BY RALPH J. STAEHLL Freddy Frambach, the Idaho wonder, and heralded as the "second Walter Johnson," did the work for the Portland Colts yesterday. He pitched a good game, allowing but six hits, but the tide of errors, of which Portland made six, really robbed him of a victory. The final score was: Tacoma 6, Portland 3.

inning, when Fries got to first on McKune's error and was advanced when Guigni's gumdrop play allowed Mc-Mullen to get safe.

Along came Neighbors with a double-sacker and brought them waitzing in. Another run occurred in the fifth. West was hit by Frambach and stole second. He made good on Fries' fly.
Frambach's one bad inning was the seventh. He got a bit nervous and walked West, who was lafe on second when Murray let one go. Million scored him with a hit. The later was brought in by McMullen's double, and Fries, who had walked, got in on the same one.

one.

The double was more or less of a scorer's problem, as it rolled all over the outfield and Fries had to come all the way from first.

the way from first.

Things went better in the eighth and ninth. Bromley had replaced Frambach. True he walked two more, but an equal number of strike-outs and easily handled bingles kept the Tigers off the sacred rubber for the remainder of the afternoon.

Girot, on the other side, had the Colts pretty well tethered. The stake pulled out in the sixth, when four of the eight hits gave Portland its entire batch of runs.

At Oakland Portland-Oakland game postponed; rain.

This was in spite of two strike-outs in the same round. Terry McKune, one of the Colts' stars, started the lineup with a hit. Callahan fanned and Melchior followed with a hit.

On hits, Portland again should have had the best of the argument, for the Nick Williams aggregation again clouted the Tigers for the majority, Eight were garnered. The Tigers again meet the Colls today, the last time for two months. The score: Pertland-

Lynch and Holke Pitch After Gregg SACKAM Loses for Spokane.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 23.—Mike Lynch made a "joke" of today's game after the Bees had sapped Gregs for eight runs in the first four innings.
He went in to pitch himself, but got tired after fanning Wilholt and called on Holke, going to center field himself and sending Hogan to first base.
Narveson did not extend himself after the first three innings. The Bees won,

The mystery of Seattle's continued downfall in Vancouver remains as deep as ever. If there was a wide difference in the playing ability of the two teams there would be no chance for a discussion. Taking them man for man, however, neither side has enough edge to warrant odds in betting. Yet any person who has followed the history of the present Northwestern League could have cleaned up a bunch of money by the present Northwestern League could have cleaned up a bunch of money by following Vancouver every day when Seattle played there. On several occasions Dugdale's team has left for Vancouver with players and pitchers on edge, and prospects bright. By the end of the week the fans were wondering what had happened to the team. We have had numerous changes, some of which might be figured to bring a change in luck, but somehow or other they do not.

Carll Lewis, secretary of the Seattle Tennis Club, says candidly that it does not leok as if Seattle would show anything surprising in tennis this coming season. So far there has been comparatively little practice. Enthusiasm appears to be lacking. It would be my guess that W. A. McBurney will be the leading player in Seattle this year. He was out of condition in 1913, but it will be a different story in the coming Washington state townament. I doubt much if Sam Russell takes the measure of the former Spokane star this year, although there is plenty of time for although there is plenty of time for Russell to come.

There is no end of tennis, such as it is, being played throughout Scattle, and there will be no trouble securing entries for the state tourney.

Ewing Field Is in San Francisco Frigid Zone.

SAN FRANCISCO. May 23.—(Special.)

The opening of San Francisco's new basebs il park, Ewing Field, has come and gone and now the owners are having something of a job on their hands counteracting the impression that has gone forth to the effect that the new park is decidedly cold.

Recreation Park, on Valencia street, is located in what is known as the Mission warm belt and while there were bitter cold days, still it was warm out there, if anywhere. The new grounds are further toward the ocean, where the breezes kick up about as they please and to make it worse, opening day, last Saturday and the following Sunday, were just about as cold days as San Francisco ever experiences.

WASHINGTON AND OREGON COM-PROMISE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Eugene Takes Singles' Title and Seattle Players Doubles' by Agreement When Darkness Intervenes,

EUGENE, Or., May 23 .- When duckiess made it impossible for the Uniersity of Washington and Oregor tennis teams to complete the games which could decide the championship of the Northwest, the captains of the two colleges compromised by awarding the championship in the singles to Oregon and the championship in the doubles to Washington.

to Washington.

This was the only way that him night for could be settled. The Washington players were unable to remain until Monday in Eugene, the faculty at the University would not allow the match to be played on Sunday, and rather than have an undecided championship, captain Brooks, out of an act of courtesy to the visitors, forfeited to Washington. Following is the score by games:
