MACHINE TURNS TURTLE

Injured.

J. R. Welty, 496 East Twentieth street, North, compound fracture of leg, cuts on head; bruised.

M. A. Zollinger, 1235 Tillamook street, broken arm and bruises.

Mrs. M. A. Zollinger, broken rib, head cut.

Marian Zollinger, aged 9, rendered unconscious, but appears not to be seriously injured.

Mrs. J. R. Welty, bruises.

Unharm.

Clifton Zollinger, aged 12, practically unhurt.

Five persons were injured last night when an automobile tipped over a bank to the edge of the Sandy River, just beyond Troutdale. One escaped unhurt.

The party consisted of J. R. Welty, a lawyer, 496 East Twentieth street North; Mrs. Welty; M. A. Zollinger, of the legal firm of Kollock & Zollinger; Marian Zollinger, 9 years old, and Clifton Zollinger, 12 years old. The Zollingers live at 1235 Tillamook street.

Survived Seriously Hurt.

Mr. Welty sustained a compound fracture of the leg, cuts about the head and severe bruises. Mrs. Welty escaped with a few minor injuries. Mr. Zollinger sustained a broken arm and severe bruises. Mrs. Zollinger broke one rib in the fall and received a cut on the head. Marian Zollinger was carried to the hospital at Multnomah farm in an unconscious condition, but revived later, and it is believed she was not seriously hurt. Clifton Zollinger escaped practically unhurt. The injured were brought to Portland by the Ambulance Service Company, and taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

The party had been picnicking on the Sandy River. They were returning when the accident occurred. About 150 yards outside the city limits of Troutdale they met a man driving with a horse and cart. The horse appeared frightened and Mr. Welty, who was steering the auto, turned to the left and gave the man the inside track on the narrow road.

Auto Turns Over.

In the twilight he apparently thought that the grass and weeds on the bank covered a continuation of the road, for he drove directly over the bank. The automobile turned completely over as it rolled down the steep embankment, made another half revolution at the bottom and lay upside down in the weeds and brush only a few yards from the bank of the river.

Mr. Welty and Marian Zollinger were pinned beneath the car. The edge of the door lay directly across Mr. Welty's neck. The child was completely under the car, with one foot

MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP 8 AUTOS

DANCERS EN ROUTE HALTED NEAR MARSHFIELD, OR.

Highwaymen, With Rifle and Revolver, Stand Men and Women Up Along Road; Take Valuables.

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—Eight automobiles, loaded with dancers, en route to a roadhouse dance, were held up, one after another, between Marshfield and South Inlet late tonight by two to six masked robbers who stripped the occupants of the autos of all money and jewels and then escaped.

The highwaymen, armed with a rifle and a revolver, stood the victims up along the road at the point of their guns and as fast as one autowald was robbed they were told to drive on. Several women nearly fainted of fright.

At a late hour only one auto chauffeur had reached Marshfield, and he said he believed the robbers had taken one of the automobiles to make their getaway.

Charles Bowman, the first chauffeur to reach town, notified the authorities and a posse was formed. Word has been sent to the drawbridge keeper at South Inlet to keep the draw open and the robbers' escape may be cut off in that way. The entire district between here and Empire has been awakened and officers are on the lookout.

Bowman reported that he was sure there were two robbers and that he thought there were five or six operating on the automobiles behind him. He was not allowed time to look around after his car had been robbed.

BARGE IS DRIVEN ASHORE

Freighter Attempting to Aid in Rough Sea Is Badly Damaged.

DULUTH, June 27.—After swinging at her anchors with huge seas breaking over her all afternoon, the large steel barge George E. Hartnell, owned by the Northwestern Transportation Company, was driven ashore tonight.

While attempting to aid the Hartnell, the freighter Harvey H. Brown, owned by the same company, swung her stern against the bow of the Hartnell, crushed it above the water line, parting the Hartnell's anchor chains. The Brown was badly damaged but succeeded in reaching the inner harbor.

A feature of the day's exercises was the singing by a choir of 500 voices, accompanied by a band, of the anthem, "Let Us Now Praise Famous Men."

BANK WILL ERECT $1,000,000 EDIFICE

First National Will Build in 18 Months.

AVAILABLE SITES CONSIDERED

Structure Likely Will Be Located Near The Oregonian.

MERGER PLANS COMPLETE

Union With Security Savings and Trust Company, Soon to Take Place, Will Make Present Quarters Inadequate.

A typical bank building, designed exclusively for banking purposes and costing $1,000,000, will be built by the First National Bank within the next 18 months in the central business district. The site has not been definitely settled, but it will be in the neighborhood of the Oregonian building.

