

MIRIADS OF ROSES TO FLANK STREETS

Sixth, From Yamhill to Salmon, Will Be Continuous Sweet-Scented Bower.

ALL WILL BE A-BLOOM

Pergolas, Colonnades, Booths and Fences Are Now Being Designed and Minutest Details Are Being Carefully Weighed.

A feature of the 1914 Rose Festival that will be new, unique and effective will be the district display of roses, for which elaborate plans have been made under the supervision of Secretary J. C. Curry, of the Rose Festival Association.

The extensive plans for this far-reaching feature of this year's festival have been worked out to the smallest detail, and during the coming week, at a meeting of the directors representing all the districts which are to participate in the exhibit, assignments of booths will be made and final instructions issued for the carrying out of the novel project.

The big display will be located on Sixth street, running from Yamhill to Salmon. Plans have been completed and contractors are now erecting pergolas, colonnades, fences and booths, which will give the section a festive and picturesque appearance and provide the most effective background for the display of the hundreds of thousands of beautiful blooms.

At each section of the cross streets there will be special divisions along the curbs, which will be decorated and landscaped by the professional florists and florists and nurserymen of the city. These decorations themselves will comprise a most interesting and impressive feature, with displays of Oregon plants and flowers covering a wide range, besides choice roses.

The rest of the space along the curbs will be planted with roses prior to the festival, and these will be brought to perfection for the big event of June 9-12. These bushes are now at Rahn and Herbert's, at Mount Tabor, being cared for and carefully cultivated. More than 60 varieties from the large, hardy perpetuals to the daintiest of blooms and various picturesque ramblers will be represented. There will be thousands of growing and blooming bushes. Some of these bushes are now more than four feet tall and will be in the height of bloom.

Down through the middle of Sixth street there will be a long line of artistically constructed booths, in which the various districts will make their displays. There will be about 20 different booths, and all the residence sections from Portland Heights to Montavilla and from Sellwood to St. Johns will compete for honors and the attractive prizes offered. It is estimated that the cut roses exhibited will run high into the scores of thousands.

The assignment of booths, so that no favoritism shall be shown, will be made by drawing numbers. This will be done at the meeting of the district directors next Thursday evening at the Commercial Club. Each booth will be numbered and the district will draw a card, taking the booth represented by the number of the card drawn.

The entire district display will be under the supervision of Secretary J. C. Curry, of the Rose Festival Association, who was formerly president of the Portland Rose Society. Mr. Curry will be assisted by the Royal Rosarians, who will act as directors during the exhibit, different members of the organization serving on different days. The district directors are W. H. McLean, N. B. Pike, H. J. Blaesing and R. H. Thomas.

UNIVERSITY ORATOR WINS

Victor Morris First in Peace Contest at Y. M. C. A.

Victor Morris, representing the University of Oregon in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Friday night, won the first annual oratorical contest of the Inter-collegiate Peace Association, which is coming eligible to represent the state at the National contest at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., in May. Howard Taylor, of Pacific University, was awarded the second place. The prizes are $75 and $50.

The other contestants were Raymond Culver, of McMinnville College; Earl Fleischmann, of Eugene Bible University; Louis Gambee, of Oregon Agricultural College; Glen McCaddam, of Willamette University, and Otto Purcell, of Albany College. "Man's Moral Nature, the Hope of Universal Peace," and Taylor's "The Coming of International Brotherhood."

The judges were H. H. Herdman, M. N. Dana, C. B. Elliott, R. C. French and A. J. Robinson.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS UP

General Committee Meets to Arrange for Celebration.

A general Memorial day committee held an initial meeting in Veterans' Hall, Courthouse, to make arrangements for an appropriate celebration and to decorate the graves of soldiers.

The posts of the Grand Army of the Republic and Spanish War Veterans constitute the committee. R. C. Macken is chairman; A. E. Borthwick, secretary, and W. H. Murphy, treasurer. Subcommittees are: On orator, music and programme, Messrs. Evans, Henderschott and Borthwick; on finance, Markee, McDevitt and Murphy; on grounds, transportation and hall, J. W. Curran, C. L. Barney, M. L. Pratt and James Walsh; on markers, flags and flowers, J. L. Misenheimer, A. J. Salisbury; on naval service and water decoration, chairman, J. W. Curran.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY JOINED

Death of Suicide's Victim Occurs at Boise After Several Days.

