Johnson, a well-known daughter of Portland. The wedding was solemnized in San Francisco last Wednesday and was attended only by the immediate family, among whom were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. M. Dekum, Dr. Benson, of St. John's Episcopal Church, officiated, and after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Ladd. The gowns were particularly pretty and chic, among those specially noticed being Mrs. Ladd's, which was a pretty pink chiffon brocade, with silver trimming.

Owing to the illness of the bride's mother, the wedding had been planned to take place at Monterey was abandoned, and the news of the ceremony comes as a surprise to many of

THE boys and girls who have been passing holiday vacations in Portland with their families and who have aided in making the season so happy, busy one, have now returned to their studies again and society is taking a little time to settle itself into its regular groove. The week just ended has chronicled several smart affairs, principally the charming luncheon for which Mrs. Holt C. Wilson was hostess on Thursday; the bridge tea given by Mrs. Martin Gay Lombard; the meeting of the Thursday Bridge Club at the residence of Mrs. David C. Lewis and the Friday Night Dancing Club's first dance of the new year.

Scheduled for this week are the tea for which Mrs. Robert Wilson Lewis will be hostess in honor of the distinguished visitor, Dr. Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of Wellesley College, and the large reception to be given by the Wellesley Club and Collegiate Alumnae of Portland, also in her honor, on Wednesday at the University Club, to which all Wellesley students who do not happen to be affiliated with the club are cordially invited. The Monday night dance will inaugurate the week and will be preceded by several charming dinner parties.

The performance of "Kismet" at the Heilig Theater last week was one of the most delightful theatricals society folk found and many box and supper parties were made up. Keen disappointment was manifest over the non-appearance of the great artist, Federewski, as several parties had been arranged, with the intention of later attending the Friday night dance.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot, entertain Tuesday evening at the rectory, following their usual custom of observing Twelfth Night. Their guests were the members of the congregation of St. David's Church, of which Mr. Talbot is rector, and a few additional friends. The rectory was a bower of lovely blossoms, yellow and white chrysanthemums being combined with roses and ferns. The refreshment table was artistically adorned, and was presided over by Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Charles Scadding, Mrs. George S. Whiteside and Mrs. Henry Cabell. They were assisted by Miss Edith Broadlove, Miss Beatrice Doty, Miss Elva Burness, Miss Lorna Ganong, Miss Bertha Hallam, Miss Katherine Graham and Miss Ione Lambert.

The host and hostess also were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. S. E. Joseph, Mrs. Marshall McFaul, Mrs. William Hallam, Mrs. James Muckle, Mrs. Miles Bell, Mrs. E. A. Wyld, Mrs. E. T. Hughes, Mrs. Joseph Ganong, Mrs. E. W. Mathews and Mrs. Wilbur Fosbury.

One of the most delightful features of the evening was the singing by a quartet composed of David E. Mackie, E. C. Branlon, George F. Mead and Mr. Strickland.

Mr. Branlon concluded the programme with a solo, "When the Mother."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kerr are being felicitated upon the arrival of a son, born Tuesday evening.

Miss Barbara Mackenzie, who has been sojourning in San Francisco as the house guest of Miss Harriet Pomroy, returned to her home last week. While in the south she was delightfully entertained. Miss Polly Young, of the Army Post, who was also one of the house party, also has returned to her home. Both girls were extremely popular in the smart set in San Francisco, and frequently were honor guests at charming functions.

Federick L. Macleay is passing a few weeks as the guest of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Grant, in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ainsworth have joined the colony of Portlanders sojourning in Del Monte.

Mrs. Lee Hoffman and Miss Margery Hoffman will be "at home" during the month on Friday afternoons at their attractive apartments, 705 Davis street.

Following the Friday night dance Miss Clara Weidner was hostess at an informal supper party at her home in Twentieth street for about a dozen of the younger set.

Sympathy is being extended to Mrs. Landon R. Mason, Jr., who is at present convalescing from an operation for appendicitis at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Mrs. Guy W. Talbot was hostess at an informal luncheon on Tuesday at her residence. Her guests included Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Frank Gilchrist Owen, Miss Hazel Dolph, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman and Miss Isabella Gault.