Several available sites are being considered, among them properties owned by the Corbett estate and the Security Savings & Trust Company, which soon is to be consolidated with the First National Bank.

Corbett Estate Owns Both Banks.

Both banks are controlled largely by the H. W. Corbett estate and members of the late Senator Corbett's family. It is reasonably certain that the new bank building will rise on property owned by the Corbett interests. A site that has been considered is that at the southwest corner of Fifth and Stark streets, occupied by the J. G. Mack furniture store. Mr. Mack has an eight-year lease and it is said that he is unwilling to surrender it previous to its expiration. The property at the northwest corner of Fourth and Alder streets, formerly occupied by the Louvre grill, also is being considered.

For a time it was reported that the First National was planning to erect a bank and office building to cover the entire block occupied by the Corbett homestead on Fifth, Yamhill, Sixth and Salmon streets. This plan has been abandoned, however.

Building Plan Decided.

That the First National will erect a new building has been definitely determined by its directors. Some of the details, even, have been tentatively arranged.

Present plans call for an imposing structure of marble and granite, probably 100 feet high, with a dome ceiling supported by the walls, leaving the interior without pillar or post.

The general style of architecture will resemble that of the new Bank of California in San Francisco.

It is not intended to accommodate other offices in the new structure with the possible exception of such that are directly related to the bank.

Consolidation Plans Complete.

Plans for consolidation of the First National and the Security Savings & Trust Company have been completed. The two institutions will merge just as soon as necessary alterations in progress in the rooms occupied by the Security Bank in the Corbett building are completed. It was intended first to effect the union about July 5, but this is physically impossible, as the alterations cannot be completed in that time.

Officers and directors of both the First National and the Security are agreed that they will not be able long to handle the business of the combined bank in the quarters in the Corbett building. The Security alone is frequently crowded during the rush period.

ARMED MEN GUARD STORES OF BUTTE

Merchants Prepare to Combat Mobs.

I. W. W. FLOCKING TO TOWN

President's Failure to Send Troops Is Disappointment.

CITY IS OUTWARDLY QUIET

Faction Loyal to Moyer Says It Is Ready to Recorganize—New Union Signs 2289 Members Out of 9000 Total in Camp.

BUTTE, Mont., June 27.—Disappointed because President Wilson has not ordered Federal troops to Montana, and desiring to save their property against attacks from mobs, merchants of Butte tonight placed armed guards in their stores. One of the larger stores had watchmen patrolling the sidewalks. The placing of the guards is nothing more than a precautionary measure.

Ever since the riots of two weeks ago, caused by factional fights in the local union of the Western Federation of Miners, Butte has labored under a tense situation. Almost 1000 members of the Industrial Workers of the World have come here since the first open break in the union, and until yesterday, when the police force was increased by 15 men who were on the eligible list, no apparent effort had been made by city authorities to stop the rioting. Mayor Duncan says that it was his opinion that more serious trouble was averted by not making arrests.

New Union Signs 2289 Mem.

The city outwardly was quiet today, as it has been since the last riot of Tuesday night, when 250 pounds of dynamite were exploded in 20 charges in the business center. The new independent union of miners, which was formed in opposition to the Western Federation of Miners' control, reported it had signed 2289 members out of the 9000 metal miners here. The first meeting of the new organization, which has taken the name of The Butte Mineworkers' Union, will be held Tuesday night.

The faction loyal to President Moyer, of the Western Federation, who still is in Helena, announced that it had obtained office rooms and would be ready by Monday to resume work of reorganizing the Butte local under the plan outlined by President Moyer on the night the miner's hall was dynamited.

First Shot Fired From Hall.

The inept into the death of Ernest J. Noy, who was killed in the rioting Tuesday night, was completed today, and, after testimony of numerous witnesses was taken, it was continued until July 6.

Testimony was to the effect that the first shot was fired from the miners' hall, and that the bullet that passed through Noy came from the hall. Edward Duncan, son of the Mayor, testified that while he was in the hall he saw that President Moyer was armed, as were almost all other men in the room. Duncan quoted Moyer as saying: "A person would be a fool to come to this meeting without being armed."

Many witnesses testified reluctantly. All who entered the coroner's office were searched for weapons. No weapons were found.

On unquestionable authority it was said that seven "gunmen" of Butte went to Anacondas last night, with the avowed intention of killing Moyer, who

LUMBER PRICE UP; ORDERS CROWD IN

SHINGLES JOIN IN ADVANCE AND DEALERS ARE HAPPY.