BOISE, Idaho, April 25.—(Special.)—The double tragedy that occurred this week at the Brown & Stewart sheep camp, near Mayfield, when Carl Sutterly, a German, shot John Hastings, a well-known sheepman, because he made fun of his broken English, and then committed suicide, was completed here when Hastings died at a local hospital. He was shot twice through the abdomen and, although he lingered several days, medical and surgical attention could not save him.

The leaf of the Cerion talipot palm, which grows to 100 feet in height, is so wide that it will cover 20 men.

FOUR GIRLS LEADING IN RACE TO REIGN AS QUEEN ROSE AND CANDIDATE ANNOUNCED RECENTLY

CANNERY IS WANTED

Gresham Meeting to Discuss Co-operative Association.

MANY ASKED TO ATTEND

Portland Men to Address Session in Behalf of Opening Plant and Handling Powell Valley Products on Puyallup Plan.

A meeting will be held Monday night at the Gresham library to take up the question of organizing a producers' cooperative association and cannery. Every one between Portland and the Cascades and the Clackamas and Columbia River has been invited to attend. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Gresham Commercial Club. The announcement says: "If an organization of this kind can be effected here, it spells prosperity for the entire community; it means a fair price for everything you raise; it means employment for men, women and children; it means that large holdings of real estate will be divided up into small tracts, and that homes will be built and maintained on these tracts."

Puyallup Viewed as Model. "It is proposed to organize along the lines similar to those under which Puyallup and Eugene people have attained such remarkable results. We are told and figures are brought forward to substantiate the statements, that growers in these communities are making a net profit of from 10 to 20 per cent on land valued at from $500 to $1000 an acre."

"Gresham and the country tributary have all the advantages for growing and marketing fruit and produce that these places have, and have some advantages that they do not possess."

Committee Makes Plans. A special committee from the Gresham Club has the arrangements for the meeting in hand. A preliminary meeting of the club was held last night. Business men of Gresham, Pleasant Valley and other districts were present. It is desired to procure the cooperation of at least 300 growers and more, if possible, in the movement.

A number of prominent men in Portland are interested, including W. W. Cotton, J. Fred Larson, Tom Richardson, Grant Sager, H. A. Lewis, H. E. Davis, Charles Cleveland, M. O. Nelson, H. M. Miller, F. H. Lehman, G. A. Eastman, Theodore Brugger, and many others.

They have been arguing that the present methods of farming and transportation in Powell Valley are not producing the best results. Powell Valley is a great district traversed by the Mount Hood and Portland, Railway, Light & Power Company lines. At Gresham land is held as high as $500 an acre, but there is much land unimproved at much smaller prices that would be made available. It is set forth that if 300 or 500 growers will undertake to grow longberries in garden produce suitable for canning, a market can be developed at home for the surplus.

DELINQUENT IS PROBLEM

Dr. House Says Society Should Prevent, Not Punish, Crime.

The Social Service Club met Friday night at the Hazelwood, where dinner was followed by several addresses. Judge Gantenbein presided. Papers were read by Dr. William House, Miss Ida M. Manley and George Thacher. Methods of dealing with the delinquents and defectives was the general topic of discussion.

"I do not believe in too much sentimentalism in considering the cases of the delinquent," said Dr. House, "there must be punishment, but let the punishment fit the criminal, not the crime. An understanding of conditions will solve many of the problems. Morality is strictly a matter of convention. It is not acquired as an instinct. It is largely a matter of education, training and environment. The object of society should be not so much to punish crime as to prevent it."

'MEXICO' IS Y. M. C. A. TOPIC

Rev. W. L. Mellinger Will Tell of His Recent Visit There.

"Mexico" will be the timely topic of discussion at the men's meeting in the auditorium of the Portland Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. W. L. Mellinger, pastor of Woodlawn Christian Church. Rev. Mellinger has spent several years in Mexico, leaving that country since the present revolution began. He will summarize the present political and religious situation in Mexico.

