Miss Ava McMahon, Richfield, Idaho, received the degree of bachelor of music.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATIONS HAVE BUSY DAYS DURING WEEK

Election of Officers Forms Most Important Theme for Women, but Programmes and Exhibits Occupy Minor Attention—Mrs. George H. Crawford Becomes President When Mrs. F. S. Myers Retires After Year's Work.

BY EDITH KNIGHT HOLMES

DURING the past week the important event of interest to the clubs in general was the election of officers on Thursday, but there were several affairs given by the individual circles that claimed attention.

Lewellyn Parent-Teacher Association held a picnic on Friday at the Oaks; Ockley Green held an exhibition of the domestic science, arts and manual training work and the school girls wore dresses of their own making. A large attendance of the parents attested to the interest in these events.

Scilwood and Woodstock schools both held school work exhibits and the associations enjoyed programmes and "get-together" social time.

Creton had a meeting on Wednesday night, when Professor George Morris spoke entertainingly on "Pneumology."

Ladd Association held two meetings, one on Tuesday and the other, an entertainment, on Thursday evening. On this occasion the following programme was given:

Ladd Orchestra, Mrs. Leo Gray, director; address, "Ladd School Parent-Teacher Association," Mrs. L. A. Nelson, president; "I Love the Old Doll Best," Ardis McDougall; recitation, Wayne Cason; solo, Mrs. W. Arthur Viggers; dance, "Sally's Story," Miss Johanna Cramer, director; orchestra, solo, Miss Ella Van Leaven; cartoon, Paul Fung; solo, Miss Elsie Cramer; readings from "Ladle Remus," Mrs. George H. Thomas; grade teachers' chorus, Mrs. Leo Gray, director.

Lewellyn, at the business meeting, elected as officers: President, Mrs. George H. Crawford; vice-president, Mrs. J. G. Beattie; secretary, Mrs. M. W. Kincaid; treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Flint; and Mrs. F. S. Myers has not been in Portland long, but she is eminently fitted for the office she holds, as she has had a vast amount of experience in club, civic and social service work in Oakland, Cal.

Shattuck Association has accomplished much this year under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Kelly. At the recent entertainment given by the association Miss Winifred Mosher was an active worker.

Another successful circle is at Oak Grove. Mrs. V. Benvie is a leader in that district. Mrs. Kuka, Mrs. M. L. Williams and Mrs. A. Kornbrodt are prominent members.

The history of the growth of the Portland Parent-Teacher Association under the presidency of Mrs. F. S. Myers has been acknowledged by educators and those interested in parent-teacher and child welfare work to be almost miraculous. At the beginning of her term of office Mrs. Myers called together the presidents of the various circles (there weren't many then). A luncheon was held in the Young Women's Christian Association and a round-table discussion followed. So enthusiastic was the new president that all of her officers immediately took up the work with redoubled energy. Committees were appointed to extend the work. Each circle represented promised to add another circle to the city association. Everyone worked willingly, untrigglingly and harmoniously and before long Portland was able to boast a parent-teacher organization in every one of its grade schools.

The progress has been watched by Eastern workers and one eminent authority said that Portland leads the country in association accomplishment. At the first June meeting the ovation displayed when Mrs. Myers was again asked to accept the presidency demonstrated that the members felt that to her was due most of the credit, although she generously gave the honors to her associates. Fact and good judgment and thoughtfulness, as well as executive ability have been displayed.

On Wednesday afternoon Lents association held a large meeting. The following officers were installed: President, Mrs. Otto Kitzke; vice-president, Mrs. C. L. Gessell; secretary, Miss Dorothy Waugh; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Herschner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mabel Smith. On the board of directors, besides the officers, are Mrs. J. E. Hawkins, Mrs. E. O. Lent, Mrs. F. McGrew, Mrs. Roxanna Schroyer, Mrs. Maude Darnall. Committee chairmen are: Membership, Miss Meta Train; kindergarten, Mrs. Near; playgrounds, Mrs. O. E. Lent; educational, Mrs. Darnall; music, Miss Shinn; magazine, Miss Cavana; emergency, Mrs. Herschner, Mrs. J. C. McGrew and Mrs. Gessell.

As a result of the recent better babies contest, the prize baby was declared to be the little son of Mrs. C. E. Sager. Mrs. Gessell, the retiring president, presented the happy mother with a handsome hand-painted sugar bowl and creamer.