With Stocks of Retailers Low Manufacturers See Prospects Brighter Than for Years.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 27.—(Special.)

—With orders and inquiries piling up, lumber has advanced 50 cents a thousand within the past week and shingles are up to $1.50 for stave, with orders of $1.52, an advance of 10 cents a thousand within two weeks. Some of the rail lines are taxed for cars in which to haul the lumber and shingles that are now moving, and the business is enjoying a brisk movement that it has not known in months.

Should the movement increase with the harvesting of the crops, leading wholesalers and manufacturers declare that the railroads will be unable to furnish sufficient rolling stock to meet the requirements.

Following out the tradition in the lumber trade, when lumber advances there is an eagerness to buy. Country yards in the East for the past four years have been postponing the day for "stocking up," the hope arising within the past 90 days that the Panama Canal would give them the water route. Inquiries and orders from all over the Middle West are pouring in. Wholesalers are assured of a profitable business on the present market level.

All along the lumber line the outlook is one of optimism, backed by many orders, more inquiries and a consequent cheerfulness for the immediate future that the trade has not known since 1912.

GIRLS TOLD: DON'T SPOON

Practice Characterized as Crime Against Womanhood.

CHICAGO, June 27.—"Spooning" is a crime against womanhood," John J. Alexander, a director, today told 500 young women attending the older girls' conference of the international Sunday school convention. "Pass the word along to girls who love to 'spoon' that it is the most degrading thing they can do—one of the most degrading things they may permit."

"Make the boys clean-minded and wholesome by the way you dress. Young men take a girl at her own valuation."

Miss Margaret Glatterin, of Boston, made a similar talk at the older boys' conference. Using a flower as an emblem of womanhood and tearing it apart bit by bit, she said:

"No person on earth can make that flower whole and beautiful again. Be clean and be your sister's keeper."

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 27.—The Great Northern Steamship Company's liner Minnesota, bound for the Orient, is delayed here due to an accident in which three men, F. Morgan, M. Fullis and H. Coding, all of the engineer's department, were seriously injured late today.

When the Minnesota landed its pilot here it was discovered that the crank shaft had become heated. It was while repairs were being made that the three were caught and crushed.

CHICAGO, June 27.—An ordinance permitting the exhibition of certain motion pictures to "adults only" was recommended today by the Judiciary committee of the City Council. The measure was advocated by Second Deputy Commissioner of Police Funkhouser, who has charge of the censorship.

He said injustice was often done under the present system of censoring films so that they could be shown to children.

FARIR, June 27.—"Jack" Johnson still holds the heavyweight championship of the world.

In a hard-fought battle at the Valandrom d'Elver here tonight he easily defeated Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, on points in a 20-round contest. Moran was game and stubborn. He did most of the leading and made many friends. The great amphitheater presented a wonderful sight, for although there were some empty seats, the tiers were crowded with representatives of every element. The singular spectacle was presented of several hundred women, in handsome gowns, applauding the two pugilists as they struggled up and down the ring, fainting and dodging and hammering each other.

Baronesses and Princesses There.

Among the women were those who bore such great names in French society as Baroness Henry de Rothschild, the younger Duchess d'Uzes, Countess Mathieu de Noailles, the poet; Princess de Lucoigne, the Duchess de Rohan, Princess Moroussief and Countess de Promieres.

Johnson's white wife, formerly Lucille Cameron, occupied a prominent position, wearing as many diamonds as most of the great ladies. She cried out shrilly from time to time: "Hit him dead!" "Come along, Pop!" "Now then, Jack, let him have another!"

Gloved hands joined in the applause that rang through the building as the two gladiators struggled for the supremacy.

Fight at Times Amateurish.

Johnson's superior skill and his effective upcutting wore down his opponent and won the fight which at times seemed rather amateurish.

Terrific upcuttings, on which Johnson had relied in many of his previous battles, were again brought into play on his young adversary, who was unable effectively to block them. They were repeatedly sent to Moran's jaw when he least expected them and several times with such force that the there was a single knockdown or anything that looked like a finishing blow. At the close Moran's face was bleeding from cuts on the nose and under the left eye. Johnson showed no marks.

Towards the middle of the contest it appeared as if Moran would not last the 20 rounds, but he showed courage and kept driving. Although he landed several times on the negro, his blows lacked force and were comparatively ineffective. Now and then he tried to land hard on his adversary and in so doing swung wildly through space, Johnson being several feet away.

Moran took his punishment well and during parts of rounds the negro toyed with him when he saw that he could do so without danger.

Toward the end Johnson had the Pittsburger absolutely at his mercy. Moran apparently feared he would be