Following the meeting General Secretary Stone will lead a discussion club in the lobby. At the fellowship supper to follow, Miss Zillinger, secretary to Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn, will speak. Miss Zillinger was training to become an actress when she became interested in the evangelical work of Mrs. Clibborn, in which she has since assisted.

The evening song service will be held from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

DEAN OF THEATER MANAGERS OF PORTLAND TRIES ON ANN SWINBURNE HAT

John F. Cordray, dean of the theater managers of Portland, is a model, not only a model showman, but a hat model. Mr. Cordray tried on an Easter creation yesterday, selecting the 17th century Spring hat which Ann Swinburne, Portland actress, has revived. A prominent Washington-street milliner declared the hat becomes Mr. Cordray's style of beauty, and that a light shade of blue would be the best hue in the crowning of his white locks. Mr. Cordray will take prominent part in the Follies to be staged by the Theater Managers' Association at the Heilig Theater Thursday night, May 21. Selection of a costume by Mr. Cordray for the "1914 Follies" led to his tryout of the Ann Swinburne hat.

VOTES COME FAST

Counters at Rose Festival Headquarters Swamped.

QUEEN CONTEST POPULAR

Candidate Polling Highest Number Will Reign With "Rex Oregonus" and 11 Candidates Scoring Next Will Be Princesses.

So keen is the competition in the Rose Festival's queen election and tour contest that great bundles and boxes of coupons, containing thousands and tens of thousands of votes, have been pouring into headquarters hourly for the past three days, and the clerical force engaged in counting the votes and making tallies are two days behind with the count, striving desperately to catch up.

The struggle to win and maintain first place, and failing that, to keep above the unlucky 13th position on the list, is a vigorous one, and each candidate has a big organization of supporters clipping coupons from the newspapers, buying goods at the stores where the votes are given away with purchases, and getting them at Festival headquarters, where they may be purchased.

The candidate polling the highest number of votes at the close of the contest, on May 16, is to be "Queen Rose," which will include stops and lavish hospitality at Tacoma, Seattle, North Yakima, Spokane, Salt Lake, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Rose festival board of governors are in correspondence with various commercial and "boosting" organizations in all the cities on the itinerary, all of which are anxious to extend unique and delightful entertainment to the Rose Festival girls. They are making extensive plans and arranging details for making the 10-day trip a succession of delightful experiences for "Queen Rose" and her royal suite. Motor rides and scenic side trips, banquets, luncheons, serenades and many other forms of entertainment will be on the 10-day programme, and the girls will be kept enjoying themselves from the time the special car leaves Portland on May 25, until its return 10 days later.

The following standings show the vote that were counted at the office of the tour manager up to 9 A. M. Friday, but does not include all votes that were in the box:

Table listing candidates and their vote counts: Miss Lina Osterwald (79,543), Miss Hazel Hoyt (78,425), Miss Alice Hooty (77,716), Miss Helen Fitzgerald (76,415), Miss Leola Martin (76,283), Miss Helen McVey (75,912), Miss Violet Oakley (72,590), Miss Thea Hollingsworth (68,725), Miss Anna Perry (68,271), Miss Nellie Lincoln (67,450), Miss Laila Perkins (66,423), Miss Stella Campbell (64,970), Miss Lillian Johnson (64,542), Miss Stella McClary (63,089), Miss Yashti Dean (61,480), Miss Mary McInnon (60,540), Miss Margaret Clifford (60,175), Miss Gertrude Johnson (59,990), Miss Frieda Reider (58,340), Miss Minnie E. Smith (57,990), Miss Anna Miles (56,590), Miss Geneva Robertson (47,665), Miss Beulah Barringer (46,235), Miss Sadie Vigus (5,355).

WILLIAM JONES IS DEAD

Portland Business Man Succumbs From Long Illness.