The annual home and school garden exhibit at Lents will be held tomorrow. On June 23, Tuesday, the annual picnic will be held in the playgrounds. The funds raised will be used in purchasing a Victrola. Children of other schools, including Hoffman, Woodmere, Arleta and Creton, are invited to participate.

Woodmere will hold a reception all day tomorrow, when an opportunity will be given parents and friends to see the new manual training and domestic science departments.

July 14 will be Oregon Congress of Mothers day at the Chautauqua, Gladstone Park.

Stephens Parent-Teacher Association met on Wednesday. Mrs. T. C. Thomson read her report. A president will be elected after the summer vacation.

Ainsworth met Friday afternoon and made arrangements for the reception that will be given tomorrow night in the school building. Pauline Miller Chapman, John Claire Monteith, Miss E. E. Woodbury, R. L. Sabin and Superintendent Alderman will be among those who will take part in the programme.

Clinton Kelly held a well-attended meeting on Wednesday night.

At the meeting of the Portland Parent-Teacher Association, Thursday, the members did what leaders in the movement believe a wise thing in electing Mrs. Martin Wagner president. She has the many qualifications that fit her for the office. The assistance of three vice-presidents, Mrs. M. M. Chittenden, Mrs. A. L. Stephens and Mrs. A. F. Fiegel, will make her duties easier, as these women are all experienced and have the best interests of the organization at heart.

A vote was passed approving the work done by the Visiting Nurse Association in the establishment of the milk station.

Approval of the plans of the social service committee's work was expressed and it is probable that a paid social worker will be maintained next winter. Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw gave a lengthy report of the work of her committee.

Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, of the widow's pension committee, made a plea for homes for a family of 11 children who are fatherless and whose mother has to be sent away to save her from the ravages of tuberculosis. The children are all well and strong and well-behaved. They range in ages from 2 to 17 years. Persons who are willing to assist may call up Mrs. Bondurant, Tabor 325.

Mrs. F. S. Myers talked on her Eastern trip and the honors that were shown her as a representative of Portland.

Tomorrow will mark an interesting affair at Richmond School, under the auspices of the parent-teacher organization and the principal, O. R. Dinwiddie, the home industries of the children will be exhibited. The products of the home gardens, the little chickens raised at home, the garments that show skill in sewing, the cakes, bread and other good things to eat that have been prepared by bright youngsters will all be displayed in the exhibit.

Multnomah Circle gives a report of good work done since its organization last December. The school garden there has made wonderful progress. It was out of the native forest. The men of the district felled the trees, grubbed the stumps and gave the children. The mothers are all deeply interested in the circle and all work in harmony.

Mrs. Robert Tate will speak on June 24 at 2:30 o'clock in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church on "The Education and Care of the Deaf, Delinquent and Defective."

The Ockley Green Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday evening at the school assembly hall for the last time until school opens again in the fall. This meeting was arranged for the evening that the fathers as well as mothers, grabbed the stumps and gave the children. The mothers are all deeply interested in the circle and all work in harmony.

A short business meeting was first held after which Miss Keller, the teacher of music at the school, rendered two delightful solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Lowell Patton. Whittney has always been given by Mr. Sabin, the recent retiring member of the School Board. Other addresses of interest were made by Professor Whittney and the two playground directors of Peninsula Park. After this ice cream and cake were served to everyone, although the big assembly hall was crowded. The decorations were pink Rambler roses in large, graceful clusters.

A great deal has been accomplished in this association during the last year of its existence. First of all, there are 190 members, all of them actively interested in everything pertaining to the school. The principal, Professor Whittney, has always been in attendance at every meeting and his helpful suggestions and deep interest in the work of the association have contributed to the success of the organization. It should be of interest to such an organization has been carefully studied and considered by its members. Too much cannot be said of the untiring efforts of the president, Mrs. Marshall N. Dana, and all were unanimous in their choice of Mrs. Dana as president for another year.

The officers, as recently elected, are: Mrs. Marshall N. Dana, president; Mrs. F. Hagstrom, first vice-president; Mrs. Vera Osborn, second vice-president; Mrs. Walter H. Hopkins, secretary; Mrs. Olive Williams, treasurer.

Sunnyside Parent-Teacher Association will hold its final meeting at a picnic at Peninsula Park Thursday. The principal, teachers, parents and children are invited to attend. Luncheon will be the order of the day.

The last meeting of the year of Thompson Parent-Teacher Circle was held in the assembly hall of the school building Thursday.