The Arts and Crafts Society have planned to give four meetings during the winter months, each one to have a prominent speaker, giving interesting talks on gardens and soil. The first meeting will be held Thursday, January 22, at the Woman's Exchange, and will be preceded by an elaborate luncheon. C. C. Colburn, a well-known authority on gardens, will give a talk on "The History of Gardens." Later in the season members of the faculty of the University at Eugene will attend the meetings and give practical talks on soil and gardening in general, one of the talks to be illustrated with lantern slides. Mrs. Lee Hoffman is president of the society and the committee includes Mrs. John Claire Moutiech, chairman; Mrs. R. E. Moody, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, Miss Hazel Weidner and Miss Cecile O'Reilly. There are about 70 members in this organization, most of whom are prominent socially and keenly interested in arts and the beautifying of landscapes.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox and daughter, Miss Claire, left yesterday for Del Monte. Miss Wilcox is an ar-their friends, who were not even aware that an engagement existed between the charming girl and Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson is a descendant of a pioneer family of Oregon and is the only daughter of Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, who for many years has been an active worker and powerful factor in the educational field of the state. Both the bride and her mother have passed considerable time abroad. Mrs. Johnson broadened her education in Germany and France. While on a trip three years ago in Italy with her mother and cousin, Miss Hildreth Humason, the bride, met Mr. Johnson, a native of Georgia, who had just graduated from the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, and was touring the old world visiting the points of interest in his work. He is now of the firm of Johnson & Mayoy, architects of this city, and he and his bride will return shortly to take up their residence in Portland.

Mr. Johnson left for the East early in December, visiting relatives in his old home in Atlanta, later sojourning in New York, and returning to the Coast via California. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are passing a few weeks at Del Monte.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Early, of Hood River, are passing the Winter in the city and have taken apartments at the Elmwood, Tenth and Hall streets.

The Thursday afternoon Bridge Club has resumed its regular meeting once a fortnight, and last week met on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. David Chambers Lewis. The substitutes for the afternoon were Mrs. C. Edward Grellie and Mrs. George A. Marshall. The members present were: Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. John E. Cronan, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, Mrs. William Morton, Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., Mrs. Martin Dolph, Mrs. Morris H. Whiteside, Miss Hazel Weidner, Miss Inez Barrett and Miss Hazel Crocker.

On today's page is reproduced an attractive portrait of Mrs. F. E. Moore, who left yesterday for Victoria, B. C., to meet her sister and niece, Mrs. F. E. Moore, and Mrs. Felice A. White, en route to Vancouver, B. C., sailing on the steamer Makura from Sydney, Australia, last month. Miss Lyne is prima donna for the Quinlan Grand Opera Company, of London, who have been playing in Cape Town, Johannesburg, South Africa, Melbourne and Sydney, Australia, and are now en route to Canada, returning to England in May. Mrs. Moore will accompany her niece to Vancouver, B. C., where she will play the role of Glida in "Rigoletto" and other operas later in the week. At the conclusion of her week's performance in Vancouver, Miss Lyne will endeavor to visit Dr. and Mrs. Moore at their residence in this city, before she opens her week's engagement in Victoria. She has the distinction of being the youngest American prima donna in grand opera.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Wentworth, Jr., will be hosts for an informal dinner Monday preceding the Monday Night Dancing Club affair which will be given at Murik Hall. This being the first of the New Year, will be one of the best attended, and several other formal parties are planned to precede the dance.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kosciusko Kollock was christened Monday evening at the Kollock residence, on Council Crest, Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding officiating. The sponsors for the little lady, who has been named Mary, in honor of her paternal grandmother, were Mrs. William H. Skene, Miss Claire Houghton, and Charles Gritmacher. A small reception followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman complimented the bride with a charming informal luncheon Thursday at her residence. Her guests numbered eight of the younger set.

Mrs. Harry E. Coleman was hostess for a party of the prettiest bride-to-be of the week at her residence in compliment to Mrs. James Keeney, of Vale, Or., who is the house guest of her plimented Mrs. Keeney Friday afternoon with an informal bridge. The guests, including old friends of the visitor, made up five tables of the game.

The women of Trinity Guild will give a dance February 5 at the parish house, and the affair is being anticipated with considerable pleasure.

Mrs. Thomas Gray entertained on Thursday with a bridge-tee in honor of Mrs. Gustave E. Bruer's sisters, Mrs. E. T. Webb and Mrs. Warren E.
