NEW YORK, May 2.—(Special).—The United States revenue cutter Seneca, which is patrolling the North Atlantic, recently reported two huge icebergs moving rapidly southward in the path of ocean steamers at longitude 44:53 and latitude 48:25, and immediately sent out wireless danger signals to all nearby steamers. From water-line to top, these icebergs rose to a height of over 125 feet, and the Seneca appeared nothing but a pigmy of the sea in comparison. The Government is using every precaution to avert another Titanic disaster.

Miss Margaret Vale, the niece of President Wilson appeared in the suffragette pageant at the 71st Regiment Armory here on the night of April 17. Three thousand friends of the cause turned out to see the woman's part in the life of this country, past, present and future, as presented under the auspices of the Men's League for Woman Suffrage.

Some pretty clever playing mixed with mighty fast work was the feature of the opening of the practice games between the Red and Blue, made up of some of the old guard of the polo team. Rapidly the players are getting into trim, so that they may be prepared when the time comes for choosing the make-up of the team which will meet the cravvy players from Britain, who are practicing in Spain, in anticipation of a hard tussle.

A statue of William Pitt, first Earl of Chatham, is to be presented to the Capitol at Washington by a committee of prominent American women living in England. The idea originated with Lady Arthur Paget and associated with her are the Duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. Hungerford Mackay, Mrs. Louise W. Carnegie, Mrs. Roady Dodge, Mrs. Frederick Guest, Mrs. Ava Astor, Mrs. Mary Harcourt and Mrs. Ceceline W. Paget. The sculptor selected was Derwent Wood, whose father, Alpheus Baylies Wood, was an American subject. He is a descendant of Ezekiel Wood, born in London, who emigrated to the United States in 1715. Mr. Wood has done a great deal of sculptural work for the Henry Phipps house in Fifth avenue, and the bronze gates leading to his courtyard are Mr. Wood's work.

Miss Anne Morgan's pet philanthropy is the organization known as the vacation savings fund. Fully 2000 girls whose salaries range from $3 to $20 a week, and who are taxpayers or depositors in this fund, accompanied Miss Morgan recently as she piloted them about the big steamer Imperator. Never before has the great vessel's decks resounded to the tramp of the feet of so many pretty girls as followed in the wake of the "Big Sister," as Miss Morgan led them about on the tour of inspection. In the two years of existence $126,000 has been saved by the 15,050 girl members and $95,000 has been drawn for vacations. The average deposits are not far from $2200 per week. The headquarters of the Vacation Association is at 38 West Thirty-ninth street, where there is a restaurant and all the accessories that go toward the comfort and happiness of the members, and here at the weekly dances Miss Morgan, the treasurer of the organization, may be seen in regular attendance, enjoying herself as thoroughly as do the girl members themselves. The taxpayers are the girls who pay $1 a year for the privilege of using the headquarters of the organization as a special center for themselves, and the depositors are the girls who put aside in the savings fund what they want to save toward their annual vacation. Moving pictures of the girls and Miss Morgan were made, and these were shown at the ball given by the organization April 30.

prise 15 miles of trackage. The station was designed by Jarvis Hunt, of Chicago, who drew the plans for the new Union passenger station at Kansas City and the general passenger terminals at Chicago. The work on it is to be completed in 18 months. The station will be 233 feet long with a depth of 123 feet. A bridge will carry the passengers over the tracks to their trains. Arrangements have been made so that the capacity of the station can be doubled by additions at any time.

The sealing steamer Newfoundland, of St. John's, N. F., according to report brought in by the steamship Florazel, of the Red Cross line, which arrived here with 50 rescued sealers, was lost in the blinding blizzard that swept the coast recently. The men who were lost were far from the ship itself, in the ice floes in search of the seal which abound here at this time. The steamer Bellaventure is bringing in another 25 survivors and 28 bodies. It is feared that the Southern Cross, from which no word has been received, has also been lost with all aboard.

Mayor Lois Weber, one of the few women Mayors in the world, presented a medal to her Chief of Police, the only female police chief in the world, in the presence of the 25 members of the female police force. This is the original bonafide "woman's sphere," where women do all the bossing and where mere man is just tolerated—that's all, just tolerated. There probably is no other town in the world where all the officials—mayor, chief of police, aldermen and corporation counsel are women. Universal City, or the City of the Movies, is located about five miles from Los Angeles. Its population is made up of actors who build the Universal film pictures, and was incorporated under the laws of the state, soon after the women of California won the franchise. The "queens" of the movies were not slow to grasp the opportunity and nominated such a strong ticket that at the elections, the male ticket was simply annihilated, and Miss Lois Weber was elected to fill the Mayor's office. Miss Stella Adams is the beautiful Chief of Police. The uniform of the women police force consists of caps, blouses, short skirts and black silk stockings with 13 gold buttons down the side. It is said that the young police women are doing a thriving business in selling souvenir buttons.

Great Britain is hurrying ships toward Rio de Janeiro to protect British interests during the progress of the revolution which is now going on in Brazil.

Black Tulip Nearly Accomplished. LONDON, May 2.—A black tulip, which has been a dream of horticulturists ever since Erasmus wrote of such a mythical flower, has been nearly realized. At the flower show in Horticultural Hall a specimen of tulip has been shown which has such a dark plum color that it might at first glance be mistaken for a black flower. Its growers declare they will be able to exhibit a specimen almost coal black next year. The first flag to fly through the Panama Canal will be that of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

to go through the motions necessary for eating and drinking, writing his name, lighting a cigarette, buttoning his shoes, picking a coin from the floor and holding a traveling bag so tightly that two men could not pull it from his grasp. A mechanical respiration apparatus similar to those used by the Government to restore life to partly suffocated persons was demonstrated on a living subject. Dallas, Texas, is constructing a 5,000,000-dollar terminal and station. The building alone will cost $50,000. The terminal will be used by all the railroads which enter Dallas. It will com-
