Accused Agent Testifies That E. C. Herlow Attended to Finances of Realty Company Which They Operated Jointly.

Details of the finances of the Chapin-Herlow Mortgage & Trust Company were gone into yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Collier in his cross-examination of W. H. Chapin, on trial charged with larceny, as a bailee, of $3500 from Mr. and Mrs. William Grace. The only other witness called yesterday The only other witness called yesterday was Mrs. Chapin, who was on the stand a short time. Arguments will be begun tomorrow morning and the case submitted to the jury late Monday or early

Though he was president of the com Though he was president of the company and looked at the books with more or less frequency, Mr. Chapin testified that he had no intimate knowledge of the finances of the company. This was attended to solely by his partner, E. C. Herlow, Mr. Chapin said. The two men, indicted jointly on a charge of failure to invest the money procured from Mr. and Mrs. Grace in the manner in which she testified it was intended, have demanded separate trials, because of which Mr. Herlow was not allowed to testify when called to the witness stand by Attorney Ross-to the witness stand by Attorney Ross-man, counsel for Mr. Chapin.

In the cross-examination, which lasted several hours yesterday, Mr. Chapin was asked regarding the receipts and was asked regarding the receipts and expenditures during each month of 1912, in November of which the $3500 was received from Mrs. Grace, but the witness denied any knowledge of the exact amounts, even though he testified Friday that the company was in good condition. Soon after the money was procured from Mrs. Grace, which the officers say was received as a loan, for which notes were given in security, the company went into the hands of a trustee, who has not yet been discharged.

BURNING OF Y. M. C. A. LAUNCH REAL TRAGEDY

Tears Come to Eyes of Youths Who Looked Forward to Another Year of River Sport When News of Disaster Is Learned.

EARS came to the eyes of more than one boy when he heard last Friday morning that the launch Y. M. C. A. had been burned up the night before. This launch was the dependance to the hundreds of members of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department for their Summer trips on the Willamette and Columbia, and its destruction just as the season was open-struction just as the season was opening has been a severe disappointment to the youngsters.

The problem of how to replace the launch has been the main topic of conversation around the boys' lobby the last few days. The boys are hoping that some friend will follow the example of M. B. Rankin, who gave them the launch, and provide another boat that will allow them to carry out their Summer plans.

The boys' department is divided into

The boys' department is divided into nearly 20 clubs, and each season the launch is used by the clubs on a regular schedule. The trips are not altogether for pleasure, as there is always an informal meeting at some spot along the river where the boys engage in the discussion of serious matters or listen to helpful talks by the PERSONAL MENTION.

OPENING OF VAST RESOURCES ALONG SNAKE RIVER URGED.

Dam 200 Feet High Would Create 200. 000-Horsepower and Make Waters Navigable, Says J. H. Lewis.

That the people are overlooking a great development project along the Snake River is the opinion of State En-gineer John H. Lewis, who returned to transportation and these varied re-sources should make the Snake River project one of the most feasible for de-velopment in units. Below the mouth of the Grande Ronde River the stream at low water has a flow of one-half as great as that of the Mississippi River at Keokuk and is ideal for the development of power with relatively low

WASHINGTON, May 23.-A petition throughout the country and every car-signed by several thousands of citi-rier has been urged to attend.

SURVEY IS MADE OF CITY TRAFFIC

Importance of Information Relating to Use of Streets Asserted by Mr. Dieck.

WASHINGTON BUSY STREET

Results Determined May Be Applied to Development of Highways. Routing of Cars and Separating Grade Crossings.

The intersection of Fifth and Wash-ngton streets is the busiest corner in Portland from a traffic standpoint, acording to a comprehensive traffic survey being made by the city department of public works under Commissioner Dieck. The traffic survey has been under way for several weeks and has extended to 114 points in the city. Its purpose is to provide adequate information for use in the development of streets and highways and their improvement. provement.

provement.

The survey maps, as finished to date, show that in a ten-hour period at Fifth and Washington streets 117,044 pedestrians, 2063 tens of merchandise and 1351 streetcars passed. The intersection of Broadway and Washington is shown to be second in density of traffic. The table shows that at a total of 37 stations 464,329 pedestrians, 96,156 tens of merchandise and 17,916 streetcars passed in a ten-hour day.

The survey is patterned after surveys conducted in several of the larger conducted in several of the larger Eastern cities, including New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago. The plan is considerably different here from the plan used in the East, a num-ber of new features having been added. 114 Stations Established.

In the first place, 114 stations were established at important intersections in the city and on county roads. The classification of all vehicles being de-directions, the congestion on bridges at draw openings, the number of open-ings of each bridge and develops the result of congestion caused thereby upon streets within the business section. The paving of certain streets in the outlying districts has a decided effect on the deliverance of traffic in the business section and in many cases places an excess of traffic on the Burn-side and Morrison-street bridges, "The results so far obtained have proved to be of great value in connec-tion with the development of highway improvements in general, as has proved to be the case in several of our large Eastern cities, and it is hoped that sufficient funds will be provided for continuing this work," says Commissioner Dieck.

STORE EMPLOYES TO DANCE

Total of 3000 Dancers Expected at Meier & Frank Event, June 1.

The first memorial service will be held at the White Temple, corner Twelfth and Taylor streets, tonight at 7.45. Dr. Hinson will deliver an address. Special music has been arranged for the occasion.

This memorial service is held throughout the country and every carrier has been urged to attend.

CONFERENCE

The 2000 employes of the Meier & Frank Company are making great preparations for a dance which they will give on the night of June 1. On that date the workmen will commence the destruction of the building and the employes, in order to celebrate the event decided to give a dance.

The entire second floor will be cleared. The employes have made the floor almost as smooth as the best of ballrooms. It will be decorated.

The employes who have charge of

The employes who have charge of the affair promise many novelties and the "stunt committee" is working overtime, it is reported. There will be mov-ing pictures taken of the dancers. It is estimated that there will be 2000 dancers. Each employe will have an extra ticket of admission. The heads of the various departments have been organized into a committee of arrange-ments and each department in the store must spring a surprise or "pull off a stunt," as they put it.