William Jones, who lived at 304 Glenn avenue, died Thursday from a prolonged illness. He was born in Wales and came to this country when a young man to engage in the clothing trade. He pioneered in Iowa, passing 25 years in the northwestern part of the state, at Cherokee. He afterward moved to Minnesota, coming later to Idaho, and six years ago to Portland, where he was engaged in business up to the time of his death. He son, three daughters and his widow survive.

REED PICKS NAMES

Candidates for Council Are Nominated by Students.

WILLIAM JONES IS DEAD

Portland Business Man Succumbs From Long Illness.

William Jones, who lived at 304 Glenn avenue, died Thursday from a prolonged illness. He was born in Wales and came to this country when a young man to engage in the clothing trade. He pioneered in Iowa, passing 25 years in the northwestern part of the state, at Cherokee. He afterward moved to Minnesota, coming later to Idaho, and six years ago to Portland, where he was engaged in business up to the time of his death. He son, three daughters and his widow survive.

DEAN OF THEATER MANAGERS OF PORTLAND TRIES ON ANN SWINBURNE HAT

John F. Cordray, dean of the theater managers of Portland, is a model, not only a model showman, but a hat model. Mr. Cordray tried on an Easter creation yesterday, selecting the 17th century Spring hat which Ann Swinburne, Portland actress, has revived.

A prominent Washington-street milliner declared the hat becomes Mr. Cordray's style of beauty, and that a light shade of blue would be the best hue in the crowning of his white locks. Mr. Cordray will take prominent part in the Follies to be staged by the Theater Managers' Association at the Heilig Theater Thursday night, May 21. Selection of a costume by Mr. Cordray for the "1914 Follies" led to his tryout of the Ann Swinburne hat.

REED PICKS NAMES

Candidates for Council Are Nominated by Students.

WILLIAM JONES IS DEAD

Portland Business Man Succumbs From Long Illness.

William Jones, who lived at 304 Glenn avenue, died Thursday from a prolonged illness. He was born in Wales and came to this country when a young man to engage in the clothing trade. He pioneered in Iowa, passing 25 years in the northwestern part of the state, at Cherokee. He afterward moved to Minnesota, coming later to Idaho, and six years ago to Portland, where he was engaged in business up to the time of his death. He son, three daughters and his widow survive.

DEAN OF THEATER MANAGERS OF PORTLAND TRIES ON ANN SWINBURNE HAT

John F. Cordray, dean of the theater managers of Portland, is a model, not only a model showman, but a hat model. Mr. Cordray tried on an Easter creation yesterday, selecting the 17th century Spring hat which Ann Swinburne, Portland actress, has revived.

A prominent Washington-street milliner declared the hat becomes Mr. Cordray's style of beauty, and that a light shade of blue would be the best hue in the crowning of his white locks. Mr. Cordray will take prominent part in the Follies to be staged by the Theater Managers' Association at the Heilig Theater Thursday night, May 21. Selection of a costume by Mr. Cordray for the "1914 Follies" led to his tryout of the Ann Swinburne hat.

The evening song service will be held from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Advertisement for The Finish Furniture Co. featuring 9x12 Wilton Velvet Rugs (Reg. $32.50, Extra Special $23.75), 9x12 Axminster Rugs (Reg. $27.50, Extra Special $15.95), $12 Rocker Like Illustration ($6.75), Genuine Wool Mattresses (Weight 40 lbs., Art Ticking, Roll Edge, Reg. $25.00, EXTRA SPECIAL $11.85), and Guaranteed Refrigerators at Sale Prices. The ad also includes a list of furniture items like leather or tapestry auto seats and guaranteed oak rockers.

Advertisement for Reed Picks Names, listing candidates for Council: Arthur Hauck, Alvin Bradford, Milton Kurpan, David French, David Brace, Elsa Gill, Annie Jordan Harrison, Jean Wolverson, Ada McCown, Evelyn Fatland, and Edna Acheson. It also lists the names of the nominating students.

