

Fortunes have been made at just such times as these

Opportunity

*Master of human destinies am I,
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait,
Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote, and, passing by
Hovel, and mart, and palace, soon or late
I knock, unbidden, once at every gate!
If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before
I turn away. It is the hour of fate,
And they who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate,
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain and uselessly implore—
I answer not, and I return no more.*

square feet of ground have been sold here since January, for factories and warehouses! A half dozen plants have been erected and are in operation!

BISHOP SCADDING IS LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremony Is Conducted by Three Prelates From Other Dioceses.

8 CLERGYMEN BEAR PALL

Bishops of Sacramento and California Officiate at Church Service and Committal Rite Is by Bishop of Olympia.

All that was mortal of the Right Reverend Charles Scadding, bishop of the Diocese of Oregon, was committed to the grave in Riverside Cemetery yesterday.

The funeral rites at Trinity Church, that preceded the burial, were the most impressive and dignified that have ever taken place in Portland and probably in the Pacific Northwest. The last funeral of an Episcopal bishop here was that of the Right Reverend B. Wistar Morris, who died in 1906, at which Bishop Keator, of Olympia, was also an officiant, along with Right Reverend Lemuel H. Wells, bishop of Spokane, and Right Reverend James B. Funston, bishop of Idaho.

As the magnificent harmony of Mendelsson's "Elijah" swelled from the organ in the aria "Cast Thy Burden on the Lord" the procession began to file up the center aisle of the church, headed by the vested choir of Trinity Church and the Pro-Cathedral. Immediately following the combined choirs were the visiting clergy from other dioceses, then the standing committee of clergy and laymen of the Oregon Diocese in double file. Then in single file came the three visiting bishops, Right Reverend Frederick Keator, bishop of Olympia; Right Reverend W. H. Moreland, bishop of Sacramento, and Right Reverend William F. Nichols, bishop of California. The bier, borne by eight reverend pallbearers, came next and the clergy of the diocese closed the procession.

Large Congregation Present.
The vested procession was so long that the choir boys of Trinity Church began to file into their places in the chancel before the end of the procession had passed into the church. Every pew was filled and many, unable to obtain seats, stood in the rear of the church.

The active pallbearers were R. K. Howard, chaplain of the Good Samaritan Hospital; Rev. C. W. Baker, of St. George's Church, Roseburg; Rev. R. S. Gill, St. Paul's Church, Salem; Rev. John Rice, St. John's Church, Sellwood; Ven. H. D. Chambers, Rev. J. E. Simpson, of St. Mark's Church, Portland; Rev. Oswald W. Taylor, vicar of Grace Memorial Church, and Rev. John Dawson, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The bishops of Sacramento and California conducted the service at Trinity Church and the bishop of Olympia officiated at the committal service in Riverside Cemetery.

As the procession started up the aisle the bishop of Sacramento commenced reading the burial service, beginning "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

The choir chanted the 98th and 99th Psalms.

De Profundis Chanted.
Next followed the scripture lesson from I Corinthians, beginning, "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep," read by the bishop of California. The choir sang the hymn, "For All Thy Saints, Who From Their Labors Rest"; the Bishop of Sacramento then read the burial prayers, the choir sang the hymn, "The Saints of God Their Conflict Past," and chanted the "De Profundis," and the church service closed with the recessional hymn, "Then Thousand Times Ten Thousand." It occupied just three-quarters of an hour.

The mourners, headed by Mrs. Scadding and Dr. Crawford Scadding, of Toronto, the only brother, were driven to Riverside Cemetery in automobiles, where Bishop Keator, of Olympia, concluded the rites with the committal service.

Realty Board Acts.
The Portland Realty Board, at its session Friday, adopted the following resolution of sympathy and condolence, a copy of which will be forwarded Mrs. Scadding:

"Be it resolved, That in the death of Right Reverend Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon, the state loses one of her most loyal and enthusiastic supporters, the City of Portland one of her most distinguished citizens and the Realty Board suffers the loss of a member who was admired, venerated and respected by its entire membership—a man who never neglected an opportunity at home or abroad to give intelligent and desired publicity to his city and state—a man whose righteous influence in civic affairs will be felt in all time to come and one who in his private life was an inspiration for good to all who came in contact with him.

"Be it further resolved, That a page of the permanent minutes of this Realty Board be properly inscribed to his memory and that a copy of these resolutions, together with an expression of our profound sympathy for her in her bereavement be forwarded to Mrs. Scadding."

AMERICAN LOSES POSITION

Mayor of Montreal Limits His $2500 Jobs.

MONTREAL, May 26.—Because he was an American citizen, T. McG. Black, of Pittsburg, Park Superintendent of this city, was reduced in office today to be temporary assistant park superintendent by Mayor Martin. Dr. Gadbois, a French-Canadian, was appointed superintendent in his place. "I will not have a foreigner drawing a salary of $2500 a year in Montreal," said the Mayor. "English, Scotch, Irish or Canadian, but not foreigners," he insisted.

LETTER STIRS TROUBLE

SENATOR LEWIS IS ACCUSED OF BAD FAITH IN PATRONAGE.

Illinois Refuses to Be Conciliated With Effort to Place Blame on Shoulders of President.

CHICAGO, May 26.—Senator Lewis' facile pen again has brought him into the limelight. A new Lewis letter has stirred trouble in Illinois. The letter was addressed to Joseph P. Durkin, of Peoria, Ill., an unsuccessful candidate for internal revenue collector in the Peoria district, and was made public by Mr. Durkin. In the letter Senator Lewis seeks to place upon the shoulders of President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo the responsibility for the distribution of Illinois patronage. He says: "My Dear Mr. Durkin: You have seen from the public press that the Secretary of the Treasury and the President named Edward McCabe as internal revenue collector. For reasons satisfactory to both of these high sources the appointment of Mr. McCabe was demanded. "It is only fair to me to let you know that I have always told Mr. McCabe that you were the only candidate I had indorsed, and it is only fair that you should know that Mr. McCabe is in no wise called upon to feel any obligation to me as being responsible for his appointment."

The letter continues with a declaration that Senator Lewis never could oppose anything that Governor Dunne was for and ends with permission to make its contents public. Senator Lewis' explanation of the patronage tangle did not satisfy Mr. Durkin. In a reply to Senator Lewis he accuses the Senator of bad faith.

Attorney Sues Attorney for Fee.
Attorney Thomas H. Mannix, who received a fee of $250 from Robert Wakefield & Co. for services on behalf of the company in its suit against the city, is defendant in an action for $1500, brought by Attorney J. W. Maloney for assistance he charges he gave to Mannix in the suits. The original Wakefield-city suit was over the payment for the construction of the two Mount Tabor reservoirs. Mr. Mannix is now in Washington attending to legal questions pending before the Supreme Court.

ORCHARD IS TRANSPLANTED

New Yorker Moves Orange Grove and Palms, Tree by Tree.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., May 27.—F. F. Peabody, of New York, is astonishing Santa Barbara by moving a 15-year-old orange grove, tree by tree, from this city to his new Winter home on the summit of Eucalyptus hill, five miles distant. The removal began today. A small army of horticulturists is engaged. Many palms 50 feet high are included. Bricks made of peat are being successfully used in Sweden for small buildings.
