FOUR BIG PROJECTS TO BE CELEBRATED

Wednesday Will Be Day of Rejoicing at Towns Along Mouth of Columbia.

COST MAY BE $4,000,000

Highway Link, Hill Docks, Astoria Municipal Wharf and Sea Wall Will Be Started With Portland Men Participating.

ASTORIA, Or., May 30.—(Special.)—
The Astoria · Warrenton-Flavel · Hammond district will be the scene of a series of celebrations Wednesday which will mark an epoch in transportation, commercial and civic improvement development on the Lower Columbia—indeed, of the Columbia basin; for the constructive enterprises which are to be inaugurated on that date at or near the mouth of the "River of the West" will necessarily affect the country tributary to the Port of the Columbia.

The primary idea in the minds of the committee of arrangements, named over a month ago under the joint auspices of the Warrenton Development League, the Port of the Columbia Commercial Club and representatives of the Astoria

Club and representatives of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, was the cele-bration of the beginning of actual con-struction of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific ocean and rail ter-minals at Flavel, but circumstances minals at Flavel, but circumstances have focused in such way that other great projects will also begin construction at the same time. The committee has, therefore, grouped the enterprises for the day and will devote a portion of the time to the formal inauguration

Columbia Highway En Roate.

Plans are formed for the recognition of the Clatsop County unit of the Columbia Highway system from Portland to the Pacific Ocean, and the visitors from Portland and other points in the Columbia and Willamette vaileys will take part in these ceremonies en route to Astoria Wednesday morning. Contractors Petersen & Johnson, in charge of construction, will have a gang of men stationed at Westport on the arrival of the Portland train on the Spokane, Portland & Seattle, so that everything will be in readiness for the formal exercises. The work of throwing the first dirt will be in the hands of Julius L. Meier, president of the Columbia Highway Association, who will be assisted by Governor Oswald West, John S. Yeon, Samuel Hill and others. The Astoria-Warrenton reception committee, headed by Chairman Sherman, president of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Alfred Kinney, president of the Portland train at Westport, and, after participating in the highway ceremonies, will act as an escort to the visitors to Flavel, where the Spokane, Portland & Seattle docks celebration will take place.

Cost to Be Near $4,000,000.

Following the exercises at Flavel, details of which will be found in the formal programme, the visitors, accommissioner J. W. Brislawn and State Forester Ferris have been arranged. Columbia Highway En Route.

Of the "seven sisters," which are backed by the joint legislative committee of the State Grange, State Federation of Labor and State Farmers' unions, the Stop-Look-Listen League is supposed to be chiefly interested in fighting the fisheries bill and the measure adding a "first-aid" clause to the workmen's compensation act.

The fisheries bill would make radical increases in all licenses charged against the fishing industry and would force the so-cailed "fish trust" to use each of its trap locations every year to

All-Important Is That Matter of Interior Decoration of the Home

There's a satisfaction, a sense of pleasure, to be continually enjoyed in the home where the decorative scheme has been handled with proper consideration. No matter how elaborate and carefully planned the home might be, if the decorative treatment of its interior has been wrongly planned and executed, the beauty and harmony of furniture, floor covering and other furnishings are lost. The Decorative Department of this store, through wide experience in the handling of the most difficult as well as the simplest problems of interior decoration, is prepared to render expert and valuable service in the decorative treatment of the home. Original color perspectives, illustrating completed schemes, prepared by our decorative artist.

many more farmers will come in next Friday with farm and garden products to sell.

During the morning 40 farmers with rigs filled with strawberries, rhubarb, grape juice, whole-wheat flour, chickens, geese, pofatoes and other comestibles, backed their vehicles up against the sidewalk on Fifth street and all of their wares were eagerly taken by thrifty housewives.

Mrs. Daniel Crowley, newly-elected president of the Vancouver Woman's Club, and Mrs. Frank E. Vaughn, past president of the same organization, set an example for the other members of the club by taking their baskets and filling them with fresh produce. The merchants in the vicinity of the Public Market provided automobiles.

While not absolutely "girlless" in its operation, one employe under this system is said to be able to do the work now done by several.

The Bell system has displayed the greatest interest in the operations of the minimum wage law to date, having a representative from the Portland office present at every conference for other industries. Data now being compiled by the Commission show that the wage level of the central girls is quite low. In the judgment of members of the Commission the industry could bear, without harm, a considerable wage increase, as there is no competition with other lines of communication not controlled by the minimum wage, and any increase made could be handed on by the company to consumers.

Arrangements for a telephone wago conference, to be held some time during the month of June, are expected, Arrangements probably also will be made for calling a new laundry conference. The laundry conference held this month recommended an $8.50 wage by a vote of five to four, the recommendation being rejected by the Commission.