Advertisement for Gantenbein in Race, mentioning that among the many letters received by C. U. Gantenbein, Republican candidate for Circuit Judge of department No. 6, was the following from Circuit Judge Henry E. McGinn: "My Dear Judge: I do so regret that my absence from Portland on Monday next will prevent me from saying to you publicly what I am about to say to you now. You brought to the bench when you came to its service, now more than six years ago, a ripe and good scholarship, academic and legal, the result of the best training of the schools. Your mental and acquired attainments have at all times been employed by you with great devotion to the service of the state. Your love of justice, your prompt administration of it, your industry in dispatching the public business, have long been recognized by all. Your leaving the bench, have no hesitation in saying, is a distinct loss to the commonwealth. I say this to you with the wish that God's choicest blessings may be and abide with you, and with all your family. I am with sincere good-will, ever faithfully yours, 'HENRY E. M'GINN.'"

Advertisement for William Jones is Dead, stating that Portland business man succumbed from long illness. He lived at 304 Glenn avenue and was engaged in business up to the time of his death.

Advertisement for Dean of Theater Managers of Portland Tries on Ann Swinburne Hat, mentioning John F. Cordray's tryout of the 17th century Spring hat.

Advertisement for Reed Picks Names, listing candidates for Council: Arthur Hauck, Alvin Bradford, Milton Kurpan, David French, David Brace, Elsa Gill, Annie Jordan Harrison, Jean Wolverson, Ada McCown, Evelyn Fatland, and Edna Acheson.

Advertisement for Gantenbein in Race, mentioning that among the many letters received by C. U. Gantenbein, Republican candidate for Circuit Judge of department No. 6, was the following from Circuit Judge Henry E. McGinn.

Advertisement for William Jones is Dead, stating that Portland business man succumbed from long illness. He lived at 304 Glenn avenue and was engaged in business up to the time of his death.

Advertisement for Dean of Theater Managers of Portland Tries on Ann Swinburne Hat, mentioning John F. Cordray's tryout of the 17th century Spring hat.

Advertisement for Eczema Stopped, featuring ZEMO medicine. Text: "ZEMO Proves a Wonderful Success—Stops Itching Instantly and Brings Permanent Results. Get a 35c Bottle Today and Prove It. Don't think that eczema, that nearly drives you wild, can't be cured. ZEMO is all you need to do it. Its relief is so quick that you get a septic solution goes to the very root of the trouble. It is not a temporary relief, but a permanent cure. ZEMO has often been imitated but positively never equaled. It will surprise you as it does other skin afflictions. ZEMO has often been imitated but positively never equaled. It will surprise you as it does other skin afflictions. ZEMO has often been imitated but positively never equaled. It will surprise you as it does other skin afflictions."

Advertisement for To Save Eyes, featuring ZEMO eye medicine. Text: "Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles, but they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for eye troubles, but they neglect their eyes, because the eye specialist, who would, any way, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use: 5 grains Optina. (1 Tablet) Use 2 ounces Water. Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription keeps the eyes clean and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation. Weak, watery, or itchy eyes, granular lids and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many who wear glasses have discarded them after using it for a few weeks. It is good for the eyes, and will not injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. The Owl Drug Co., or any other druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it, and know for once what real eye comfort is—Adv."

Advertisement for Eczema Stopped, featuring ZEMO medicine. Text: "ZEMO Proves a Wonderful Success—Stops Itching Instantly and Brings Permanent Results. Get a 35c Bottle Today and Prove It. Don't think that eczema, that nearly drives you wild, can't be cured. ZEMO is all you need to do it. Its relief is so quick that you get a septic solution goes to the very root of the trouble. It is not a temporary relief, but a permanent cure. ZEMO has often been imitated but positively never equaled. It will surprise you as it does other skin afflictions. ZEMO has often been imitated but positively never equaled. It will surprise you as it does other skin afflictions."

Advertisement for To Save Eyes, featuring ZEMO eye medicine. Text: "Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles, but they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for eye troubles, but they neglect their eyes, because the eye specialist, who would, any way, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use: 5 grains Optina. (1 Tablet) Use 2 ounces Water. Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription keeps the eyes clean and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation. Weak, watery, or itchy eyes, granular lids and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many who wear glasses have discarded them after using it for a few weeks. It is good for the eyes, and will not injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. The Owl Drug Co., or any other druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it, and know for once what real eye comfort is—Adv."