

SOCIETY

BY GERTRUDE P CORBETT

Mrs. Frederick Whitton and her daughters, Katherine and Helen of Berkeley, Cal. Grovo Photo

Bushnell Photo

Mrs. Vernon Cartwright and her daughter, Miss Mary Stuart Smith

Miss Margaret Anson, of La Grange, Ore., who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Malarkey tea table was presided over by Mrs. William L. Brewster and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies and they were assisted by the Misses Dorothy Nash, Eliza Gralle, Alice Strong, Margaret Voorhies, Clara Elliot, Margaret Mackenzie and Marion Voorhies.

Mrs. Frederick Whitton and two daughters, the Misses Katherine and Helen of Berkeley, Cal., are house guests of the former's sister, Mrs. W. S. Dinwiddie. Mrs. Dinwiddie entertained on Thursday with a delightful tea in honor of her guests and during the hours of 4 to 6 about 15 matrons and maids called to greet them. The rooms of the Dinwiddie residence were astrow with bright, white blossoms, a profusion of roses being effectively arranged in the drawing-room. The hostess was assisted in the drawing-room by Mrs. George Hoad, Mrs. A. P. Patallo and Mrs. John Claire Monteth. In the dining-room, where a charming color scheme of yellow was developed, the tea table was presided over by Mrs. Wallace McCamant and Mrs. B. L. Donald. They were assisted by the Misses Katharine Whitton, Delbert Stuart, Martha Hoyt, Elsie Walker.

On Friday Miss Harriet Wood entertained with an informal tea for Mrs. Whitton, who is an old college friend, both being students at Vassar at the same time. About 20 guests enjoyed tea and a chat at Miss Wood's residence, which was decorated prettily for the occasion.

Several other small affairs have been given to honor Mrs. Whitton, who is a charming and interesting matron, and during the next few days she will be entertained delightfully.

Miss Margaret Mears is returning from school in the East and will arrive this week. Her father, S. M. Mears, went to Chicago to meet his daughter.

Mrs. Alpha E. Rockey presided at a charming luncheon Thursday at her suburban home, Rockholm, Ewalee station, in honor of her son's fiancée, Miss Alice Carey, and eight of the other popular engaged girls, including Miss Grace Honyman, whose wedding will be a smart event of tomorrow; Miss Clara W. Carter, who will become the bride of A. D. Norris on Thursday; Miss Claire Houghton, a bride-elect of Wednesday; Miss Rosalind Kingsley, fiancée of Medford Reed; Miss Nan Wood Robertson, Miss Dorothy Huber, Miss Elizabeth Parker and Miss Sara Catherine Emmons. Covers were laid for 20 at a prettily-decked table. Flowers from the attractive Rocky gardens were used about the rooms, as well as on the table.

Mrs. Robert Strong's mother and sisters, Mrs. Dexter Knowlton and the Misses Jean and Dorothy Knowlton, arrived last night from the East and will be house guests of the Strong's for the summer. On Thursday morning Mrs. Strong has asked a number of friends to a Kaffe Klatsch to meet her mother and sisters. They are popular in Portland society and will be entertained considerably by the smart set.

Complimenting Mrs. Frederick Thomas and Mrs. Andrew Dickinson, of New York, who are visiting Andrew Dickinson Norris, their son and grandson respectively, until after his wedding to Miss Clara Weldler on Thursday, Mrs. George W. Weldler asked a few old friends of the family in to tea to meet the visitors on Friday afternoon. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Jewett, and Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens.

Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooks entertained informally with a delightful bridge party on Friday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Carter Pitkin Pomeroy, of San Francisco, who is passing several weeks in Portland. Cards were made up five tables of the game, and pretty prizes were given the high scorers at each table.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Edwards presided at a charming dinner on Tuesday evening, covers being laid for eight. The latter part of the evening was devoted to bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are among the most delightful and interesting hosts of the smart set, and their social affairs are keenly anticipated.

Miss Hildreth Humason entertained ten of the younger set at a delightful motor picnic on Thursday evening to compliment Miss Katharine Nye of Niagara, New York, house guest of Miss Mary Stuart Smith. The party motored to Oswego, where they enjoyed supper.

A delightful affair of Tuesday was the bridge party given by Mrs. George W. Collins. Seven tables were arranged for the game and a few additional guests called at tea time. The rooms were attractively decked with clusters of lovely roses of the American Beauty variety, a bowl of the same blossoms being used on the tea table. Mrs. A. N. Crendick, Miss Tica von Bolton, Mrs. Russell E. Sewall and Mrs. George T. Willett presided in the dining-room.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Colter, of Cincinnati, Ohio, returned to their home on Thursday evening after a delightful visit in Portland. Mrs. Colter passed a week as the house guest of her cousin, Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Jr., and was entertained at dinners, luncheons and bridge parties, as well as numerous motor parties, with tea at the country clubs. She is a charming and interesting young matron, and became very popular during her brief visit in this city.

