

DIVING FEATURE OF AQUATIC CARNIVAL

Inez Fanjoy Goes Off North Rail of Burnside Bridge and Swims to Craft.

SPECTACULAR FEATS SEEN

In Street Exhibits One Man Jumps From Center of Broadway Viaduct, and Another Somersaults From Harriman Span.

Nerve that prompted Miss Inez Fanjoy to dive headlong from the north rail of the Burnside-street bridge at 15 o'clock yesterday is of the kind that won for her the girl championship of California and then of the entire Pacific Coast, incidentally earning for her a star's position with the Rice & Dore water circus, which began a week's show at East Third and Oregon streets last night.

Miss Fanjoy's plunge into the Willamette, the temperature of which was about 48 degrees, was arranged by the Portland Press Club, which has assumed some responsibility in making the aquatic carnival a success. Following that event Charles Soderberg made a dive of over 50 feet from the railing at the center of the Broadway bridge and soon after J. O. Flores leaped backward from the Harriman bridge, somersaulting in the air in his descent of 70 feet.

"That wasn't so bad, was it?" was all Miss Fanjoy said on reaching the Harbor Patrol launch, where Harbormaster Speier gallantly assisted her over the side. She swam over 100 feet toward the boat after coming to the surface and complained neither of cold nor the height of her dive. Miss Fanjoy dives 52 feet during each performance and thinks it only fun.

"Why, I've been swimming since I was 6 years old, when my parents permitted it at Venice, Cal., said the young mermaid. "I have a 9-year-old sister, Margaret, who could do the same dive."

Miss Fanjoy weighs 135 pounds and is 17 years old. She says all of her family are swimmers and she took to the sport like a duck.

Soderberg says he took his first swimming lesson when 4 years old in Sweden, and while he dives 52 feet in the show, his highest dive was 102 feet, made at Tacoma. He is 25 years old.

Flores dives 84 feet when performing, always backward and somersaulting. Both men demonstrated yesterday that with all the talk that a low stage of water diving or jumping from the high bridges spanning the harbor was to be questioned, persons experienced in such pastimes assumed no great risk. Soderberg made a beautiful dive and struck the water in an easy posture, while Flores, who he did in midair, entered the water feet first, going down, he said, about 15 feet.

A professional swimmer leaped from the top of the west pier of the Broadway bridge last Summer and swam ashore, but the dive made by Soderberg yesterday was about 20 feet higher.

SMOKER TO DISCUSS ACT

Manufacturers of State to Probe Oregon Compensation Law.

In order to promote an open discussion of all phases of the "compensation act," the Manufacturers' Association of Oregon has issued 500 invitations to a smoker to be given next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the main dining-room of the Commercial Club. Members of the association and other employers of labor will meet to consider whether they will elect to come under the operation of the law July 1.

Harvey Beckwith, chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission, and Paul C. Bates, who has made a special study of compensation laws in this and other states, will be the principal speakers. F. W. Hinsdale, formerly connected with the Commission of the State and admirals will also take part in the discussion. Those who attend have been urged to formulate questions bearing upon the subject. Music by an orchestra will intersperse the discussion.

The smoker plans are in the hands of the compensation committee of the Manufacturers' Association—A. J. Kingsley, J. W. Ganong, H. B. Van Duzer, O. E. Helms and T. S. Mann.

PISGAH HOME ASKS AID

Castoff Clothing for Needy Men and Old Furniture Is Wanted.

PORTLAND, April 4.—(To the Editor.)—The coming of Spring is opening up avenues of employment for the different classes of men in our Pisgah Home. Through your columns I wish to solicit your readers for clothing so as to send these men out in such manner that they may retain their situations.

I would also call their attention to my Old People's Home at Woodmore now nearing completion. This is for the aged ones, and I wish to furnish it as comfortably as I can, and as cheaply as possible. At the housecleaning season, remember us with your cast-off curtains, rugs, chairs and other articles of furniture. Sincerely, HATTIE B. LAURENCE, Pisgah Mother.

MAN NAPS ON CAR; ROBBED

John R. Van Blaricom Awakened by Morning Rain in Golf Park.

When John R. Van Blaricom, who lives on a rural mail route out of Lent, woke up early yesterday morning, he found himself lying under a tree in Golf Park minus his watch, chain and $36 in coin. He had fallen to sleep on an out-bound Gresham car, according to Van Blaricom's report to the police.

The early morning rain awakened him and a hurried search of his pockets revealed the loss of his money. He walked into Portland because the robbers had not even left him carfare.

Six Counts Against Druggist.

SALEM, Or., April 4.—(Special.)—The grand jury in concluding its work here today returned six indictments charging Louis Johnson, a druggist in Silverton, with selling liquor without a license. A number of other indictments were also returned, but they are being withheld until the Sheriff can arrest the parties involved.

One good thing about a bore is that he won't stand for being bored by the other bore.

RURAL WORK IMPORTANT

Y. M. C. A. HAS BIG FIELD, SAYS DR. JOHN BROWN, JR.

International Physical Department Secretary of Association Will Address Men Today.

"The work of the Young Men's Christian Association in rural communities is becoming important in many states," said Dr. John Brown, Jr., international secretary of the association, who will address the men of the Y. M. C. A. at 3:15 o'clock today.

Dr. John Brown, Jr., Who Will Speak at the Y. M. C. A. at 3:15 O'clock Today.

physical work secretary of the association, who arrived in Portland yesterday and will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Dr. Brown has just made an inspection of the rural Y. M. C. A. in California.

