MEADOWBROOK POLO CLUB, Westbury, L. L. June 13 .- Demoralized by the speed and team work of the English challengers, the American team went down to defeat here today in the first game of the match for the international polo cup by a score of 81/2 to 3. After the first flurry in the opening period the defending four never held by the Hurlingham Club representatives and the English ponles. The defeat came as a great surprise to the majority of the 40,000 spectators, who had expected an American victory and made the cup defenders 10 to 7 favorites in the wagering previous to the game. They were quick to appreclate the brilliant play of the invaders, however, and the stands rang with applause at the clever exhibition of team work and good shooting of the blue-shirted riders from England. Superiority Shown From Start. This superiority became apparent with the bell in the opening period, and it appeared to upset the defending four, which never recovered the form shown in recent practice games until the closing minutes of the game, when the Americans settled down and gave the first indication of team play of which they were supposed to be ca-

The challengers gave the finest ex-The challengers gave the finest exhibition of team work ever seen in an invading four. Both on attack and defense they played the ball into each other's hands, taking a few unwarranted chances, and the success of these tactics was proved by the score and ease by which they won the first leg in the 1914 trophy series.

Visitors' Stick Work Sensational. It was not alone in team work that the English players excelled, however, for their stick work was a revelation. At either forehand or backhand driv-ing they outclassed the defenders and the length of direction of their strokes the length of direction of their strokes showed the benefits gained by long preliminary practice season, which becan in Madrid early in the Winter.

The American four was far weaker than was the case last year, and in addition was called on to face a team which surpassed in skill and speed the combination which just failed to lift the cup in 1913. The absence of the former captain, Harry Payne Whitney, appeared to break up the perfect combination play for which the "big four" has been noted for years. Rene La Montagre, who played at No. 1, was unable to pierce the English defense, even when backed by Captain Monte Waterbury, and the burden of the hight that these contracts must be enlight that these contracts must be enlight. Waterbury, and the burden of the rushes into the English end of the field was finally shouldered by the captain of the American four.

La Montagne's Playing Wild. La Montagne was wild in his stroking and repeatedly missed comparative-ly easy chances to score goals. In sev-eral instances he carried the ball half the length of the field only to fall at the crucial moment by a poorly directed

This confusion was communicated to the other players, all veterans of several international matches, and the overrode the ball, missed casy strokes and were easily ridden off by their English opponents. They were fur-ther handicapped by the fact that in turning and sprints up and down the field the English ponies were faster on their feet and better handled. This kept the play almost entirely in the American end of the field, except when the Americans succeeded by individual effort in rushing the ball down the turf to the union jack goal.

The English seldom sacrificed team work for individual brilliancy, playing the ball into the hands of the man in the best position to make the shot. Captain Cheape and Tomkinson, however, starred in the attack because of their forward position, and the veteran at No. 2 never gave a better example of fine riding and driving than he did today. He fed the ball to Tomkinson or carried it through Milburn and Lar-Waterbury, repeatedly scoring the English goals and assisting repeatedly Tomkinson's efforts, which resulted three goals for England's No. 1. The quickness with which the invaders' defense came in to support the at-tack when the opportunity offered is shown by the fact that Captain Lockett, the English back, contributed two goals to the score of his team.

The play in general was fast and clean, and, aside from a cropper experienced early in the game by Larry Waterbury, was without the suggestion of an accident. Apparently there was the best of feeling between the players and Captain Waterbury was first to congratulate Captain Barrell after the congratulate Captain Barrett after the nal bell ended the initial contest. The score was the largest run up in recent years by either United States or English teams in a cup match. Not since the "big four" defeated the Hurlingham Club by 8 to 3 in the final gaine of the 1905 series, when the cup was regained, have today's figures been

The game also developed the quick est goal ever made in international cup play, when Captain Cheape scored within ten seconds after the throw-in at the beginning of the fourth period. The Teams.

Winner Lauds American Sportsmen. Captain Barrett, of the English team, at the close of the game, said:
"American sportsmanship was responsible for the loss of the first international game, for, had the game been played on Tuesday as arranged, we would have been compelled to put in a substitute, and this would have been disastrous to the English team.

Alderman Curran, Acting Mayor of the city, a Socialist, went to the union hall to appeal to the rioters to disperse and was thrown from a second-story window to the pavement. He was taken to the hospital, severely injured. The mob did not cease its work of destruction until even the carpets in the big assembly hall of the union had been torn from the floor and thrown into sway, being outplayed and outsprinted the street.

A crowd of 10,000 persons witnessed the demonstration. Police and Sheriff's deputies were powerless. Sheriff Driscoil went to the Miners' Union hall but soon returned to his office in the Courthouse, when word came to him that union officers had taken refuge there and were about to be attacked by another section of the mob.

Chief of Police Murphy in the midst of the turnoil sent out a score of officers to close all salcons. Half a dozen salconkeepers who refused to obey were taken to jall. A warning was sent to the hardware stores to secrete all guns and ammunition. It was also decided to call off a boxing bout scheduled for tonight.

Rival Union Being Formed.

The disgruntled faction of the miners held a meeting in the auditorium to-night to take steps toward the formation of a new miners' union under the Industrial Workers of the World organization.

The trouble had its origin in the dissatisfaction of the miners with the heavy special assessments levied against them by the officers of the Western Federation of Miners and the local officials as benefits for the Michigan copper mine strikers. Some of the miners were said to be paying as high as $8 and $10 a month in assess-ments. More than $200,000 had been sent from Butte to Michigan. Although the strike there had been called off, the assessments continued. Men failing to pay the assessments were dis-franchised at the recent union election. The climax came yesterday when the

Judge Benson gave out the following statement tonight:
"I am the successful candidate for the nomination for Supreme Judge over Judge McNary, being seven votes ahead, according to the official returns in the hands of Secretary of State Olcott, but since there appears to be some doubt as to the accuracy of the returns from certain counties, I decided yesterday to decline to accept the certificate of nomination until such time as the returns ination until such time as the returns were definitely verified. "I therefore came to Salem for the purpose of having a conference with Judge McNary. I told Judge McNary that I should not ask for the certificate of nomination at this time, and, at my suggestion, we went before the State Canvassing Board this afternoon and I asked the board to withhold the certi-ficate until the returns from the varirecate until the returns from the various counties could be verified or corrected, and that the state board should request all of the county canvassing boards to recheck the tally sheets and send in amended returns at the earliest possible moment. This suggestion met the approval of Judge McNary and was cordially welcomed by the state board. Errors Are Reported.

An error was discovered of 29 votes, which was verified by County Clerk Coffey, and his returns to the Secretary of State corrected accordingly. I am advised that the official returns on file with Secretary Olcott at the present time give me a lead of seven votes over Judge McNary.

"Of course, if I have an honest majority I want the benefit of it, but if the people have actually expressed a preference for Judge McNary, I shall be pleased to accept and abide by the result."