A short musical programme was given by the school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Merrill, with songs by Miss Cheadle's and Miss Burnett's pupils.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. W. K. Ogden; vice-president, Mrs. Rogers; secretary, Mrs. Rice; treasurer, Mrs. Winklobeck.

A reception to the teachers followed the election, at which cake and punch were served.

The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

An entertainment by an assemblage of talent was given by the Ladd Parent-Teacher Association Thursday evening. The local talent from Ladd School consisted of Miss Ardis McDougall in "I Love the Old Doll Best," Miss Charlotte Woods, in the "Japanese Love Song," Paul Fung, cartoonist, and the "sailors' hornpipe," danced by 20 Ladd children under the direction of Miss Johanna Cramer. Others contributing to the success of the evening were Master Wayne Cason, of Sellwood district; Mrs. George H. Thomas, recitation; Mrs. W. Arthur Viggers, Miss Elsie Cramer, Mrs.

Mrs. George H. Crawford, Lewellyn.

Miss Winifred Mosher, Shattuck.

Mrs. A. Kornbrodt, Oak Grove.

Lou Gray, Miss Lilah Rogers, Miss Beatrice Williams, in vocal selections, and the Ladd School orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Lou Gray.

The decorations of the evening—pinks, roses and a series of pennants spelling "Ladd," with American flags in the background, were beautiful.

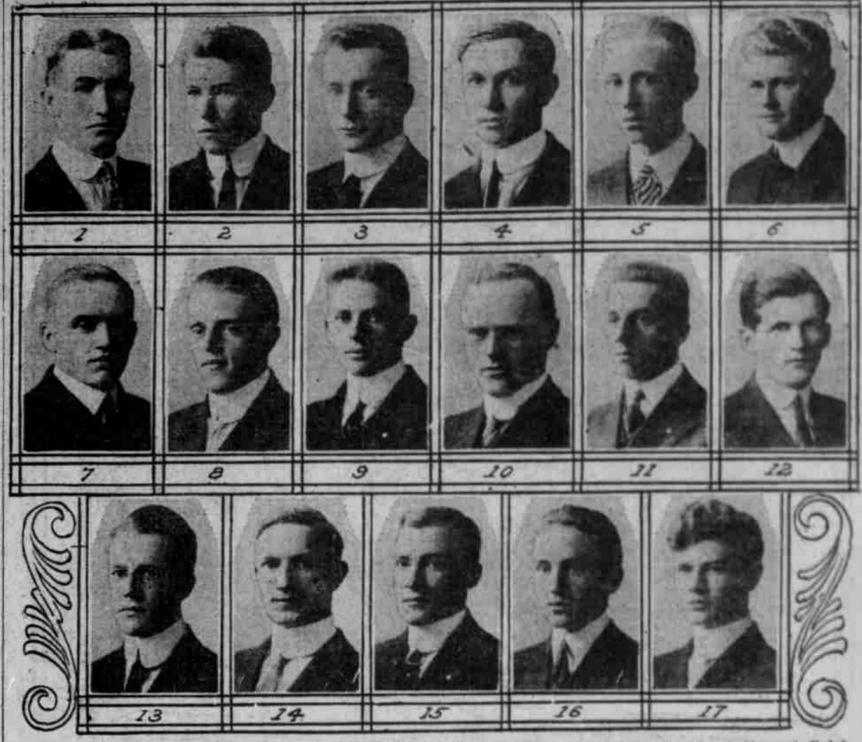

Those participating in the evening's programme were selected by a beautiful lottery, which, with the numerous enclosures, indicated the success of the entertainment committee's efforts.

It is the intention that entertainments shall be given at regular intervals during the winter term at Ladd School.

The children of the Terwilliger School entertained the Parent-Teacher Circle last Tuesday. The parents visited the room and were enthusiastic over the children's work which was exhibited. The exhibit included examples of all the different subjects taught. There were samples of beautiful drawings made by the boys, and very daintily-made dresses and other pieces of sewing by the girls. The composition work was also especially admired. This meeting was voted a most profitable one. The officers elected for next year are: President, Mrs. Maude Van Deuzen; vice-president, Mrs. F. Fiegel; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Schultz.

17 MANLY YOUNG MEN END THEIR UNIVERSITY DAYS AT COLUMBIA

Archbishop Christie Hands Graduates Their Diplomas, Medals and Cash Prizes—Many of Cleverest Young Athletes of City Included in Class—All-Around Athlete Champion "Moose" Muirhead Is Among Number.