One of the prettiest June weddings was that of Miss Margaret Malarkey and Vernon Cartwright, of London, England, which was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Malarkey Wednesday night. Rev. George Thompson of the Church of the Madeleine, officiated, and the ceremony was witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Edgar E. Coursen played the wedding march, and a string orchestra played throughout the entire evening. The house was artistic in its decorations, an aisle being formed from the staircase to the altar of chains of daisies and roses, and the altar was of Dorothy Perkins rambler roses. The bride's train was festooned with garlands of the daisies.

Miss Mary Stuart Smith was maid of honor. She wore a chic frock of pink accented with white, with long tunic of lace, and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory charmeuse, with bodice of exquisite Carrickmacross lace. Her veil was becomingly arranged in a Juliet cap banded with orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was an artistic shower of lilies of the valley and tulle. Neil Malarkey, the bride's brother, acted as best man, Mr. and Mrs. Malarkey and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holman, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, received with the bridal party. A decorative scheme of pink and green was developed throughout the rooms. Pink blossoms and ferns banked the fireplace and were arranged in baskets and urns. A buffet supper was served, and preceding in the dining-room were Mrs. Edgar E. Piper, Mrs. Andrew C. Smith, Mrs. Clifford Nesmith McArthur and Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Mears. Stationed at the punch bowl were Mrs. W. C. Holman and Mrs. A. L. McCully.

Mrs. Cartwright is one of the prettiest and most interesting girls of the younger set. She has been prominent in society since her debut, and it is the source of much regret to her hosts of friends that her marriage is to take her far away. The young people met several years ago, when Mr. Cartwright was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Holman. The engagement was announced last December, at a SOCIETY has had a busy week with teas, dinner-dances, bridge parties and the customary festivities attendant upon brides. One of the most elaborate and prettiest affairs of the week was the Cartwright-Malarkey wedding, which was a smart event of Wednesday evening. The country season has opened and each day has seen large groups of pleasure seekers departing for the various beaches and mountain resorts. The usual exodus East and abroad has decreased somewhat, but the trend of travel in all directions will keep up until the end of the summer season.

This week the little love god will be very active, as there are three large and very smart weddings on the calendar. Tomorrow dainty, picturesque Miss Grace Honyman will become the bride of Alfred A. Aya. It will be a small home wedding at the Honyman residence and will be followed by a larger reception, the guests including mostly the younger set.

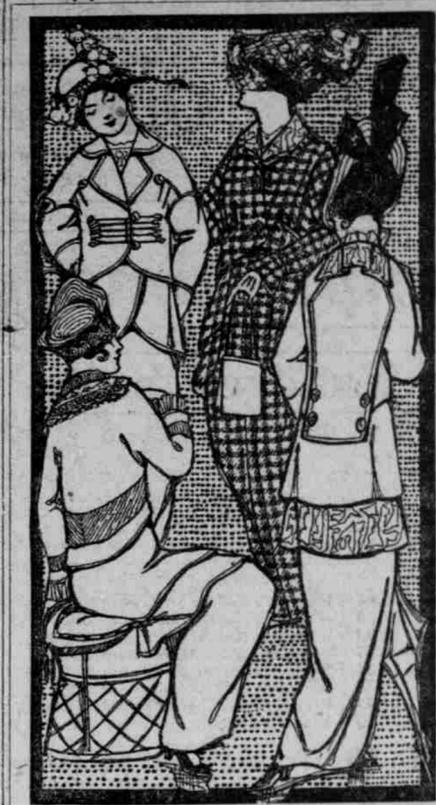

Miss Claire Houghton, one of society's most popular and charming belles, will wed on Wednesday William Hurd Lines. This will also be a home wedding and very small. The only attendant will be the bride's sister, Mrs. Marion F. Dolph. The following day vivacious and pretty Miss Clara Weldler and Andrew Dickinson Norris will be married at the home of the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. George W. Weldler.

Mrs. William Sargent Ladd (Miss Babbitt), of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Charles Thornton Ladd will be honor guests at the large all fresco reception to be given on Friday by Mrs. William Moad Ladd at her attractive home, Cedarhurst. Another affair anticipated with keen delight is the reception to be given by Mrs. Leroy H. Parker and Mrs. John F. Dickson at the which Miss Henrietta Elliot was hostess on Friday afternoon, complimenting her sister, Mrs. Frederick Albus Well, of Billingham, Wash., who is passing a few weeks with her family. Miss Elliot's guests numbered about 100 of the younger matrons and maids and their fascinating gown, aided by the floral decorations of the house, were effective and pleasing. The pretty

The Store of Style

The "Eastern"

Again demonstrates its adequate facilities of always being first to show the newest. Tomorrow new advance style Suits will already be shown here. They are strictly tailored, in a fine all-wool man-wear blue serge. The jackets are of finger-tips lengths, slightly cut away, mannish curved collars and reverses, lined with Skinner satin and equipped with moisture-proof arm shields. The skirts are of the long Russian tunic effect. They are worth $30. Introduce $25.00 tory price.