"This branch of the association is called the county work," said Dr. Brown. "The Y. M. C. A. establishes itself where there are no large cities and reaches all parts of the country. It directs athletics, conducts religious meetings, provides educational and social facilities and performs the same functions that the city Y. M. C. A. performs in the centers of population." Dr. Brown has entire supervision of the physical department work of the Y. M. C. A. in Canada. He is an authority on recreation and playground work, having devoted much attention to this department. Besides the public meeting which he will address this afternoon, he spoke twice yesterday, in the afternoon to the directors and committees of management of the Y. M. C. A. and in the evening at a banquet held in his honor.

Following the meeting this afternoon C. N. Woonacott, assistant general secretary of the Portland association, will talk to the discussion clubs on the Pastion Play, which he witnessed in 1910. His remarks will be illustrated with stereopticon slides. The afternoon's program will include a violin solo by Mrs. Cornelia Barker, and a soprano solo by Mrs. Edwin S. Miller.

MRS. GERLINGER SUES

$50,000 DEMANDED FOR PLACING DETECTOPHONE IN ROOM.

Burns Detective Agency, Lawyers and Building Owner Defendants in Case.

Echo of Lloyd Frank Suit.

Trespass in her home for the purpose of placing a detectophone in the chandelier is charged by Mrs. Gertrude Gerlinger against Lloyd Frank, yesterday filed yesterday against Lloyd Frank, Attorney George W. Joseph, Bert Haney, C. H. Carey, the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, J. M. Huddleson and F. E. Glenn. The suit is an echo of the $50,000 charge of promise suit brought by Mrs. Gerlinger against Lloyd Frank, heard before Circuit Judge Davis during the winter, at which Mrs. Gerlinger received a verdict for $1.

In a complaint filed by Attorney G. E. Hamaker, Mrs. Gerlinger charges that the detectophone was placed in her room in the Buena Vista apartments December 10, 1913, and remained there until January 12. Entrance to her apartments was obtained, she alleges, by false representations of agents of the attorneys and the detective agency, who advised the manager of the apartments that they were employees of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and had come to make some repairs to the wiring.

Huddleson, owner and proprietor of the apartments, is charged with aiding and abetting the other defendants in placing the detectophone in Mrs. Gerlinger's room, after wires had been inserted through a hole in the ceiling which had been made from the attic above Mrs. Gerlinger's apartment.

At the breach of promise suit, tried several months ago, reports, purporting to be records of conversations which had taken place in Mrs. Gerlinger's apartments, were introduced by detectives.

ORR ESTATE IS CLAIMED

MRS. HUMASON FILES PETITION AND ASKS HEARING.

Marriage of Augustus B. F. Orr Attacked on Grounds of Alleged Fraudulent Divorce.

Content to have the courts declare who are the legal heirs of Mrs. Mary Burke Orr, who died in June, 1912, leaving an estate valued at approximately $68,000, was started yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Humason, sister of Mrs. Orr, who is attacked by Mrs. Humason's petition, because of an alleged fraudulent divorce procured in Clackamas County in 1911. Officials of Clackamas County are investigating this divorce now, the petition states.

In an affidavit filed with the petition Mrs. Byron T. Mills, formerly Mrs. Hannah Orr, declares she came to Portland in May, 1911, and procured a divorce in a month. The proceedings were arranged, she states, by Attorney J. A. Stowbridge and her husband, Gus Orr, who six months later married Miss Burke.

Several months ago Mrs. Humason

They have personally aided in clearing the locations preparatory to proving up.

attempted to obtain her sister's property by proceedings in which she attacked Orr's divorce from his first wife, but Judge Cleston ruled that the legality of the divorce obtained by Mrs. Hannah Orr from her husband could not be attacked by a third person. Since that time an investigation has been taken up in the name of the State of Oregon.

Mrs. Humason brings her proceedings on the theory that she can show that Orr assisted his first wife to obtain the divorce so that he might marry Mary Burke, whom he referred to as the "old lady" and that by showing the divorce to have been obtained by fraud she can have annulled Orr's marriage with her sister, by which he obtained possession of her sister's property at the time of her death.

JURY IS REPRIMANDED

JUDGE KAVANAUGH SCORES FAILURE TO CONVICT ED RUBY.

Evidence Was Clear and Children Must Be Protected, Court Tells Men Who Could Not Agree on Verdict.

Before he discharged the jury that failed to convict Ed Ruby, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Circuit Judge Kavanaugh yesterday delivered a reprimand to its members. The case was submitted to the jury at 11 o'clock Friday morning and they were discharged at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after reporting that an agreement was impossible.

"The morals of the community are in your hands, gentlemen, when such cases as this are under deliberation," said the jurist, "and if juries fail to protect the children I cannot vouch for the future. The evidence in this case was clear, at least to me, and established the guilt of this defendant beyond any doubt."

"Possibly if you know the frequency of cases of this nature you would not hesitate to convict. The juries are full with men charged with such crimes as Ruby is charged with and we must depend on the juries to do their part."

Judge Kavanaugh questioned a majority of the jurors and would not discharge the jury until he had been assured by them that there was no possibility of agreement. They reported that they stood 11 to one for conviction, but, though there was no chance to obtain the 12th vote.

The next trial of Ruby will be held before one of the other judges.