1, James E. O'Hanlon; 2, William G. Tunick; 3, Walter J. O'Brien; 4, George L. Horahy; 5, John A. Kane; 6, Ralph R. Hertz; 7, Herman A. Cook; 8, Carl B. Larson; 9, Mervin J. Phelan; 10, Robert J. SEVENTEEN bright-faced and manly young men were graduated with honors from the preparatory department of Columbia University, of this city. A large number of visitors, including relatives and friends of the graduates and admirers of the university, were present at the closing exercises.

His Grace Archbishop Christie conferred the diplomas and presented the medals and cash prizes.

Columbia in this class loses some of the finest students and best athletes she ever has enrolled. Among those who have made their mark in the classroom and on the field are Mervin Phelan, chairman of the student body, president of the class, and a star basketball player; Carl Larson, debater and orator; Lex Peabody, cheer leader and organizer; and "Moose" Muirhead, champion all-around athlete. A number of the graduates declare their intention of returning to Columbia next year to take up college courses.

Chicago Meeting Surprising to Oregon Club Members When Stories of Terrific Weather Are Read—Great Auditorium Packed to Doors and Some Delegations Are Seated Even in the Galleries.

had the pleasure of receiving her when she spent the day in Portland with the New York delegation on its way home from San Francisco, two years ago.

The press luncheon, under the direction of Mrs. G. J. Clarke, of Indiana, was a notable affair. It became so popular and tickets were so much in demand, they had to be limited to 250—and every one was taken. It was held in the Tudor room, Mandel Bros. The civics and conversation departments gave similar luncheons with equal success, but these were not what counted in the final summing up of Chicago's hospitality. It was in the splendid way all the local committees, but especially the hospitality committee, looked after its guests.

This committee invited the chairman of all the General Federation departments to attend the convention as the guests of Illinois, and entertained them at the Congress Hotel. The chairmen of the sub-committees were also the guests of Illinois and were entertained at the homes of prominent clubwomen. The speakers and special guests were also entertained at the expense of the clubwomen of the state.

The Illinois Press Association held an open house for the women during the entire session in the Fine Arts building, and served tea from 4 to 5:30 every afternoon.

The business of the convention was strenuous from start to finish, and it did not take long to determine what the one vital issue of the convention was to be.

Suffrage took the center of the stage, even before the president's gavel called the first session to order. It was a carefully conceived, well thought out campaign, with no loose ends dangling, and carried through with consummate skill and with the fluency of the trained politician, and the end was accomplished so cleverly that the issue went skidding down the ways to victory almost before its promoters realized it had started.

Heretofore, all resolutions were referred to the resolutions committee, who exercised almost autocratic power in disposing of them; they were reported back to the convention, and not as the committee saw fit, which virtually made the resolutions committee greater than the convention. It was through the failure to send the suffrage resolution through the proper

CONVENTION DELEGATES KEEP NOSE TO GRINDSTONE ON HOTTEST DAY

Zeal of Women at Chicago Meeting Surprising to Oregon Club Members When Stories of Terrific Weather Are Read—Great Auditorium Packed to Doors and Some Delegations Are Seated Even in the Galleries.

BY MRS. SARAH A. EVANS, President Oregon State Federation of Women's Clubs.

THE aftermath of the great convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which closed last Wednesday at Chicago, reaches us, one of the most amazing things is the zeal of the women who attended packed sessions, from early morning until late at night, with the mercury sizzling in the high 90's, and with enthusiasm unabated, carry-ing out every programme to the letter. They were in reality packed sessions, for in spite of the preparations that had been made for a huge crowd, it exceeded all expectation.

The Auditorium Theater, one of the largest assembly halls in the country, was taxed to its capacity with delegates, even the galleries to the third tier were utilized for seating the delegates, much to the disgust of the states who found themselves so far removed from the platform that it required unusual effort to hear the speakers. Oregon delegates were exceedingly fortunate in this respect, as they were seated but two rows back from the platform.

Mrs. William Fear and Mrs. Joseph Pettit were the only two Portland delegates who stayed during the entire convention and attended every session. There was much for the social entertainment, but the work of the convention was taxing and the greatest credit is due those who could assist in the real work for which the convention had been planned.