Summer Capes, Coats, Suits, Dresses and Waists very temptingly priced.

White Suit Special

Just 90 White Suits, in sponges, Bedfords and serges. Semi-tailored and fancy effects. Ideal garments for this time of the year. Very neat and attractive; none in the lot worth less than $20, many even $25 and some as high as $30. Special for tomorrow and Tuesday $9.95 at only.....

Open an account with us whereby you can have all your purchases charged to you and remit in easy payments instead of having to settle the entire bill on the first of each month. This accommodation is free.

Ask for Peoples Brown Trading Stamps

405 Washington

Corner of Tenth Street

The Store of Service

tea given by Mrs. Malarkey. Mrs. Cartwright is a graduate of Portland Academy and later attended the school of the Madames of the Sacred Heart in Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright are at Gearhart, and upon their return will be with the Malarkeys for several weeks. They will sail from New York July 16, for London, England, where they will make their home.

One of the prettiest dinner tables at the Waverly Country Club last night was that presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Whitney, in honor of their niece, Miss Anna Barron, who has recently returned from the East, where she has been in school. The table was artistically arranged with baskets filled with two shades of pink sweet peas and ferns, some of the blossoms being strewn on the cloth. The ensemble making a pleasing effect.

Covers were laid for the Misses Mully, Violet Erskine, Polly Young, of Vancouver, B.C.; Charlotte and Katherine Laidlaw, Mary Brownlie, Helen Ladd, Elizabeth Jacobs, Grace Honyman, Florence Burke, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hindman, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Banks, Mrs. James T. Barron, Lieutenant F. Schneider and Lieutenant Snow, all of the Army post; Seaton Taylor, Donald Tarpley, MacCormack Snow, Berkeley Snow, Leland Smith, Howard Stokes, Raymond Mully, Maurice Dooly, Alfred A. Aya, John Wheeler, Varnel Beach and the host and hostess.

After dinner the guests enjoyed the regular Saturday night summer-season dance at the club, as well as the promenade on the spacious verandas and walks.

Cards have just been sent out for a large reception to be given on Monday afternoon, June 29, by Mrs. Andrew J. Gleay at her attractive home on Portland Heights.

Mrs. William E. Towne, of Holyoke, Mass., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. William H. Grindstaff, and will be entertained by a number of prominent matrons.

One of the most delightful affairs of the early week was the elaborate tea for which Mrs. Henry Brookes Van Duzer was hostess on Tuesday in honor of her house guest, Mrs. James Seymour Rogers, wife of Colonel Rogers, who is at present in Mexico. The Van Duzer residence was decked prettily for the occasion with a profusion of fragrant roses, the drawing-room being especially pretty. A color scheme of pink was developed with Killarney roses, gladioli and sweet peas in the drawing-room, where the guests were received, and yellow was used in the library, where punch was served by Mrs. W. L. Wentworth and Miss Leslie Smith. Baskets of pretty garden flowers were used in the dining-room and also on the tea table, where Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. Herman Thannhauser, Mrs. David A. Shindler and Mrs. A. J. Gleay presided at the same offers Silver Services in Sterling and High-Grade Silver Plate and Sheffield Ware for Wedding Gifts and Utility. Prices Most Reasonable.

PORTLAND'S FOREMOST JEWELRY STORE

OUR FACTORY ON THE PREMISES produces most artistic work in diamond mounting, also repairing at the lowest prices.

A. C. Feldenheimer

Corner Washington and Park Streets Established 1888

WASHINGTON HOTEL, with its five fireproof stories, of 150 rooms and baths added, makes this—more than ever—the leading American and European plan hotel of the Northwest.

The perfect service, the location in the heart of the city, and the remarkably low rates mark it as the first choice of commercial travelers, tourists and those seeking permanent homes.

Mrs. H. W. Hogue Prop. Nortonia and Washington Hotels. Eleventh at Stark. Washington at Twelfth. Phones: Main 7160 A 5824

Dinners on the Roof Garden are being served to those who request it in advance. It is truly a different way to entertain. Why not have your gathering there?

W. G. SMITH & CO.

WEDDING AND VISITING CARD ENGRAVERS Third Floor Morgan Building, Broadway and Washington.

B. FINK LADIES' TAILOR

407 Eilers Bldg. Making Reductions on Plain & Fancy Tailor-Made Suits.