Never in the history of conventions of the General Federation has there been such lavish and generous hospitality extended as was shown at Chicago. Almost every delegation had its state dinner or tea, to which many others were invited. One of the great occasions was the dinner given by Mrs. William Todd Helmuth, president of the Pioneer Workers. This dinner was by invitation and all were Mrs. Helmuth's personal guests. It was a most elaborate affair, and even the convention programme was suspended for that evening. The hostess is one of the charter members of New York Sorosis, and one of the organizers of the General Federation. She will be remembered by many Oregon clubwomen who channel that gave the technical ground for defeating it two years ago.

The first move of the suffragists was plainly, then, to get the resolution before the house and not have it killed in committee; and to do this a measure restricting the powers of the resolution committee was introduced, but only after some heated debate, for this also curtailed the manipulation of many other wires. Mrs. McMahon, of Salt Lake, auditor of the General Federation, said in advocating the measure: "There were no less than 70 resolutions presented at the last biennial at San Francisco, but only 27 of them were adopted. The committee on resolutions has generally become known among the delegates as the graveyard of buried hopes." The next move was to adopt a rule for the free, but limited, discussion of all resolutions from the floor. This, too, was carried, which cleared the deck for action, and when the resolution was presented from the floor the next day, it was received; the opposition fired only a feeble salute and lowered its flag to the victorious suffragists. This was scarcely gone through when, as though it had been planned, came the telegram announcing that the Supreme Court of Illinois had declared valid the Illinois suffrage law, which had been contested.

The following day the amendments to the constitution were voted on, and as one of Oregon's delegates said: "They were thrown through as though they were well-oiled." No doubt some of them were.

Some feeling was engendered over the matter of dividing the country into eight federation districts for the purpose of having a director from each district. This was opposed by the Western delegates, but strongly advocated by the all the Eastern women. It was a New England measure. A compromise was effected by referring the matter to the various state presidents, to be reported back to the next convention. The opinion is that this kills it.

The amendment in article three, which puts past presidents in the permanent voting body, was strongly objected to by Oregon women, and the delegation went instructed to vote against it, but it carried with few dissenting votes.

Our objection was that it is un-American in principle and dangerous in practice.

It is creating a privileged class, which some day will become burdensome and can only be eliminated after heartaches and personal bitterness. After that time, and generally by the time her duty should feel fully compensated by the satisfaction she must have in service well rendered, she should go back to the convention, and as a worker should be entitled to vote in the future deliberations of that organization.

Immediately upon receiving a telegram announcing the re-election of Mrs. Pennybacker to the presidency, the executive committee of the Oregon Federation sent out the following night letter to Mrs. Eugene Reilly, secretary.

"Oregon extends congratulations to the general federation upon the re-election of Mrs. Pennybacker to the presidency, and to Mrs. Pennybacker upon receiving the honor she has so splendidly earned. Congratulations to each member of the new board. Urge to the convention, with invitation for council meeting in Portland next year."

On the last day of the convention, the formal invitation to the convention to hold its council meeting in Portland next June was read, and was greeted with much enthusiasm. This invitation was supplemented by a cordial invitation from the hostesses, who will hold themselves in readiness to assist the clubwomen in entertaining the council if the invitation is accepted.

This will be determined by the executive board early in the fall.

The Real Spouter.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

"What is a gusher in an oil field?" asked the old fogey.

"The man who writes the prospectus," replied the grouch.

PORTLAND PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS.

Mrs. Martin Wagner was Thursday elected president of the Portland Parent-Teacher Association. Her only opponent was Mrs. C. A. Ward, who was the first to extend congratulations and expressions of loyalty. Mrs. Wagner has served as vice-president of the city organization during Mrs. F. S. Myers' term of office. The other officers elected were: Mrs. M. M. Chittenden; second, Mrs. Alva L. Stephens; third, Mrs. A. F. Fiegel; secretary, Mrs. A. E. Kinsey; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Jackson.

TWO INSTRUCTORS APPOINTED AT O. A. C.

Miss Helen Peer A. C. Chandler

Dr. Asa C. Chandler, of the University of California, has been appointed instructor in zoology at the Oregon Agricultural College. He is a Cornell University A. B. 1911; University of California, M. A. 1912, and University of California, Ph. D. 1914. His training was very thorough in vertebrate anatomy, vertebrate embryology, zoology, entomology, protozoology, parasitology and paleontology.

To provide for instruction in the domestic and vocational courses, Miss Helen Peer has been appointed instructor in the domestic arts work. Her duties will be instruction in basketry, handwork, weaving, sewing, dressmaking, designing, millinery, tailoring and house decoration. Her education and training were designed to prepare her especially to do this work.
